WHITE AND BLUE TRIUMPHANT

OUR FAST AND SNAPPY TEAM DEFEATS GEORGETOWN

The Score is Twelve to Five—Georgetown's Playing a Surprise, but it Was Not Up to That of Carolina—Our Men Show Good Training.

Carolina's fast aggregation of football players trailed the colors of Georgetown in the mud on the Georgetown field, Washington, on Saturday to the tune of 12 to 5.

Georgetown surprised every one by the good game it put up, but even then it was no match for Carolina. Only once, outside of the touchdown made by Georgetown, was the Tar Heel goal line in danger, and then the Carolina stone wall got into working order and the supporters of the Blue and Gray were held for downs on the three yard line.

In its account of the game The Washington Star says:

"The playing of the individual stars—Dunlap, Mann, Croswell and Davis—for North Carolina had much to do with their victory, but as a whole the visiting aggregation seemed to be better grounded in the principles of the game as played under the new rules, and, if anything better able to stand the grueling incident to a long contest. The visitors slightly outweighed the Georgetown team and had a considerable advantage in the first half. The home team put up its best game in the second half.

"The forward pass was tried six times by the visitors and it was pulled off successfully on three occasions. Georgetown tried it three times and made good gains twice. Thompson, who did the punting for Georgetown, placed his kicks well, but they were low, and his ends did not have time to get down the field, and consequently the opponents ran the ball back on each kick.

"In the individual work for Georgetown McNulty, Dutcher, Simon and Cullen played the best. In McNulty the Blue and Gray have a good man in the back field, as he made several good runs."

Carolina and Georgetown both scored in the first half. After a few minutes of play Carolina tried an onside kick, which went over the goal line. The ball was brought to the 25 yard line and Thompson, for Georgetown, punted to Croswell, who came back 12 yards. A forward pass was tried, but Davis fumbled it and Miller fell on the ball. Simon fumbled the ball on the next down and the visitors regained it. Davis ran around right end for 25 yards. The forward pass netted 10 more. Croswell went through tackle for 5 yards and Davis got 3 more on an end run. Dunlap then went over for the first touchdown. Mann kicked an easy goal. Score 6 to 0.

A few minutes later, after an attempted drop kick for goal by Croswell and some see-sawing up and down the field, Georgetown secured the ball and Mulhall made 11 yards on an end run. McNulty made an onside kick to Simon, who was tackled and dropped the ball. Dutcher was right on the job and picked it up and ran 15 yards for a touchdown, the ball resting near the side line. Thompson punted out, but the ball was low. Score, 6 to 5.

In the second Carolina kicked off to McNulty and he ran back 10 yards. On a forward pass, McNulty to Dutcher, Georgetown got 6 yards. Thompson punted after the next down. Three line-plunges and an end run added 25 yards for Carolina. On next down Croswell put the ball within one-half a foot of the goal line. Dunlap then went over for the second and last touchdown. Mann kicked goal. Score, 12 to 5.

For the rest of the game the see-sawing was kept up, first one and then the other team having the advantage, and the game ended with the ball in Carolina's possession.

The Pennsylvania Debate.

Carolina will debate the Philomathean Society of the University of Pennsylvania in Gerrard Hall Friday night at eight o'clock. Carolina's representatives are Messrs. T. W. Andrews and P. M. Williams, and as the Philomathean Society is one of the strongest debating organizations at Pennsylvania, a great struggle is expected.

Dr. C. Alphonso Smith addressed the Guilford County Club at its regular monthly meeting Friday night.

SCRUBS HAVE A HOLIDAY

THEY JOURNEY TO THE "LAND OF THE SKY."

Lose to Bingham 6 to 0—Win from Asheville School 12 to 4.

The scrubs came home Sunday afternoon from Asheville tired but happy. They had played two games of football, losing to Bingham School Friday to the tune of 6 to 0 and winning from Asheville School Saturday to the tune of 11 to 4.

THE BINGHAM GAME.

In the Bingham game the teams were very evenly matched and the only thing that saved Bingham was a beautiful forward pass three minutes before the end of the second half. Cooper, Bingham's quarter, passed the ball to Simmons, right half, who got away from the scrubs and ran twenty yards for a touchdown.

The holding power of the scrubs was shown to good advantage about the middle of the first half, when the Bingham boys got the ball within three yards of Carolina's goal, but were unable to advance it any further. During the first half, the ball was mostly in Bingham's territory, but changed to Carolina's field during the second.

As a whole the game was clean and swift, full of spectacular plays, punts, and forward passes, many of which failed.

The playing of Blalock, Hanes, Davenport, Morgan, Lester, and MacRae was especially good, and Pinnix proved a good punter. Cooper, Simmons, Glenn, Aldrich, J., and McGee did good work for Bingham.

ASHEVILLE SCHOOL.

Coach Simmons' Hornets stung the pride of Asheville School's record of this season of not having had their goal line crossed when they swarmed on the field—bandaged up and somewhat worse for the trip prospects looked pretty blue—but when they sought the hive after the game it looked like 11 to 4 and Asheville School da not the eleven.

The scrubs played good, hard, fast and clean football which was very essential when lined up against such worthy and tricky opposition. Their defense as is usually the case with scrub elevens was like a stone wall. Grier and Johnson were ex-

CAROLINA DEFEATS GUILFORD

WINS ONE HUNDRED PER CENT OF TENNIS MEET

Fountain and Orr Outclass Their Opponents, but the Latter Don't Give Up.

Fountain and Orr, Carolina's crack handlers of the racket, defeated Dalton and Whitaker of Guilford College here last Thursday, winning one hundred per cent of the meet. It was planned to have the doubles played on Thursday and the singles on Friday, but it took only nineteen games to settle the doubles, and the singles also were played off on Thursday.

In the doubles the Guilford men seemed for some reason not to be able to get into the game, and our boys had an easy time. Love game after love game they won apparently with little effort, and even while spectators were still arriving, this part of the tournament was over. The scores were: 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

In the first of the singles Orr was pitted against Whitaker. Here again the agony was short, for Orr won two love sets in quick succession. Whitaker, just as in the doubles, seemed not to be at his best, and in the second set won only three points. Orr on the other hand played excellent tennis and made some beautiful returns of extremely difficult balls.

Fountain by no means had such an easy time against Dalton. The Guilford man seemed to be coming into his own and succeeded, especially in the first set, in arousing some interest on the part of the spectators, but he could not win from Fountain, who, steady as ever, put up an excellent game. The scores were 6-4, 6-1, 6-4.

Though the tournament was not so interesting as it would have been had the teams been more evenly matched, it was nevertheless interesting just to watch the Carolina men play. It would be difficult to find two men who play together in doubles better than do Orr and Fountain. In singles likewise they are good. Orr is the more spectacular of the two and possibly makes more brilliant plays, but Fountain is steadier and plays a more consistent game.

ceptionally strong men, and their offense was strong enough to make any varsity eleven look twice. It was good and their interference on short end runs was well together. MacRae was the meteor of the backfield and Capt. Jim Hanes drove his team well and made his forward passes count for much especially when "Midget" Misenheimer was called to gather them in.

In every way the trip of the scrubs was pleasant and successful and they deserve much praise for their excellent showing against such strong aggregations.
