

LOCAL NOTES.

—The Eubanks Drug Company gave a box of cigars for every touchdown, the cigars to be divided among the team.

—Your subscription to THE TAR HEEL is now due and the management is financially defunct. This is a gentle reminder to pay up.

Mr. L. F. Abernethy, who played such brilliant football during the past season, has been initiated into the Golden Fleece. At the close of the game last Thursday the colors of the order were pinned on him by Messrs. Townsend and Winborne, the other members of the order who played on the football team.

—Capt. Foy Roberson is like Carpenter in one respect: he has beaten Virginia and says he has written the last page of his history as an athlete. He will be in college next year but, however much he would like to play, he has decided to cut it out for good and no amount of persuasion can dissuade him.

—A pleasing feature of the team's trip to Norfolk was their reception at Portsmouth. Here they were met by the private yacht of Mr. Robt. Denning, which was exquisitely decorated in white and blue, and conveyed across the bay. The party consisted of Mr. Dan G. Fowle, a University alumnus, Mr. T. G. Miller, of the Carolina management, and Mr. Fowle's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Denning, of Ohio, Mrs. Lumsden and Miss Burrows.

—Much confusion resulted in Norfolk Thursday night from the unexpected failure of the number of theatre tickets allotted to the Carolina students to meet the demand. This confusion was increased by the placing of burly policemen, every one of whom could have made the All-American team with ease and by the side of whom Coach Warner (who is no mosquito) would have turned pale and withered away, at the entrance of the Monticello and the refusing to permit any one to enter. President Howard, of the Athletic Association, asks THE TAR HEEL to "sorter splanify" things. The crowd was so dense that he gave the tickets to the students just as he happened to meet them. When all were gone he tried to make arrangements for the admission of the students who had no tickets, but found that this was impossible, as only a certain number of seats were reserved.

Raleigh Times.

All of us in North Carolina are delighted that President Roosevelt did not issue a proclamation to stop all football games before the University of North Carolina succeeded in whipping so great an institution as the University of Virginia. It was a clean, straight victory, honestly and magnificently won. Our team was the best, the men were in excellent training and they played without resorting to brutality. The ease with which they covered themselves with glory yesterday proved that North Carolina is greater than her rival. The whole State is proud of its young men and proud that they know how to play a decent game and that they neither countenance nor sanction the tactics which have brought the sport into disrepute.

Abernethy hurdled the line for 2 yards, but he was thrown heavily on his face. His injury was very painful, and he was unable to resume play for several minutes. Whitaker was the next called upon and he took 3 yards through left tackle. Virginia was penalized 5 yards for another offside play, which placed the ball on her own 15-yard line. Snipes was sent through right and Abernethy also made a small gain. On the first down Whitaker plunged through left tackle for a gain of 4 yards, and Abernethy made two, placing the ball on Virginia's 1-yard line. Story was shoved over for the third touchdown, and the goal was kicked. Time, 3.35.

Score: Carolina, 17; Virginia, 0. Randolph kicked off to Roberson, who was thrown in his tracks by Barry, on the 20-yard line. Thompson made a yard and Roberson punted out to Crawford on Virginia's 55-yard line. Virginia here took a spurt and by a succession of line plunges by Waples, Johnson and Crawford, gained 16 yards. In attempting a trick play around left end Waples was thrown back for a small loss. On the next play Johnson got three yards through center, and in failing to gain on the following try at center the ball went over to Carolina on downs.

Carolina got 5 yards on an offside play. At this juncture Crawford was put out of the game for slugging, and Maddox went in as his successor. Towards the latter part of the game Carolina resorted to kicking to a considerable extent and kept the ball well out of danger line. Roberson punted to Randolph on Virginia's 28-yard line. Johnson plunged through center for 4 yards and then darted through left tackle for 7 more. Waples fumbled and Carolina got the ball.

In the next scrimmage Whitaker was hurt but was able to resume play after a few moments. Then Abernethy was sent through center for 10 yards. Whitaker was injured again and sent to the sidelines against his will, Reynolds replacing him. On third down with 6 yards to gain Roberson punted. The ball struck Barry who was running back to catch it, and a Carolina player fell on it. The ball was on Virginia's 13 yard line. Snipes made 5 yards through right tackle and Thompson took 2 in the same spot. Story went through center for 3 yards and Carolina was penalized 15 for holding. In the next play Virginia lost 5 for being offside. The ball was fumbled and Virginia got it on her 8 yard line.

Johnson, who had done most of the gaining for Virginia up to that time, did some brilliant offensive work in the remaining few minutes of the game. He circled left end for 10 yards, and followed it up with a like gain on a bluff at kicking. He tried the same trick again and added 12 yards. Virginia fumbled but the ball was regained, Johnson capturing it and making 2 yards. Johnson kicked and the ball sailed out of bounds on Carolina's 30 yard line. Roberson kicked the ball back to the center of the field. Virginia made another fumble, but succeeded in keeping the ball.

Johnson kicked to Abernethy, who was thrown by Barry on Carolina's 20 yard line. Barry was hurt but refused to give up. In the next four plays Carolina advanced 9 yards and kicked to Johnson, who fumbled and Townsend fell on the ball. Reynolds hurled himself against center for 7 yards. Barry was forced to retire. Story on two rushes made 8 yards and time was called with the ball in Carolina's possession on Virginia's 20 yard line.
