TAR HEELS DEFEAT TECHS.

GAME NOT WON UNTIL ELEVENTH INNING.

Timely Bunching of Hits Decides Contest 6 to 4 in Carolina's Favor.

Carolina's athletes proved their mettle Thursday by winning an uphill game over V. P. I. to the tune of 6 to 4. It took eleven innings to do it, and it was not until the eighth that the Varsity really woke up. To that stage of the game the score stood 4 to 0, all in favor of the Techs, V. P. I. securing a lead of three runs in the first, but in the last of the eighth Carolina took three runs and then tied the score in the ninth. In the eleventh James, Fountain, Thompson, and Story pounced upon Russell for four successive hits and broke up the game.

Morrow pitched the first six innings for Carolina, when Thompson relieved him with three men on bases and retired the side in one-two-three order. The visitors succeeded in adding only one hit after the change. Had Morrow received the backing accorded his successor, however, it would never have been necessary to stretch the game to eleven innings. Story, Rogers, Thompson, and Fountain showed up especially well in their work straight through the game.

Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
V. P. I.	3	0	0

Batteries: Carolina, Morrow, Thompson and Rogers; V. P. I., Russell and Sheppard, E. S. Umpire, Freddie Stem.

GEORGE WASHINGTON WINS.

DECISION OF COMMITTEE NOT UNANIMOUS.

The Speakers and Judges—Brief of the Debate—Tar Heels Banqueted.

In the George Washington-Carolina debate, held in the Belasco Theater, Washington, D. C., last Friday afternoon, Messrs. A. C. Hindman, of Pennsylvania, and F. D. Couden, of Massachusetts, George Washington's speakers, won by a two to one vote of the committee. The query was stated as follows: "Resolved, That the ownership and operation of interstate railways by the national government would subserve the best interests of the people of the United States," Carolina having the affirmative.

The decision was left to Gen. John C. Black, president of the civil service commission, Mr. John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, and Prof. S. N. Patten, of the University of Pennsylvania. At the conclusion of the debate each of the judges wrote his decision on a slip of paper and sealed it in an envelope. These were then opened by Commissioner of Labor, C. P. Neill, the presiding officer, and the majority decision announced by him.

Mr. R. C. Day was the first speaker. He took the theory of the affirmative, showing that the character of the railways differed in such a way from those of other elements of industry that they should properly be owned by the government. Mr. Hindman, who opened for the negative, confined himself to showing that the burden of the proof lay on the affirmative side, and to pointing out the enormous expense that would be connected with the purchasing of the railways. Mr. W. P. Stacy resuming for the affirmative, took up the practicability of the government ownership, proposing a bureaucratic system of management. Mr. Couden concluded the debate by pointing out the evils, social and political, of the proposed system, and by calling attention again to the fact that the burden of the proof lay on the affirmative. The rebuttal speeches were made in the same order as the first speeches. Messrs. Day and Stacy presented organic argument, their opponents treating the question from a purely technical basis. The work of Carolina's team was accorded much praise by the Washington press.

After the debate the Carolina speakers were given a most enjoyable banquet at The Sign of the Fox by the Tar Heel Club of George Washington University.

THE VIRGINIANS VICTORIOUS.

CAROLINA LOSES FIRST GAME BY SCORE OF 1 TO 5.

The Game Marked by Plenty of Errors—Thompson Does His Part.

The University of Virginia defeated the University of North Carolina nine at Charlottesville Monday by the score of 5 to 1. The game was a pretty one, although each team made its share of errors. Virginia made two runs in the first inning and added the remaining three in the sixth. Carolina scored her one run in the second on an error. Fulton did the pitching for Virginia, and Thompson for Carolina.

Hoff's fielding of fouls was the feature for Virginia. Thompson's three-bagger and Morrow's beautiful running catch in left were the sensations for Carolina. Virginia led in the hitting, making 5 to the Tar Heels' 3.

Fresh-Soph Debate.

The Fresh-Soph Debate was held in Gerrard Hall Friday night on the question, "Resolved, That Congress should adopt a national inheritance tax, with a progressive rate." Messrs. J. A. Austin, '10, and W. H. Jones '09, Di. and D. B. Teague, '10, and J. W. Umstead '09, Phi, were the speakers, the Phi's championing the negative and winning the debate. The speeches on both sides were strong and reflect credit on the societies. Mr. Umstead made an especially good debate. The judges were Drs. F. P. Venable, T. J. Wilson, and L. R. Wilson. Mr. W. H. M. Pittman presided over the exercises, assisted by Mr. W. L. Long as secretary.

A WHOLE GRATE OF LEMONS.

THREE NORTHERN GAMES GO TO ADVERSARIES

Carolina Plays Clean Ball, Nevertheless—Danville Leaguers Praise Tar Heels

Out of the four games on the Northern trip the Varsity has had the misfortune to lose three. The scores were: Danville League 4, Carolina 3; U. Va. 5, Carolina 1; Georgetown 6, Carolina 0. All of the games have been exhibitions of clean ball, however, and reflect credit on the team.

From the way the first inning started at Danville Saturday the prospects looked big for the squad, for in that inning four successive hits by James, Montgomery, Thompson, and Rogers, netted Carolina three earned runs. The boys held the game until the ninth, when they allowed the leaguers to add three to the one they scored in the second and lost the game.

That the Varsity showed up well beside the professionals is proved by the following clipping from the Danville Register of the 14th: "Carolina played good ball from the very beginning of the game, and showed one of the fastest aggregations that has been seen here for some time. In the field, the men were quick and alert, at the stick they worked well. The Chapel Hill lads played clean, gentlemanly ball, and impresssd all with their manliness and love of clean sport."

The result of the Virginia game is told in another column. At Washington Tuesday Carolina suffered again, going down in defeat at the hands of Georgetown University by the score of 6 to 0. The features of the game for Georgetown were the pitching of Cantwell and the hitting of Simon, who hit a home run with one man on base. The features for Carolina were pretty catches by Davis in centre and Fountain on the third corner. Carolina had men on bases in almost every inning, but the necessary hit could not be made.

The games by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Danville.....	0	1	0

Batteries: Carolina, Morrow and Rogers; Danville, Ham, Sterzer and O'Connor.

	R.	H.	E.

Georgetown.....	6	4	0

Batteries: Carolina, Morrow, Story and Rogers; Georgetown, Cantwell and Mudd.
