VIRGINIA 3, CAROLINA 1

A TWELVE INNING CONTEST RESULTS IN A HARD WON VICTORY FOR VIRGINIA. BOTH TEAMS PLAY GOOD BALL.

Greensboro has seldom if ever seen such a game of ball as five thousand people witnessed in Cone Park Monday afternoon. True, the game would have been more pleasant if the score, Va. 3, N. C. 1, had been the reverse. Yet a twelve inning game with abundant good plays ought to have satisfied the baseball fans.

Everything needed for a good game was there. Evenly matched teams, ginger and snap among the players, enthusiasm among the spectators, and "white goods" in satisfying abundance. Carolina and Virginia sent their teams towin, both were determined, and played hard. The spectators waxed more and more enthusiastic with every inning. The Normal and G. F. C. furnished a feast for the eyes between innings.

Carolina took the lead with one run in the first inning. Here the score stayed till the eighth, when Virginia tied it. Then there was nothing doing until the twelfth inning. Then Virginia scored twice.

All of this sounds easy but it came hard. Walker of Virginia, was hit freely for the first few innings then seemed to strenghten. Stewart could scarcely be touched until the eighth and then could not be trifled with. In the twelfth, however, he yielded three hits and the game was done. Both pitchers pitched fine ball, Walker getting a little better support at critical times.

Catchers caught a good game. Moore, of Carolina, had more work to do, since Virginia's base-runners being more daring than ours. He pegged nicely, though, and was ably assisted by Duncan who received his throws. Carolina's infield had rather the best of it. Armstrong, Winn, Duncan, and Hamilton all playing fine ball. Virginia's second baseman played a poor game and Hoff on third made one wild heave.

In the outfield there was not so much work. Fountain made a beautiful throw catching a runner at the home plate. The same feat was performed by Stanton. On the whole Virginia seems to have the stronger outfield. Yet neither team has anything to be ashamed of. Both teams played good ball. The game in detail follows:

Virginia: Honaker fanned. Pickford singled to right and then purloined second. Doubney fouled out to Moore. Hoff flew out to left.

Carolina: Dnncan reached first on Pickford's error and was sacrificed to second by Winn. Moore hit hit a hot line drive to Walker which the little pitcher handled in fine style. Stewart drove the sphere to deep right into the crowd. On account of the ground rule he was

ANOTHER FRIEND GONE

OUR OLD FRIEND THE FRENCH PLAY WHICH HAS FURNISHED SO MUCH NEWS IS BURIED—BUT WITH HONORS.

Friday night promptly at scheduled time the French play, "Le Medicin Malgré Lui," began. The house could have held more but those whom it held could not have been more appreciative.

Mr. Vermont gave first a short summary of the three acts of the drama. He had intended to, he said, in French but refrained for fear there might be some one in the audience who might not understand. The play progressed smoothly from start to finish and if any of the players made a break it was imperceptible to at least a large part of the audience. In fact they rattled off their words with so much ease that it had not been for the excellent pantomime we would not have realized when they reached the end.

All of the men did far better than we would have expected, but Mr. Parker as Sganarelle, J. A. McKay as his wife, and R. L. Deal as Valère were especially good. Mr. Vermont did as well as any but we had expected that as a matter of course. Not only was the acting good but the costumes were equally good.

We think the University owes the French Dramatic Club a vote of thanks for giving us a play so unique and so well gotten off, though it was a virgin attempt in an untrampled field.

allowed only two bases. Duncau scored Carolina's only run; on this Hamilton fanned.

2. Cabiness popped up to Hamilton. Stanton fouled out to Moore.

Armstrong hit to right for two bases. Hackney out Walker to Dabney, Armstrong going to third on the play. Fountain popped up up to Hickford. Lambeth out second to third.

3. Pearson popped up to Winn. Walker out Moore to Hamilton. Honaker fanned again.

Duncan singled to left. Winn was safe on Picford's error and Dnncan advanced to second. Moore fanned. Stewart hit to Walker who threw to Hoff and forced Duncan. On Hoff's wild throw to first Winn advanced to third and Stewart to second. Hamilton hit to Honaker and was out at first.

