

CAROLINA DEFEATS GEORGIA.

the keenest rivalry and at the same time the best of feeling and spirit. The cordial relations which always have existed between Carolina and Georgia were clearly exemplified in the debate. The defeated Georgians took their defeat like true Southerners. They won warm places in the hearts of all whom they met.

The Games Are One All.

Carolina faced the strong Dartmouth aggregation of baseball players twice, Friday and Saturday, capturing the first game by the score of 6 to 0 and losing the second by the score of 9 to 2.

FIRST GAME.

When the game began Friday, there was much doubt in the minds of many students as to whom the victory would come. But after a few moments of play it was seen that Fullenwider had the visitors completely at his mercy and that the boys were giving him almost perfect support. Not only was their fielding good, but soon they got wise to the curves of Mitchell, the Dartmouth twirler, to such an extent that before the day was done they had piled up ten hits.

Carolina started the scoring in the second by sending two men across the rubber and again in the third, with Dartmouth way up in the air, three more made the circuit. The additional run was made in the eighth.

The features of the game were Fullenwider's pitching, Cole's work in center field, Reddy's thousand per cent at the stick, and Hackney's three bagger.

SECOND GAME.

Dartmouth took her revenge in the second game and won an easy victory. With Captain Glaze in the box pitching wonderful ball and with his mates supporting him like the Carolina men had supported Fullenwider the day before, the game was Dartmouth's from the beginning. The Carolina boys were having an off day. Stewart seemed not to be up to his standard, and with the poor support that the Tar Heels gave him he was powerless to stem the tide. He was replaced by Duls in the sixth, and though the Wilmington lad was batted rather freely, he held the visitors down to one run.

The features were Glaze's pitching and Emerson's work in left field.

Wake Forest.

The team will face Wake Forest on the local diamond today, and a good game is expected. Though we won most of the games we have played with the Baptists, they have never failed to make things interesting and a good crowd is confidently expected.

Tomorrow the boys will leave for Charlotte to play Davidson on the 18th. From there they will go to Winston to play St. John's, thence to Lexington to play W. & L. thence to Charlottesville to play Virginia, and thence back to the Hill.
