FOOTBALL OUTLOOK FINE

OLD SQUAD BACK PRACTICALLY ENTIRE WITH STRONG ADDITIONS

Prospects Exceedingly Good For Carolina. Coach and Team At Work

Coach Brides arrived on the Hill last Friday morning. Immediately there was activity in football circles. A small squad limbered up Friday afternoon. Saturday the first call for candidates was issued. Saturday afternoon forty-five would be gridiron heroes were on the athletic field. They were put through the usual preliminary stunts—quick starting, passing and punting. This week the Coach has been getting them down to hard work. A good old fashioned scrimmage is on deck for Monday. It will be worth seeing, for some of the big fellows are going to make things hum. The whole bunch looks good, mighty good. Looks like they mean business.

The thirteen veterans who intended to get Virginia's scalp last Thanksgiving, but who unfortunately didn't get the chance, are back and eager to put on their war paint. These are Captain Thompson, All South Atlantic guard, ex-Captain "Ichabod" Garrett, All South Atlantic tackle two seasons ago, Harry Hedgepeth, right guard, Ames Brown, center, "Fleet" Williams, Boo Winston and Manning Venable, ends; the only and original Porter, Ruffin, Tillet and Belk, backfield. Hedgepeth and Williams will be tried in the backfield.

The new material is all to the mustard and then some. Ross and Spencer, two of the best men on A. & M.'s great team of 1908, are here. Both have been mentioned for the All South Atlantic. It's a safe bet that they will come mighty near being two of the eleven to face Virginia and Honaker. "Babe" Parker, a brother of the 1907 center, Abernethy of Oak Ridge, Stevens of Florida, Schafner of Webb's School and Vanderbilt, Chambers of Woodberry-Forest and Young of V. M. I. are all likely looking fellows who will make some of the old men get down and hustle for their jobs.

Then a number of last year's scrubs are out again. Among these are Wood and Blalock, ends; E. C. McLain, half; Ritch, half, two seasons ago; Barker, half, W. Tillet quarter, Coleman, tackle; Crutchfield and Bagwell, centers, Wakely and Elder who were Varsity subs.

Coach Brides is highly pleased with the outlook. Some of the new men look particularly good to him. He is confident of turning out a winner. The new rules, he thinks, will make the game more open, but otherwise the changes will not be really as radical as expected.

Captain Thompson says prospects are better than he has ever seen them be fore. Ex-Captain Garrett says the same. Manager "Doc" Williams is fairly bubbling over with enthusiasm—but managers are always optimistic.

By way of parenthesis it might be well to mention that we at last have a regular trainer for our various teams. Everybody knows him. He is one of the greatest athletes in the world—Cart. well. 60362.

BIG ENROLLMENT

TO GRADUATE THE LARGEST CLASS IN HISTORY OF U. N. C.

President Addresses Students on the Aims of College Education

Although the requirements for entrance into the academic branches at the University have been raised twenty per cent., the freshman class is fully as large as it was last year. The class would indeed have been a record breaker but for the failures to meet the new requirements. With a registration of 740 to date, there is every indication that the University equipment will be crowded to its capacity, as was the case last year. A Senior class of 105 members outnumbers any Senior class in the history of the institution. It is believed that at least 100 men will receive their diplomas here next commencement.

President Venable formally opened the doors of the University in an address to the students in Memorial Hall Thursday of last week.

He said in part:

"You come to the University seeking an education. It is important that you should have definite aims as students. Many come blindly, not knowing what they seek, and fail for lack of clarity of purpose. Every misdirected effort is a loss of power.

Your prime object in coming here is, as it should be, perhaps, to learn what you can from books. But this is by no means all of an education. The true education, which is self mastery, will come only through contact with men. Get all that is coming to you. You must mix with your fellows, learn to associate with and control men.

"I commend to you the literary (Continued on fourth page)

TENNIS ASSOCIATION MEETS

Officers Chosen and Plans Outlined For the Year

The Tennis Association met in Gerard Hall Monday for the election of officers. Mr. Luke Lamb was unanimously elected president, and Mr. Marshall Wyatt was made secretary and treasurer, also without opposition.

Students who wish to join the Association are requested to see one of the following: Messrs. J. W. Lasley, Fields Eulace, or "Bill" Ellis. Fee, $1.50. The grounds are to be cleaned off immediately to make room for the growing number of men who are becoming interested in tennis.

