CONFIDENCE in the team! That finish with Oak Ridge would give us supreme confidence in our team if they were all in swaddling clothes. It is quite unavoidable to state that we on side lines had given up hope. Those on the team had not—evidently. That hitting was of the kind that beat Virginia last year. Every man on the list, whether his batting record was nil or five hundred, swatted the ball with unconquerable determination and assuring cheerfulness. We would eulogize for columns, we would give the life history of each man—but the paper goes to press.

A great many colleges, in the South and elsewhere, are just now beginning campaigns to arouse college spirit, as they say. Big mass meetings at which college orators wax eloquent and bombastic about the glory of alma mater and the mighty shades of past heroes! A mighty hullabaloo raised in honor of the teams who shall win more glory for alma mater and shall themselves stalk silently among the mighty shades. It seems to us that Carolina may now utter the prayer of the Pharisee. No one ever speaks of arousing college spirit here. Nay, more, no one ever thinks of such a thing. College spirit is to be grown into a man. A noisy gathering of students will no more arouse college spirit than a bonfire will arouse apples. It takes years of college loyalty to ripen into college spirit. We are very glad that here we never think of trying to arouse it. When a man has been here long enough to become interested in college spirit he finds that he has already absorbed it from his fellow students. The spirit of the University has permeated the student body and we know it as our college spirit—a beautiful spirit, clean and fairminded to all, yet unflinching in loyalty to Carolina and adamant for right principles. Our baseball season has begun quietly. No excitement about our chances for baseball honors. We know that the men on the team are actuated by that same Carolina spirit that we feel ourselves. We are confident that what a team can do they will do. It's that same spirit that has permeated the baseball players. It doesn't need arousing. It has already been grown into them.

The Greatest Rally

to left. Buie saw a hole between first and second and sent a hot grounder to right, Rose scoring from second. Armstrong singled to left, advancing Buie to second, who stole third on the throw in. Armstrong going to second on an unsuccessful attempt to force. Hamilton hit over third for two bags, scoring Buie and Armstrong. Hackney hit a hot grounder to Carlton, who let it go through, and Hamilton came home with the winning run.

The hitting of Hackney, Rose, Buie and Moore, the fielding of Buie and Duncan, the catching of Poole with men on base, were decided features.

The game in detail:

1st. O. R. Carlton strikes out. Edwards fans. Clapp safe on Armstrong's error. Clapp steals second. By taking second Hackney prevents him from going to third. Moore out by Hamilton unassisted.

N. C. Buie flies out to center field. Armstrong hit by ball. Armstrong steals second. Hamilton flies out to Clapp. Duncan out third to first.

2nd. Mayberry fouls out to Armstrong. Holt hit by ball. Beeson goes to second on Hamilton's error. Holt goes to third. Young fans. Griffin out Buie to Hamilton.

Hackney hits safe to right field. Stewart safe on fielder's choice. Hackney caught at second. Poole struck by ball. "Red" goes to second. Rose strikes out. Johnston out Clapp to Holt.

3rd. Carlton flies out to right field. Edwards strikes out. Clapp out Duncan to Hamilton.

Buie out Carlton to Holt. Armstrong out the same way. Hamilton out Clapp to first.

4th. Moore makes clean hit over second. Mayberry sacrifices and Moore goes to second. Holt on sacrifice advances Moore to third. Beeson out Buie to Hamilton.

Duncan out pitcher to first. Hackney flies out to short. Stewart safe on infield hit. Poole fans.

5th. Young out on Duncan's brilliant pick-up. Griffin safe on Stewart's error. Carlton out on Buie's pretty catch behind second base. Edwards safe on Stewart's error. Clapp missed third strike, thrown out at first.

Rose fans. Johnston out pitcher to first. Buie strikes out.

6th. Moore hits safe to left field. Mayberry safe on pitcher's error. Holt forces Moore at third. Beeson forces Holt at second, Mayberry on third. Young up, and Stewart strikes him out.

"Army" flies out to left. "Ham" walks. Duncan sacrifices him to 2nd. Hackney singles to left, Hamilton out at the plate.

7th Griffin out pitcher to 1st. Carlton out on attempted steal. Edwards hits to right for two bases. Clapp out "Ham" to "Red".

8th Page takes right for N. C. Moore singles. Mayberry flies out to Duncan. Moore steals. Holt flies out of Buie. Beeson fans.

Buie singles to left. "Army" pops up to short and Buie is caught off 1st. Ham out 2nd to 1st.

9 Young singles, caught off 1st Griffin out short to 1st. Carlton singles. Edwards flies out to Page.

Poole fans. Rose hit by ball. Swink flies out to left. Rose gets 2nd on passed ball. Scores on Buie's single to right. "Army" singles over 3rd Buie going to 3rd. Hamilton doubles to left scoring two. Duncan walks. Hackney knocks one over 2nd and Hamilton scores.

Great Educators

"If I had my way I would set all all young people to work and send the old ones to school," said Socrates 400 B. C. In his last annual report Dr. Elliot of Harvard strongly advised young men to get into practical life as soon as possible and not expect a college degree to insure success. This advice, ancient and modern, probably means that after you have battled a bit with actual life and begun to feel your need of education you are ready to take advantage of your opportunities and learn. Why not compromise the matter with great educators by taking a summer course in salesmanship by selling "Wear-Ever" Cooking Utensils? Last summer more than 2,000 men averaged $7.42 profit a day—to say nothing of the by-products of the work.