4. Pickford fanned. Dabney fanned. Hoff popped up to Duncan. Armstrong singled and was sacrificed to second by Hackney. Fountain out second to first, Armstrong advanced to third on the play. Lambeth fanned.

5. Cabiness fanned. Hume hit to Hamilton. Stewart covered first and got the put out. Stanton out third to first.

SENIOR STUNT SUCCESSFUL

THE HOWLING FARCE OF THE SENIORS IS A HOWLING SUCCESS. THE CIRCUS IS A SHOW FOR A FACT.

The French play has not been the only successful departure in the line of amusement this week. The Senior Circus, the greatest, the wildest, the grandest, held forth two evenings. The Seniors set out to give the students and visitors something unique and before unheard of. They intended to give everyone a good hearty laugh and succeeded wonderfully.

There were, under one mighty expanse of stinnering canvas, a great managerie, a fine collection of human curiosities, a minstrel troupe unsurpassed, and ballet dancers of wonderful training, not to mention that feature that in itself was worth the price of admission, The Whang-Doodle Band.

The menagerie was composed of tremendous wild beasts of many kinds just captured and brought over from the wildest jungles of darkest Africa. The beasts however seem perfectly under the control of the trainers.

The collection of human curiosities contained, Baba the Brainless, The Wild Man from Borneo, specimens of babies who had and had not taken Mellin's Food, an Indian Maid of wondrous beauty and the enormous Fat Woman. All were freaks of the rankest type.

The minstrel band and ballet dancers set out to be ridiculous and amusing. They succeeded in both beyond measure. Some of the hits—especially at some of the professors—were provided with excellent points. Last but not least the Whang-Doodles furnished well their part of the entertainment. The Seniors succeeded in getting up something that was not only unusual but also amusing in the extreme. They gave us a laugh such as we seldom enjoy.

Mr. Richard Davis, of Warrenton, visited his brother, M. J. Davis, this

Mr. Bennet Perry, of Henderson, attended the Easter dances.

Mr. Sam Clark, of Tarboro, spent several days on the Hill last week,

Mr. C. D. Hogue, one of Sewanee's representatives in a recent debate with Trinity, spent Sunday and Monday on the Hill with his brother, Rev. Mr. Hogue.

Messrs. L. P. Matthews and H. E. Stacy left Monday for New Orleans' where they will debate Tulane University on Saturday night.

Mr. E. E. Barnett is sojourning in Florida.

Messrs. Teague and Grier, Carolina's debaters, returned from Atlanta, Ga., Monday night.

Mr. Wortham Wyatt, '08, of Wadesboro, on his way to the Virginia game, spent Sunday on the Hill.

Louis Hobbs, '08, was down with the Guilford team yesterday.

N. C. WINS FROM GUILFORD

HEDGPETH PITCHES AN EXCELLENT GAME LETTING THE HARD-HITTING QUAKERS DOWN WITH TWO HITS.

Carolina defeated Guilford yesterday afternoon by the score of four to one in a game characterized by rather loose playing on Guilford's part. Hedgpeth pitched an excellent game for Carolina and had almost perfect control. Ridgeway for the visitors was hard to hit but was rather wild and walked men when the results were unpleasant to him.

Carolina's infield hardly played its usual game, although Stewart on first showed up well for his first game in this position. Duncan made one unusually good stop, and played his customary game. Moore as usual caught a fine game and pegged nicely.

The game cannot be said to have been featureless. Hackney and Lyon made beautiful catches in the outfield. Stewart got a pretty three-bagger with two men on bases. Doak, Guilford's third baseman, made a sensational stop, stole third and stole home. This steal home was beautifully executed and was the only thing that saved Guilford from being shut out.

Interstate Track Meet

Monday night in Greensboro Davidson, Guilford, A. & M., Wake Forest, and Carolina met in an interstate track meet. As a starter it was all right, but track athletics do not seem to have the place they should have in the colleges of the State.

Wake Forest won the cup offered by the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce. Guilford took second place. Carolina third, A. & M. fourth, and Davidson fifth.
