

LOCAL NOTES.

The alumni associations at various places throughout the country held banquets Saturday night.

The Gimghouls will have a dance on November 14, and the German Club will have one on November 15.

Dr. Richard Nixon Duffy, '02, will be married on October 23 to Miss Minnette Young at Clinton, Tenn.

The students will be overjoyed to learn that a dozen step-ladders have been ordered for use at the new paper racks in the library.

Prof. E. K. Graham went to Raleigh Tuesday to attend the meeting of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Society.

A circle for the study of French pronunciation has been organized with Mr. Adolph Vermont as the leading spirit. The circle meets weekly.

Messrs. W. S. O'B. and R. M. Robinson left Saturday morning for Goldsboro to attend the funeral of their mother, whose death occurred Friday night.

Mr. L. V. Dunlap, who is in the University Medical Department at Raleigh, is here for a short while. He will try for his old place as half back on the Varsity.

Prof. H. H. Williams went to Greensboro Tuesday to hear W. J. Bryan's speech. From there he went to Raleigh, where he will stay a day or two at the fair.

Mr. J. H. Mann was elected captain of the football team Saturday night. Mr. Mann, though a light weight, uses his head at quarter, and will doubtless make a good captain.

The subject of Champ Clark's lecture Saturday night will be "Picturesque Public Men." Tickets are on sale at Eubanks' Drug Company. The lecture will begin at eight o'clock.

Mr. K. B. Nixon, '06, has been appointed private secretary to Congress E. Y. Webb. While in Washington Mr. Nixon will take advanced work in law at George Washington University leading to his doctor's degree.

All-Class Football Team.

Mr. Floyd Simmons, the coach of the class teams, has asked us to announce that the all-class football team will be chosen some time during the latter part of this month. This team, after a few days practice, will challenge any team in college, with the exception of the Varsity.

This is a pleasing departure from the custom heretofore, which made the all-class team purely an honorary aggregation, and never gave it a chance to show how strong it really was. Now, however, there will be a chance to observe the relative strength of the all-class and scrub teams.

Mass Meeting.

College spirit was strong last Friday, the eve of University Day. That night it found expression in a bonfire and in one of the most enthusiastic meetings that was ever held in Gerrard Hall. It was not on account of some signal victory just won; it was not on account of the Oak Ridge game to be played next day, for a walkover was a foregone conclusion. The spirit sprang from a deep still love for the University, the one hundred and fourteenth year of whose existence was to be celebrated next day; it sprang from an admiration for the squad of clean, dashing, young football players who were fighting hard for places on the Varsity; it sprang from a feeling of oneness of the five hundred students present who looked into each others face and saw there a contagious flash and felt somehow an interchange of spirit which became intenser as it spread. Songs under the direction of Mr. C. T. Woolen, yells under the leadership of Mr. Drury Phillips, and speeches by professors and students were the principal outlets of the spirit.

Dr. K. P. Battle, whose very presence excites the warmest feelings in the hearts of the students, was first called upon by President J. J. Parker. Dr. Battle delighted the crowd with his store of anecdotes and incidents whose pith was perseverance. He recommended to the team the pluck of Ben Booth who spent his time butting planks into pieces.

Dr. Mangum, an old Varsity half-back, gave a straight-from-the-shoulder talk on college spirit. He said that the students were inclined to show spirit only when their team was winning. College spirit he defined to be a right and spirited performance of one's duty whether in the game or on the side lines, a constant steadfastness whether winning or losing.

Professor Vermont although a new man, won a place in the students' regards by his first speech. Hailing from the University of Louisiana, he said that he knew nothing about the game of football. He went out on the athletic field the other day and saw a game which he described thus: men were lined up against each other and were staring each other in the face; a man repeated half of the addition and multiplication tables and then there was a rush and some of the men fell down; he ran out to see if they were going to get up and two men with two sticks tied together with a string told him plainly that he was in the way. Anyhow he said that whether he understood or not he would root as hard as anybody. In a touching way he then compared the love of college to the love of country.

Coach Lamson, Messrs. John Hester and Freddie Stem made good talks. "Big" Seagle, '06, a member of the team which beat Virginia 17 to 0 and at present principal of the Raleigh Graded Schools, responded in a few words to an enthusiastic welcome.

The meeting was closed with some rousing yells and everybody went away feeling better for having been there.

Economics Society.

Monday night the Economics Society met and elected Mr. T. Wingate Andrews secretary. Then followed a lively discussion of the question of tariff reduction, which is to be the subject of the debate with University of Pennsylvania, to be held in Chapel Hill, November 15. The attendance at this the first meeting this year was quite large, and gives promise of an increased interest in economic discussion and hope for an unusually successful year for the Society.

Freshmen Beat the Seniors.

In a game replete with fumbles and fluke plays, the Freshmen defeated the Seniors by the score of 23 to 5. The game which the Seniors put up was not up to their usual standard, while the Freshmen played better than they have heretofore. Their team work was especially good and they showed the result of their coaching more than any other class team. But more than anything else luck seemed to be with them. They made every touchdown but the first one on a fluke. The Seniors made one touchdown but failed to kick goal. The Freshmen made four touchdowns and kicked three goals.

During the first few minutes of play the Freshmen put up a brilliant game, making a touchdown by an end run, a quarterback run, and two forward passes. The other touchdowns made by them were on the Seniors' fumbles. When the Seniors made their touchdown it looked as if they meant business, but it was all a false alarm and their brace lasted but a few minutes.

The line-up was as follows:

Freshmen		Seniors
Joyner	l. e.	Frazier
McLean	l. t.	Muse
Rhodes	l. g.	Gunter
Waynick	c.	Wright and Eagles
Wetzer	r. g.	Matthews

A Woman's Back

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Woman is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Back-ache is really kidney ache; that is why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many North Carolina women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. Nellie Benson Reeves, of 218 North Tyrone Street, organist at the Episcopal Church, Charlotte, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have benefited me more than anything else I ever tried. I obtained them at a drug store and used them for my back and kidneys, which have caused me great trouble and misery for a number of years. The use of this remedy wonderfully benefited me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
