

LOCAL NOTES.

Mr. J. R. Harward, ex-'10, is on the Hill.

Mr. Daniel Holt, of Graham, attended the debate.

Mr. A. Vermont spent Saturday and Sunday in Winston-Salem.

Mr. C. L. Weill, of Durham, is spending a few days on the Hill.

Mr. W. H. Britt, '08, was at his home at Newton Grove last week.

Mr. M. L. Wright, '08, visited his home near Greensboro last week.

Mr. C. F. Gold went to Raleigh Tuesday to have his ear examined by Dr. Battle.

Mr. F. B. Stem leaves today for Trenton, N. J., to play baseball in the Tri-State League.

Mr. J. W. Austin, of the Medical school, who has been ill for some time, is improving slowly.

Mr. V. C. Royster, of Raleigh, who has been visiting his son Koon, returned to Raleigh Tuesday.

For the best ice cream go to Foister's Ice Cream Parlor at Central Hotel. Served at all hours.

Messrs. J. F. Harris and R. G. Rankin were initiated into the Phi Delta Theta fraternity Friday night.

Mrs. Carrie Roberson, of Richmond, accompanied by her little son, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Archer.

Dr. Venable arrived at New York yesterday. He is expected to reach Chapel Hill tomorrow or next day.

Mr. W. Carlton Raper, ex-'08, of High Point, was married on March 18 to Miss Grace Matthey, of Danville, Va.

Mr. R. Apgar is kept busy at the infirmary these days taking care of the mumps. He has about fifteen cases on his hands.

Dr. Hubert Royster added much to the services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning by singing a beautiful bass solo.

Messrs. I. King, '08, and C. L. Williams, '11, went to Sanford last week. Mr. King has been unable to return on account of mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaton and daughter, Miss Grace, of Eaton, N.J., are here visiting Mr. H. N. Eaton. They will probably be here until Easter.

Mr. W. B. Hunter, of the medical school, had an operation performed Saturday for an internal trouble. The operation was performed by Dr. Royster, of Raleigh, assisted by Drs. Manning and Mangum. The patient is progressing nicely.

Prof. J. E. Latta, who was granted a six months' leave of absence, and who has for the past month been doing advanced work in his specialty at Providence, R. I. and Hamilton, O., was, on account of the indisposition of Prof. Gore, recalled last week. He arrived Friday night.

The Scientific Attitude.

Dr. Hubert A. Royster, Dean of the Medical School at Raleigh, lectured Saturday night before the Medical Association of the University. His subject was "The Scientific Attitude." Dr. Royster said that three things were necessary for the making of a student of medicine: Work, a good memory, and the scientific attitude. Passing over the first two, he laid stress upon the last and made an excellent address.

The Coming Games.

Carolina's doers of diamond stunts will face Lafayette again today, Randolph-Macon tomorrow, William and Mary Tuesday, and Cornell Wednesday. Past experience with these teams gives weight to the statement that not one of the games will be uninteresting. The fans are happy.

Snow and Baseball.

Snow and baseball do not mix. The game against Oak Ridge, scheduled for Saturday, failed to materialize. So did the the Med-Law. So did the Junior-Pharmacy

Seniors 17; Sophs 10.

The Seniors defeated the Sophomores Thursday afternoon by the score of 17 to 10. It seemed for a time that the Sophs would not know how it felt to have a man successfully run the gauntlet of the four bases, for they couldn't find Matthews. But in the seventh inning they found him, and for the rest of the game they batted him pretty freely. The lead against them, however, was too great. The Seniors had batted Person almost at will and scored run after run, until the seventh when Sloan went in the box. Sloan kept the hits scattered and only three runs were made by the Seniors after he began the twirling.

Rand Gets Scholarship.

It was officially announced Saturday morning that the Rhodes scholarship to Oxford has been awarded to Mr. O. R. Rand, president of the Senior class. The only other candidate for the scholarship was Mr. Stuart G. Noble, '07. Mr. Rand will leave for Oxford about the first of October.

Hits.

George has had his hair cut. The rooters got busy in the ninth.

Stewart's long one to right was a peach.

King Cole is out of the game, (mumps), but his field was not vacant. Red was there.

Some new bats have been bought and Spig. says there's going to be some dire execution committed with 'em.

That was a nery trick when Hobbs threw the ball to second with a man on third—and it don't work every time.

Tar Heel Chances.

Mr. J. W. Heisman, athletic director in football and baseball at Georgia Tech. and president of the Atlanta Southern League Baseball Club, in dealing out baseball dope in Sunday's Charlotte Observer has this to say in regard to Carolina's team:

"The Tar Heels from Chapel Hill are banking on one of the best teams in their history. With the whole of last year's excellent infield, consisting of Hamilton, Montgomery, Fountain and James, back at school they certainly can be said to have a flying start. Behind the bat Hobbs, of the famous Hobbs brothers battery of Guilford College, will officiate, and that's "nuffed" about the receiving department. In the outfield they have Cole who played three years on the University of West Virginia team, Stevens and Wadsworth, ex-class team players. The prospective slab artists include Fullenwider, a "prep" school star; Stewert, of Wofford College, and Andrews and Duls, both pitchers of experience.

"The captain is the veteran third baseman, Burt James, and the coach Otis Stockdale, who has for years successfully coached the Trinity teams, and who may be relied upon to solder the component parts most strongly together.