Regulations governing the Association are as follows:

1. No player or set of players will be allowed the use of a court during an entire afternoon.
2. At 4 o'clock each evening the college bell will tap twice as a signal for all play to cease upon all the courts. All waiting players will then replace those in possession of the courts.
3. If no one claims a court for ten minutes after the ringing of the bell, those in possession may resume play.
4. No one is allowed to get the court in the first part of the evening and pledge it for the second part.
5. In the case of tournaments the foregoing regulations do not apply.

Y. M. C. A. GIVES WELCOME COLLEGE NIGHT CELEBRATION

ADDRESSES BY PROFESSORS WINSTON, MIMS, AND REV. MR. HOGUE

Association Secures a Large Enrollment As a Result of Opening Meeting

The Young Men's Christian Association held its opening meeting Sunday afternoon welcoming the new and old students. The exercises were opened with prayer by Mr. E. P. Hall, the popular new secretary of the Association. After a few words of welcome by the president, Mr. E. W. Turlington, addresses were delivered by Rev. R. W. Hogue, Prof. A. P. Winston, and Dr. Edwin Mims.

TRAINING FOR SUCCESS.

Mr. Hogue impressed the fact that while in college one should get the training which will be of most value in life. The strife and temptations of later life are largely shut out from the peaceful college community. Is there not danger that in this calm period of man's life, the intellectual doubt of the class room may supplant that faith which enables a man to meet successfully the struggles and temptations of life? Many college students make the mistake of striving for the superficial things. They choose popularity or college honors as the end for which they will strive. These things are good, but they cannot be bought at the expense of the better qualities. The little things are often the more important ones and the things we place first should often come last. Consecration to the daily tasks and duties is the best preparation for success and for life.

"FRESHING" MUST STOP

So Say Carolina Students Who Take This Pledge

Students of all classes at the University have come together in an agreement to exert their best efforts to abolish all forms of "freshing." This movement, which has the best men in college behind it, seems to be the result of a growing feeling of resentment against hazing. It is believed that in the face of this opposition freshmen will not again be molested. Every man of the sophomore class has pledged himself not only not to haze, but to report any such offence known to him. The following is the pledge which the students are signing:

WHEREAS, hazing is characteristic of small colleges and Preparatory Schools and is regarded as puerile and out of place in a University Community,

THEREFORE, we, the undesigned, pledge ourselves to exert every effort to suppress all forms of hazing in which force or intimidation is used. And to that end further pledge ourselves to use all reasonable means to detect and prosecute openly, all offenders.

NEW MEN INTRODUCED TO COLLEGE LIFE AND CUSTOMS

Speeches On the "Phases" Heard By Large Crowd. Reception Afterwards

College night, from a student standpoint has come to be one of the most important students gatherings of the year. To say that the meeting Thursday night was a success is putting it mildly. The night was fine, the crowd good, and the speeches were excellent. College "atmosphere" pervaded the meeting and the yells and songs were given with ringing enthusiasm.

The meeting was in charge of D. B. Bryan, vice-president of the Y. M. C. A. His opening words were words of welcome to the new men. "You are now being initiated into our college life," said the speaker, "and are now University men. The Y. M. C. A. presents to you the phases of University life, and asks you to encourage and support these phases as true University men should. The Honor System stands foremost in our student life, and will be discussed tonight by one of its staunchest supporters, Mr. W. A. Dees."

THE HONOR SYSTEM.

Mr. Dees, after referring to Dr. Venable's talk on the Honor System, spoke of its introduction at the University and of the success with which it has worked here. It is not a system of spies, proctors, and police, but a system which presumes that every student is a gentleman. The only standard is a man's honor. It is a democracy reduced to the individual. It recognizes that certain things are dishonorable, such as gambling, cheating, and disrespectful conduct, and places a ban on these things. Students can support it, first, by acting honorably, and second, by reporting all dishonorable conduct. Its success depends upon the support of the individual, and let every man in the University stand firmly behind it.

Mr. C. E. McIntosh was next introduced by the chairman, and his subject as announced was

COLLEGE ATHLETICS.

In part Mr. McIntosh said:

The University is the natural leader among North Carolina colleges. Though not a member of the S. I. A. A., we have standards in athletics that rival all colleges and surpass many. The large numbers here make it possible for the University to inaugurate reforms in college athletics. Some years ago a departure from the usual practices was made by the University, and professional athletes were debarred from the teams. It is the plan here to have sport for sport's sake. Every man in the University is encouraged to take an active part in some of the many phases of college athletics. If you are a big strong man, try football, and if you are not inclined to football, try track work. Tennis, baseball, and the gymnasium offer good opportunities for development of the physical man. The eligibility of players and fair playing come under the Honor System, all breaches of conduct in this line should be promptly
