BINGHAM GAME SATURDAY

INTERSTATE CONVENTION OF THE Y. M. C. A. NEXT WEEK IN CHARLOTTE.

Coach Stockdale is now getting his baseball talent in shape for the opening game. Batting practice, base-running, infield and outfield practice, scrub games and gymnastic exercises are a part of the work he has been putting the candidates through. So far the outlook is very promising.

Moore seems to have it on the other catchers. Stewart, Hedgpeth, and Mauser are showing up best in the box. Hamilton is on first base, while Duncan occupies the second. Winn seems to have the better of the contest for short. Third is still an unknown quantity. Armstrong, Rose, and Lyon are still in the fight for that position. It is also impossible to state who the outfielders will be.

The game Saturday bids fair to be an interesting performance. Bob Howard, a big southpaw, who twirled in the Virginia League two seasons ago, and in the Eastern Carolina League last summer, will be on the firing line for Bingham. It is also rumored that he is going to bring a League catcher with him. It will be remembered that he held the 'Varsity to two hits last year, and pitched one of the prettiest games seen on the local diamond. It is not known who will pitch for Carolina. Coach Stockdale will probably give all the most promising of his young artists a chance to distinguish themselves.

Y. M. C. A. Convention

Next week the Interstate Convention of the Y. M. C. A. meets in Charlotte. Several members of the local Y. M. C. A. are going over. Special rates are given to the delegates, and the hospitality of Charlotte is so well known that there is no need to speak of it.

A number of strong speakers will be there, and the strong men, morally, of the colleges of the State. As special features consideration will be given to Boy's Work, Social Games, and Clean Sports. There will be section conferences for, Cotton Mill Operators, Cotton Mill Employees, Students, Railroad Men, and Boys. Mass meetings will be held for Men, Women, and Boys. A Complimentary Banquet will be given, and a Basketball Tournament will take place. Good music will be rendered, thoughts will be interchanged. A good time should be had, and benefit derived. It is hoped that we will have a large delegation.

The Wearers of the N. C. met in the Y. M. C. A. House at 7:15 o'clock Monday night.

EDITING AS AN ART

S. S. McCLURE ENTERTAINS—PROF. WILLIAMS TALKS ON SUCCESS—TRACK NEWS

Thursday night S. S. McClure, editor and founder of McClure's Magazine, lectured on "Editing as an Art." That was his subject, in fact he gave a very frank and humorous story of his life as a journalist. This story and a discussion of the liquor question, and the question of immigration made up his lecture together with an explanation of the way McClure's investigations are made.

There wasn't a dry spot in the whole of his talk. He was humorous, serious, natural, and whimsical. In short he had something to say, and better he said it.

The best part of his story was that he gave luck its share. It is refreshing to hear a successful man say that he didn't win it all on merit, but that his success was due to accident about as much as to anything else. This is the kind of a story many of us have been wanting to hear for a long time. We heard it, and thank Mr. McClure for it.

Success

Professor H. H. Williams addressed the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night. His subject was "Success." Professor Williams defined success as, "adding to the sum-total of conditions that make for human welfare."

His treatment of the subject was to define true success, then to point out where it could best be attained. A great man, he said, is one who serves the country, or community, at its point of greatest need. For instance the great men of today are business men. Life work then, thinks Professor Williams, should be considered from two sides, the social and the individual. A man must first consider what society needs, then what he can best do. Society's need comes first, and should be given precedence, but a man to be great must have his heart in his work. His final word was, "Do what you like to do."

Track Team Busy

As yet the trainer for the track has not been found, but it is thought that his coming is now only the matter of a week or so. Our schedule will be made out by next week. At present all the meets have not been arranged. We are to have a meet with Washington and Lee, beyond this the TAR HEEL has been unable to collect any facts about the schedule. But the interstate meet is coming soon. The team will get a chance to show what they can do in Greensboro on the nineteenth of next month. Candidates are working hard and Carolina should make a good showing.

