CONFERENCE AT MONTREAT

CAROLINA SENT LARGEST DELEGATION LAST YEAR

Effort to get as many men as possible to go again this year

Present indications point to the largest delegation Carolina has ever had at the Southern Students Conference next month. This Conference which meets this summer at Montreat (16 miles east of Asheville) on June 17 to 26, is the largest and most representative student gathering held in the South. Annually it brings together 350 men from almost a hundred southern institutions of learning. These men spend the ten days together in conferences on college problems in listening to inspiring addresses, in recreation and in good fellowship.

The conferences are conducted by men whose lives have been devoted to solving the problems of college life. The speakers are men in touch with student life who know how to bring before students messages of practical wisdom and inspirational power. The association with picked men from all over the South is one of the choicest privileges afforded. Another exceedingly attractive feature of the Conference is its athletics.

Every afternoon is devoted entirely to recreation. Intercollegiate and inter-state contests are arranged in baseball, basketball, track and tennis, and a handsome pennant is awarded the

115 TEENTH COMMENCEMENT

SENIOR CLASS DAY COMES ON SATURDAY MAY 28TH.

Schedule of Ceremonies: Senior class day, Baccalaureate sermon, Alumni day, Commencement

The time is quickly drawing nigh when the seventy-five men of the class of 1910 will gather for the last time as a whole class. Senior examinations in some courses have already begun. Senior speakers have been chosen. The president of the graduating class has begun to prepare his farewell address to his classmates. Seniors are beginning to discuss the question of the class gift. The crowd that gathers nightly under the Davie poplar have come to realize, most of them suddenly, that time is about to be called on their four years game in which they have played on the same team; and the white hats are being worn with a regularity and a bravado which betokens a realization of the approach of the time when they will be only souvenirs.

The program for commencement week is:

Saturday, May 28:
9:30 a. m. Senior Class Day exercises in Gerrard Hall.

Address by the president of senior class, A. H. Wolfe.

Reading of class history, J. R. Nixon.

Presentation of class gift.

Reading of the last will and testament, Hoke Ramsaur.

Reading of class prophecy, John M. Reeves.

12 m. Phi Beta Kappa address, William Lyon Phelps, Ph.D., of Yale.

5:30 p. m. Closing exercises of the Senior class:

Smoking the pipe of peace.

Report of class statistician, D. R. Kramer.

Senior Singing.

Transfer of senior privileges to representatives of the junior class.

7:30 p. m. Annual joint banquet of the Dialectic and Philanthropic literary societies in Commons Hall; D. B. Teague, toastmaster.

9:30 p. m. Anniversary meetings of the literary societies in their respective halls.

Sunday, May 29:

11:00 a. m. Baccalaureate Sermon, Rev. James Y. Fair, D. D., of Richmond Va.

8:00 p. m. Sermon before the Y. M. C. A., Rev. Plato Durham, of Concord N. C.

IMPORTANT MEETING HELD

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS LAST MEETING OF THE YEAR

New officers for Association, Tar Heel, Athletic teams, and Athletic Adviser

The General Athletic Association held its most important annual meeting in Gerrard Hall Saturday afternoon. The business of the meeting was the election of officers for next year.

As soon as the meeting had been called to order, Mr. E. K. Graham, who has for the past five years been chairman of the finance committee of the association, gave in a report of his year's work. Mr. Graham reported that the financial standing of the association was better than it has been for some years. He announced that Arthur E. Brides had been secured to coach the football team and that Nat J. Cartmell had signed a contract to act as general athletic trainer and coach of the track team next year.

The association next proceeded to the election of an Athletic Adviser to succeed Prof. A. H. Patterson who had resigned. Dr. J. F. Royster was readily chosen.

The TAR HEEL board was then chosen. Mr. W. H. Jones, who has been assistant editor this past year, was unanimously elected editor. The following men were elected associate editors: L. N. Morgan, A. W. Graham, A. L. M. Wiggins, R. L. Deal, F. Hough, I. H. Hughes, and B. D. Stephenson. Cy Thompson was elected business manager and C. W. E. Pittman, assistant business manager.

The officers of the association were elected as follows: B. C. Stewart, president; L. A. Brown, vice-president; W. M. Parsley, secretary; and C. W. Gunter, treasurer. Mr. Brown resigned his position as soon as he heard he had been elected.

The managers of the various teams were chosen as follows: E. F. McCulloch, manager of baseball team with A. D. Folger and F. P. Barker, assistant managers; R. G. Stockton, manager of track team with W. P. Belk and G. C. Wood, assistants.

SERMON IN GERRARD HALL

Dr. E. R. Leyburn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Durham addressed the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon on the subject, "Choosing a Life Work." We should enter, he said, that sphere of service in which we can use most advantageously and for the highest ends the powers with which we have been endowed. Every profession has room for men of consecrated ability and unselfish ideals. Especially is this true of the Gospel ministry which is today failing to gain even enough recruits to offset the normal losses from old age and death. Every Christian student should earnestly enquire, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?"

OLDEST ALUMNUS DEAD

Mr. David L. Kenan, who was born in Duplin County, N. C., died at his home in Selma, Ala., on Tuesday. He was a graduate of the University of North Carolina in the class of 1840 and was in his 94th year. He was the oldest alumnus of the university, an uncle of Thos. S. Kenan, President of the University Alumni Association.

DI WINS THE FRESH-SOPH

LOCKHART AND SCOTT DEFEAT BURGESS AND PETTEWAY

Resolved: That American municipalities should adopt the commission form of government

Before a crowd which looked almost like a joint meeting of the freshman and sophomore classes Messrs. R. W. Scott, '13, and J. C. Lockhart, '12, of the Dialectic Society, won an unanimous decision over Messrs. W. R. Petteway, '13 and C. K. Burgess, '12, of the Philanthropic Society, upon the query, Resolved: That American municipalities should adopt the commission form of government.

The affirmative sought to show that no analogy existed between city government and state government. Ward representation does not correspond to local representation in state government, was Mr. Petteway's contention. The whole city is a local unit and should elect its governing commissioners as a unit. The city should be regarded as a business corporation and should have as its ruling body a commission which would be responsible for this corporation. The negative told of several cities in the United States which had unsuccessfully tried the commission form of government.

The negative denied that city governments should be regulated as corporations. Their functions are legislative and executive. The interests of different parts of a city are different, and each interest should have representation. Admittedly, the commission form of government had succeeded in some small cities, but the largest city which had succeeded with it could be included in two wards of Boston. The negative denied that there was anything inherent in ward representation that was responsible for the foul governmental conditions in certain American cities.
