It is a difficult matter to secure each week news concerning all the happenings on the Hill. Many things happen which the editors never know until the news is stale,—and we can't help it. We are not omniscient. Besides the editor-in-chief and his assistant, there are five associate editors on the staff of The Tar Heel, and it is an easy thing to find some one of this seven on the campus at almost any time. So, if you "get wise" to any happening of general interest, go a few steps out of your way to drop a hint to some of the editors. It will be heartily appreciated.

While we are on the subject, we wish to add a word to the correspondents of the various papers. It is a duty you owe not only to your paper, but also to your University, that you send in all important news. The papers will be glad to print it. News from here is of more general interest than that from any town in the State twice its size. The University belongs to the people and they are interested in the doings of the students.

WE hope that the committee appointed to look into the matter of having the library keep open for a longer time each day will meet with success. As the hours now are, not a few of the students are seriously inconvenienced. Quite a number have dinner at one o'clock, and if they desire to spend the afternoon in the library, they must needs loaf around Doc's emporium and gaze at the wonders therein displayed, until the lonesome hour has passed. But even after they are admitted their stay therein is short, for at five o'clock "Toime's up" is called. And at night many a poor fellow is forced into a whist game because the portals of the library are closed. We hope the authorities will be gracious and grant the request.

PROFESSOR James Edward Latta, who last Friday was granted a six month's leave of absence by the executive committee of the board of trustees, has a place in the hearts of those of us who do a little newspaper work on the side. Professor Latta has for some years been the faculty manager of the Press Association, and he was never too busy to attend the meetings of the association and encourage the correspondents in every way that he could. We are sure that we voice the sentiments of every correspondent in college when we say we thoroughly appreciate his kindness and help.

THE Yackety Yack this year will be dedicated to Romy Story, and we are glad this is so. Romy Story made an impress upon our life here that will not be effaced for years to come, and it is peculiarly fitting that the Yackety Yack—a publication in which every student has or ought to have a personal interest—should be dedicated to him. A collection is being taken for the purpose of paying for the steel engraving that will appear as the frontispiece of the book, and those who have the matter in charge are having little trouble in raising the money.

THE exercises on and around Washington's birthday promise effectually to break the monotony of the winter. We sincerely hope that the plans will be successfully executed, for we are sure that just such occasions as this promises to be are what is needed to improve the social condition. The Juniors may be well assured of the cooperation of the Seniors in their laudable efforts, and the character of the men in the two classes is enough to assure the fact that the occasion will be a success.

The Virginia Debate.

The Virginia debate will be held April 3, at some place in Virginia. The query that has been submitted to the Carolina debaters is: "Resolved, that National Banks be permitted to issue notes subject to tax and government regulation on their general assets." Carolina has not yet chosen sides.

Orange County Club.

The Orange County Club met on Thursday Thursday Jan. 9 and elected officers as follows: T. Wingate Andrews, president; J. T. Johnston, vice-president; Duncan MacRae, secretary; W. S. Dickson, treasurer.

This club is second in number of members, having thirty-one. The Mecklenburg County Club leads with thirty-six.

Guilford County Club.

The Guilford County Club met in the Y. M. C. A. building Friday and elected officers as follows: E. W. S. Cobb, president. N. S. Plummer, vice-president. E. C. McLean, secretary. C. R. Wharton, treasurer.

At a meeting of the Modern Literature Club Thursday night, Dr. C. Alphonso Smith presented a most interesting paper on "A study of Dixie."

Mr. Wm. E. Lindsay has been appointed postmaster for Chapel Hill, but his appointment has not yet been confirmed by the Senate.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE

Undergraduate Department. The One Hundred and Forty-second Session will begin September 27, 1907. The course, which covers a period of four years, of eight and one-half months each, is eminently practical, and properly graded, beginning with laboratory instruction in the fundamental subjects, and concluding with a comprehensive system of clinical instruction, terminating in the Fourth Year with the assignment of students as clinical clerks in the Hospital.

A large proportion (at least 80 per cent.) of the graduating classes secure positions as Resident Physicians in Hospitals.

Summer School for Graduates. The clinics and laboratories of this Department are open throughout the year for the benefit of those who wish to engage in graduate work. For those whose time is more limited, a comprehensive course is given, beginning this year May 13, and continuing for a period of six weeks. This course is designed to meet the needs of the practitioner.

For further information, apply to the Dean of the Medical Department, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.
