

PERSONALS

I. C. Wright, '05, paid a visit to the Hill last Friday and Saturday.

Dr. John R. Brooks of Reidsville preached at the Methodist church on Sunday last.

Miss Louise Venable has gone to Bell Buckle, Tenn., to visit her aunt, Mrs. W. R. Webb, Jr.

Mr. Fred Hanes, '03, who is now a student in Johns Hopkins Medical College, was on the Hill a day or so last week.

Dr. Eben Alexander, Jr., who is on the Medical Staff of Mount Sinai Hospital, New York City, is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander.

Dr. Vernon Howell attended the meeting of the National Pharmaceutical Association in Chicago last summer and read several papers which attracted much attention.

Mr. A. C. Dalton, '06, has entered the law department of Harvard College and Mr. E. S. Burwell, also of '06, has entered the medical school of the same institution.

Prof. E. K. Graham leaves today for New York City to deliver an address before the Alumni Association of New York City at its regular annual banquet tomorrow evening.

Dr. John R. Carr, '99, who graduated at the Johns Hopkins Medical College in 1903, has gone abroad to do special work in surgery. For the three years past Dr. Carr has been interne of the Johns Hopkins Hospital. On his return he will become house surgeon in the Protestant Episcopal Hospital, Baltimore.

The Odd Number Club Meets.

The Odd Number Club met in the English Room, Old East building, Tuesday evening and elected officers for the year. Mr. E. K. Graham, was chosen president, Q. S. Mills, vice-president, and H. H. Hughes, secretary and treasurer. The following men were made members of the club: T. W. Andrews, R. B. Burns, W. E. Yelverton, H. B. Gunter, O. R. Rand and C. G. Mullen.

The Odd Number Club was organized experimentally last fall with a view to encouraging creative literary work at the University. Informal meetings were held monthly during last year, at which a number of sketches, verses, and essays written by the members of the club were read and discussed. So successful was the experiment that it was decided to make the club a permanent organization. Such students, only, as evince interest in doing creative literary work during their first two years in college are considered eligible for membership.

German Club Officers.

The German Club met at 2:15 Monday afternoon and chose the following officers for 1906-7:

Hampden Hill, president.
Carroll Wiggins, vice-president.
F. C. Whitaker, secretary.
M. Orr, treasurer.

Mr. Frank Daniels was elected leader of the November German, which will take place on the evening of November the 30th.

LOCAL NOTES

—The Chicago principles have barred all members of secret societies from the football teams.

—The Seniors met yesterday afternoon and decided to have their banquet on the evening of November the 23rd.

—The Biological Journal Club held its first meeting for this year at the residence of Dr. H. V. Wilson on last Saturday evening.

—Rodney McCathern, the former Central High School Washington twirler, who pitched for North Carolina A. and M. College last year, has gone to Middleton, Conn., where he will enter Wesleyan College.

—There will be a mass meeting in the chapel this evening for the purpose of practicing songs and yells and stirring up some "college spirit" for the game tomorrow. Everybody should turn out.

—The subject at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening was "Echoes from the Asheville Convention." Messrs. Rankin, Jackson and W. D. McLean made short talks relative to the work done there.

—The work on the president's dwelling which is being erected on the western end of the lot opposite Dr. Kluttz's residence on Franklin Street is progressing rapidly. The framing of the building is entirely up.

—Posts have been set around the gridiron on the new athletic field and the fence will be completed before the Richmond College game. The students should see to it that there is no crowding on the field tomorrow. Let us treat our visitors with the utmost courtesy.

—The handbook issued by the Y. M. C. A. this year deserves especial mention. It is so neatly and handily gotten up that it no longer deserves the sobriquet of "Freshman's Bible" which it has borne so long. Most of the upper classmen swear by it as faithfully now as do the Freshmen.

—The S. A. E. fraternity will erect a new house on its lot on the southern corner of the campus in the near future. The building now occupied by the fraternity will be moved back and converted into a dormitory. Some lumber is already on the ground and work on the new hall will be commenced in a few days.

—The tailoring season has come and gone. Fortunate indeed is the man who has escaped being held up in front of "Pick's" or the Central Hotel during the past ten days and robbed of what little the bursar left him. The invasion is at last over — but then will come the Raleigh fair and we will stay broke just the same.

—Never in the history of the University has the question of securing a room been as difficult as it is now. All but four of the rooms in the college dormitories are occupied. The four vacant rooms are in the Mary Ann Smith building. Practically all of the rooms in the village are filled also. We will have to be looking around for some new dormitories soon.

Dr. Willingham's Address.

Dr. R. J. Willingham, corresponding secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention addressed the students in Gerrard Hall last Thursday evening on his favorite subject, "Foreign Missions". Dr. Willingham is one of the foremost orators of the South, and he held the entire attention of his audience for about forty minutes. Dr. Willingham spoke especially in behalf of the mission department of the Y. M. C. A.

At a recent meeting of the mission committee it was decided to introduce as one of the courses a new book by Dr. A. L. Phillips, entitled "The Call of the Homeland," which deals with home mission work among the negroes and Mormons. Japan and the Philippine Islands will be studied in another course. A number of students were enrolled in the mission department immediately after Dr. Willingham's address.

In the Societies.

In the Di Hall the query, "Resolved: That the United States Should Annex Cuba," was discussed. It was decided that Cuba should not be ours and Mr. Beam made the best speech.

Rev. LeRoy Gresham and Prof. J. De R. Hamilton were made honorary members of the Dialectic society.

The Phis debated the question, "Resolved: That Educational Qualification for Suffrage is both Just and Expedient." The negative won and Mr. Ruffin was awarded the best speech.

—The diamond on the old Athletic field has been scraped and made ready for service. Captain Thompson and Coach Simmons will work the squad regularly as long as the weather remains open enough. Captain Thompson reports more and better material for the baseball squad than we have ever had before.
