THE anti-hazing conference was, we fear, a failure. Though some good, no doubt, resulted, the purpose to secure a co-operative movement on the part of the classes and the fraternities was defeated. The Seniors and Juniors adopted the pledge almost unanimously, but the Sophomores, as everybody expected, refused, and the fraternities seemed to think that it was not up to them, as bodies, to take action.

We, however, believe that if the fraternities, as bodies, would come out against hazing, it would cease to exist. The fraternities are supposed, we thought, to stand for what is good and right in our college life, and unless hazing is good and right, it seems to us that they have failed to live up to this standard.

We regret it. We hoped great things from the conference.

OCTOBER 12th is one of the most significant days in the college year. On that day one hundred and fourteen years ago the University was founded, and from the small beginning then made has grown up this magnificent educational institution. The present state was not reached by any royal road of ease: it represents years of hard work and self-sacrifice on the part of men whose names will live as long as the State of North Carolina exists. And we should pay honor to their memory.

The day is one of thanksgiving and rejoicing. Celebrations are held here and at other places, and from hearts all over the United States there goes up a fervent "God bless the University!"

The celebration to be held here will be of especial interest. An address will be made by Dr. St. Clair McKelway, of Brooklyn, and brief addresses will be made by alumni from various places. Dr. ... will read his annual report, a football game will be played in the afternoon, and a reception will be held in the new library building at night.

We wish to take this opportunity of appealing to the students to stay on the Hill and attend the exercises. It is a little thing to do, and we should certainly be willing to pay some respect to the men, living and dead, who made possible the place that our University plays in the life of the State today.

THE affair at the Y. M. C. A. building Friday night was a decided success. It is a mighty good thing to once in a while throw dull care to the winds and get together for a good time—especially if the apples and bananas and music and speeches are furnished by the other fellow. And though the affair on the surface seemed to be for the mere purpose of having a good time, it meant more, it had a deeper significance. It served to bring the students closer to each other, to establish a better degree of fellowship. With "Big" Rankin all smiles, radiating among the guests, each one felt that it was good to be there. It showed the Y. M. C. A. to the new students in a new light.

THE Athletic Association has adopted the new constitution, the management of athletic affairs has been placed largely in the hands of the students, and it is now up to us to show that we can manage them in a successful manner.

Though there was not a little objection to the "dollar fee" clause, it was passed by a fair majority, and we are glad to see that quite a number of men who voted against it have bowed gracefully to the will of the majority and have given their names as prospective members. We feel that this is a crisis, and that the result will depend largely upon the number of men who join the Association. Join the Association. You will feel better for having done so, and you will never regret it.

ROOTING does the work. We believe in it—that is, we believe in the right kind. There will be a game of football here next Saturday, and we sincerely hope that the students will do their part. Let the players know that we are with them. But in order to do this, it is not necessary to indulge in insulting rooting at the expense of the men on the opposite team. They come here as our guests, and we must treat them as such.

THE Star Course entertainments promise to be exceptionally good this year. Though only one of the entire six has appeared here before, the other five come strongly recommended, and if we may judge from the success they have had elsewhere, the University population have at least half a dozen treats in store for this year. We congratulate the committee.

THE bulletin published weekly by the University is supposed to be a forecast of the week's doings. But it cannot be complete without the cooperation of the students. If you know of anything to happen, tell it to the bulletin committee, Professors Latta and Stacy.

Seniors Defeat Sophs.

In a fiercely contested game of football Tuesday afternoon the Seniors defeated the Sophomores by the score of six to five. The game was close from start to finish and was in doubt until time was called just after the Sophomore half back failed in an attempt at a drop kick. Williams by fierce line bucking made the touchdown for the Sophomores. The Sen-

A Woman's Back

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Woman is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Back-ache is really kidney ache; that is why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many North Carolina women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. Nellie Benson Reeves, of 218 North Tyron Street, organist at the Episcopal Church, Charlotte, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have benefited me more than anything else I ever tried. I obtained them at a drug store and used them for my back and kidneys, which have caused me great trouble and misery for a number of years. The use of this remedy wonderfully benefited me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
