that will be acceptable is thought more of than that which would be the best for the nation. The question of the country's welfare is not asked by parties interested chiefly in quick success. Programs of shifting opinions are apt to be preferred to principles.

Principles are most needed by the country. Expediencies that are not based upon principles can not in the end win out. We have the principles still which have made us what we are, but they are poorly expressed. Our need is to put aside makeshifts and put the principles into operation under the new conditions.

While they must be applied differently we should see that we have them. Individual responsibility is the only permanent principle of political liberty. This and individual opportunity are the permanent stimulus of achievement for nations. Organizations are to be made use of on a scale undreamed of. Individual effort can not control such a vast undertaking. There must be government control, but not government management of industries. Governmental commissions must not take the place of men who have their reputations at stake.

The Government must safeguard the opportunities, and make them equal. The chance for monopoly should be minimized. Most of all a return to individual responsibility is to take place. The forfeits must not be demanded from organizations but from individuals. To this end we must apply ourselves. As soon as we thoroughly understand the situation we will be able to put the law back on its old and solid basis of individual responsibility. Organizations have no conscience, and so the individuals who control them must be reached.

The example of such men as Lee if followed will make us subordinate our wills to a principle. We should then serve a purpose of preservation, should get our principles and try to put them to work. We should put private interests by and try to serve the country. By the conscious attempt to follow such ideals we can obtain liberty, self-respect, and hope.

The Odd Number Club met at 7:30 Friday night. Just a plain good time is reported. The next meeting will be on the 14th of February.

Mr. Victor L. Stephenson, '06, paid the Hill a visit Tuesday in the interest of the Charlotte Observer, of which he is one of the city editors. While his visit meant work to him it gave pleasure to his friends in the student body and faculty. Stephenson has made good at what he has undertaken, and alumni of that kind never lack for a welcome.

The sophomore banquet is slated for the 12th of February at the University Inn. This will have the largest attendance ever given a class banquet. Dr. Alexander, Mr. Bernard, Dr. Howe, and Professor Noble have been asked to speak.

Let none of our subscribers feel hurt if they get bills for their subscriptions. We are not trying to worry anybody. We just need the money.

HOW A WOMAN IN N. C. STARTED IN BUSINESS WITH ONLY ONE DOLLAR

She is now independent and cares not how bad times are. Can be done by others

A woman in North Carolina started in business with only one dollar and now has an income of more than 200 dollars a week.

One day she saw an advertisement in a monthly story paper of "WICKE'S SWISS HERB TEA" stating that it was the BEST REMEDY ON THE MARKET for all Kidney, Liver, and Stomach Troubles and while she had been troubled with all these complaints for more than 7 years, she wrote to the Manufacturer for a 25 cent package, which she used carefully according to the directions. After one week's use she found that all her complaints had left her and she told the people, who had known her as a very sick lady, what she had used. All who saw the wonderful change in her condition, asked her to get them a package, and she sent one dollar to the manufacturer of the tea and asked him to send her as many packages as he could afford for the one dollar.

She got 8 packages which she sold at 25 cents each, which gave her a profit of one dollar on her investment, and 25 sample packages, which she distributed to other people and asked them to try this wonderful Herb Tea.

A week later she went to all these people again and asked them if they had tried the Tea and what they thought of it, and to her surprise she got an order for a package from every one of these, they all said "the Tea is wonderful." She at once sent for 100 packages and kept on distributing samples and sold them all in a week's time. Then she sent for 500 packages and now she had 59 other ladies and men working for her, selling "Wicke's Swiss Herb Tea" from house to house, and North Carolina has never been in so healthy condition as she is now; the call for a Doctor is only in rare cases or accident. A Druggist offered her the other day $10,000 dollars for her Agency, but she declined his offer.

Any one, who has a little push and energy can do as well as she and while there are a few Agencies still open, we advise all who want to build up an independent business, to write to H. FELDSTEIN, 1375 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., and send him a Money Order for one or more dollars to secure the Agency of their town. Write today and build up a business and be independent.
