

THE NEW LIBRARY.

The Plans—Situation of Building. Other New Buildings Proposed

At last the new library is to be a reality. The plans and specifications have already been received from architect F. P. Milburn, of Columbia, S. C., and the contract will be let as soon as possible. It is hoped that work can be begun on the building this fall, in order that it may be completed and ready for occupation next spring.

According to the statement of the architect the new library will be the handsomest building on the campus. It is to cost fifty thousand dollars and is to be built of pressed brick and stone. All of the fifty thousand dollars subscribed for the maintenance of the building, as required by Mr. Carnegie, the donor of the building itself, has been in every since shortly after commencement.

The site finally decided upon for the new library is directly in front of the infirmary, and some distance back from the pathway running from the Old West building to the north gate of the campus. This location is convenient to all parts of the campus. The logical site for the library would be that now occupied by the old chemical laboratory but it is impossible to dispense with this building at present. Some time, in the near future, it is to be hoped, this old laboratory will be replaced by a new building corresponding in architecture to Alumni Hall.

The situation of the library will render necessary the removal of the infirmary. It will, very probably be moved to a less crowded quarter of the campus. Sooner or later a new infirmary will have to be provided, as the present one is totally inadequate for the needs of the University. The new building will be situated on a more secluded portion of the campus. The field in the rear of Carr building has been suggested as a suitable location.

Di and Phi.

The clash of debate rang out last Saturday night for the first time this fall in the New West and the New East.

The Phi wrestled with the new and thrilling question, Resolved: "That the government should own and control the railroads." The negative won and Mr. E. C. Herring made the best speech.

In the Di the question read: Resolved: "That the grandfather clause of the N. C. constitution should be extended to 1912." The negative was fortunate again, in this case, and Mr. Andrews bore off the palm.

A number of new men were initiated by each society, Dr. David H. Dolley and Mr. J. J. Eldridge were made honorary members of the Di. The initiation of the Freshmen will occur in both societies next Saturday night.

association and the method in which they will be taught. He urged every man present to take up one of the courses and study it earnestly. Registration cards were passed, that those who so desired might signify their intention of taking up the work, and a number of these were signed.

The Yackety Yack.

For the first time this year editor-in-chief McLean of the Yackety Yack called his board, together on Saturday afternoon. Committees were appointed, and a general outline of the work on the annual was mapped out. The board this year has a great advantage over last year's board in getting started to work so early, and it is going to make use of it. Although the Yackety Yack for last year was termed the best in the South, the board this year will make a strenuous effort to improve upon it.

The 1905-'6 annual was also a great success financially. Last Spring, for the first time in its history, the Yackety Yack was put on a paying basis. Mr. J. A. Parker, better known as "John A." one of the firm of Parker and Seagle which financed the annual last spring, retains his position as business manager and although Mr. Seagle has departed, his place will be ably filled by Mr. J. H. D'Alemberte. There is no reason why the annual should not pay better this year than it did last.

H. MacR. Jones, formerly manager of one of Carolina's best baseball teams, is now in New York city with the erecting department of the Westinghouse Electric Company.

Faculty Changes

Several changes in the faculty of the various departments are to be noted at the beginning of the year:

Dr. David H. Dolley, graduate of Johns Hopkins University and for several years a member of the faculty of Western Reserve University takes charge of the work in Pathology and Histology.

Dr. J. D. R. Hamilton, Ph.D., Columbia College has been elected Associate Professor of History.

Dr. J. E. Mills, after a year's absence spent in Berlin and at Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland, is now occupying his former position of Associate Professor of Physical Chemistry.

Dr. Greene R. Berkeley, graduate of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, as Demonstrator in Anatomy will succeed Drs. L. B. Newell and W. C. Rice.

Mr. M. H. Stacy has returned to the University as Associate Professor of Civil Engineering after a year's work in the Engineering Department of Cornell University.

Mr. Joseph J. Elridge, A. M. Harvard, has been appointed instructor in French.

Messrs. H. H. Hughes, assistant in English, S. Rae Logan, assistant in German, L. W. Parker, assistant in French, and J. B. Palmer, assistant in Latin, all members of the class of '07 have been

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE

Undergraduate Department. The One Hundred and Forty-first Session will begin September 28, 1906. The course, which covers a period of four years, of eight and one-half months each, is eminently practical, and properly graded, beginning with laboratory instruction in the fundamental subjects, and concluding with a comprehensive system of clinical instruction, terminating in the Fourth Year with the assignment of students as clinical clerks in the Hospital.

A large proportion (at least 80 per cent.) of the graduating classes secure positions as Resident Physicians in Hospitals.

Summer School for Graduates. The clinics and laboratories of this Department are open throughout the year for the benefit of those who wish to engage in graduate work. For those whose time is more limited, a comprehensive course is given, beginning this year May 14, and continuing for a period of six weeks. This course is designed to meet the needs of the practitioner.
