

A CLOSELY CONTESTED GAME

or were offside. Toward the end of the half Denny did great work in returning punts.

From the detailed account of the game it appears that the advantage in the first half was with Davidson, for the ball was in Carolina territory almost all the time, and one time Davidson was dangerously near our goal. In the second half Carolina kept the ball in Davidson territory, but the Presbyterian goal was never in danger. Neither team could gain ground consistently, so strong was the defense of each team.

In the limelight for Davidson were Klutz, Wilkinson, and Denny, especially the first two, who are said to be among the best ends on the southern gridiron. For Carolina star playing was done by all the linemen. Captain Thomas comes in for a slice of praise, for by his great punting he saved Carolina more than once. Whenever Carolina's goal was in danger he booted the swine's pigment—that is to say the pigskin, way out of danger.

The line-up:

Davidson.		Carolina.
Klutz	l. e.	Wiggins
Moore	l. t.	Garrett
Whitley	l. g.	Rogers, Grier
Edgerton	c.	Deans
Daniels	r. g.	Howell
Dunn	r. t.	Norwood
Wilkinson	r. e.	Lester, Manning
Elliot	q. b.	Tillett
Denny	r. h.	Thomas
James	l. h.	Kelly
Clark	f. b.	Williams, Ruffin

Umpire, Paul, (Harvard); Referee, Williams, (Davidson); Head-linesman, Moore; Time-keepers, T. A. McNeill and D. V. Douglass. Time of halves 20 minutes each.

OCTOBER UNIVERSITY SERMON

with redemptive truths. There is a particle of truth in every religion. Why force Christianity upon resisting heathens? It is a power to make men devote the best in them to the best. While heathenism advises us to be good Christianity leads us to be good. Christianity is dynamic on account of its regenerative spirit. Nothing is accomplished with God by good resolutions alone.

"Christianity is dynamic on account of its glorious altruism. The son of man came, not to be ministered to, but to minister. Christianity is not an ornament to be worn as a jewel but is something that inspires the heart. It is like Loch Katrine of Scotland, although exceedingly beautiful, still more useful than ornamental. Christianity is dynamic because of the fact that, being permitted to associate with Christ we are inspired with goodness. It is impossible to live with a great man and not imbibe some of his own grandeur. Christ is the hero of the church and the world. Christianity has the qualities of goodness that beget like qualities. Therefore we should cooperate with Christianity and help it on. It is a dynamic power which is to influence the life of each of us. It is not to be treated as a word but as a power."

The Moot Court was held Tuesday night. Messrs. Dunn, Spruill, and Tolly appeared for the plaintiff; and Messrs. Stacy, Tillett and Perry represented the defendant. Judge J. C. McRae presided over the court. The defendant, Mr. G. M. Fountain, was cleared.

of the cities. Dr. Wildman will lead the first; Mr. E. E. Barnett, the second; Rev. R. W. Hogue, the third. A leader for the fourth has not been definitely selected. A canvass was held Monday night under the direction of chairman A. R. Morgan, which secured eighty members of the mission classes. Mr. B. E. Washburn organized a class of medical students in a fifth course called, "The Healing of the Nations."

Enthusiastic Mass Meeting

A mass meeting was held last Thursday night to give the team a send-off for the Davidson game. It was a mass meeting of the genuine sort. A seriousness commensurate with the occasion was prevalent. The students, at last realizing their inertia, came out in large numbers and got together from the start. Speeches were made by Dr. C. S. Mangum, Dr. Kemp P. Battle, Dr. Archibald Henderson, W. M. Gaddy, Capt. Thomas, Kelly, and Ruffin.

Dr. Mangum pulled off his gloves, rolled up his sleeves, and went after the listlessness of the student body straight from the shoulder. He said that the spirit was unworthy of the University, and characterized it as a mass meeting spirit and not a side line spirit. The students realizing that his words, though hard, were true, responded to his frankness in an outburst of applause, that seemed to say: "You are right."

Dr. Battle spoke next. To say that his speech was characteristic is to say that it was enjoyable and inspiring. He caught the heart of his audience at once by his humor and kindness of manner and voice. He reminded the members of the team that they were going to meet the Scotch Presbyterians who came of a fighting stock. He said that the University, past, present, and future was intensely interested in the outcome of that game.

Dr. Archibald Henderson followed with a speech the like of which is not often heard. He caught inspiration from his audience, turned himself loose, and stirred the audience as it has seldom been stirred before. With no flourish or intended period, but with sincerity and earnestness, Dr. Henderson sounded the clarion call to battle and to victory, which was again and again interrupted with uproarious cheers. The meeting after a few other remarks adjourned.

Basketball Association Meets.

The Basketball Association met Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The committee appointed to confer with Dr. Venable in regard to the use of the Memorial Hall floor for the game, reported that the trustees had absolutely forbidden the use of Hall for a such purpose, but that Dr. Venable gave to the Association the privilege of using two of the old tennis courts near the gymnasium. It was decided that manager Bel-den order the necessary apparatus at once. Fourteen new men joined making a total of thirty-two members. A meeting will be held next Saturday at 2:30.