FRENCH DRAMATIC CLUB

THE YACKETY YACK'S LID IS TO BE CALF-SKIN THIS YEAR — IN THE SOCIETIES

The play which the French Dramatic Club will present, "A Doctor in spite of Himself" is to come off on the evening of the sixteenth of April. Coming as it does during the Easter Dances it should bring out a good house. And it must, it is an affair for the whole University to consider. Messrs. Parker and Vermont are going to stage it. The munificent salaries of our instructors hardly fit them for charity to the extent of making a present of the play to the University.

It means much work for them, although it is done willingly. But it would be too much to ask them to do the work and pay for it. Anything that helps so great a number of students, and gives pleasure to the rest ought to be largely a student affair. If the natural curiosity of the students fails to bring them out, it is hoped that they will stand back of a move such as this.

1909 Annual

Our annual this year is going to be a good one. More than that it is going to look good. Beginning with the cover it will put a very good appearance. This year instead of the plush, or sheepskin cover the Yackety Yack will be bound substantially in calf. The managers have decided to give up some of their profits rather than give out a poor annual. They have succeeded in making good their part. The next question will be for the student body. At last our complaints have been heard, and the annual will please the girl. If you want succeeding managers to get out good Yackety Yacks, buy this one in quantities sufficient to justify them in incurring extra expense.

In The Societies

The subject for discussion in the Phi Saturday night was: Resolved, That final examinations should be abolished. The committee decided in favor of the affirmative. Mr. G. W. Stallings made the best speech.

The query debated in the Di was: Resolved, That all nominations for public office in the state should be made direct from the primaries. At the Friday night meeting the affirmative won and Mr. A. H. Wolfe was the best debater. Mr. J. G. Tooley and M. W. H. Ferguson made splendid speeches too.

On Saturday night the affirmative again won. Mr. Jonas was the best speaker and Mr. Swicegood received creditable mention.

Mr. J. B. Palmer returned Saturday night from Washington, D. C., where he attended the inauguration.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS

GERRARD HALL IS TO BE ENLARGED—POWER HOUSE TO GET ADDITION—S. A. E. BANQUET

The executive Committee of the trustees met with the Governor in Raleigh Tuesday. The enlargement of Gerrard Hall was considered. The question of scanty funds next came up as it has to whenever an improvement is needed at the University. As usual it was found that the money was scarcely available. The need is so great, however, for the improvement that an appeal is to be made to the Alumni. Those who know that Gerrard Hall is much too small for its uses are to be given a chance to help in the cause. The estimate of the amount needed was $4000.

In addition to the improvement just mentioned the question of light and heat was discussed. The power house is at present utterly inadequate. The Dynamo balks under the library lights and the heat is almost cold in the last building on the circuit. An increase of fifty per-cent in power would not be too much. The executive committee, realizing the great need of adding to the power of the lighting plant, have decided to use the extra appropriation for building purposes to add to

Founders' Day Banquet

The annual Founders' Day banquet of the Alpha Sigma Epsilon Fraternity was celebrated last Saturday night at the S. A. E. House. Mr. Kemp D. Battle was Toast-master and Marse Jesse was caterer. The following alumni were present; Drs. A. H. Patterson, E. V. Howell, Clarence Shore, Professor E. K. Graham, Messrs. R. E. Calder, R. D. W. Connor, W. H. Pace, Francis Cox, Graham Andrews, Paul W. Schenck.

GEORGIA PRELIMINARY

The preliminary contest for the Georgia debate was held last Thursday afternoon. Those debating the question of postal savings banks to win a place on the debate were: O. C. Cox, H. P. Osborne, H. C. Barbee, S. V. Bowen, J. D. Eason, W. P. Grier, D. B. Teague, and H. K. Clouts. The speeches were well thought out and well delivered. Teague and Grier won the places as representatives of Carolina in the debate with Georgia.

The Elisha Mitchel Scientific Society held an unusually interesting meeting Tuesday night in Chemistry Hall. Professor A. H. Patterson gave a paper and Dr. Dolley two papers.
