Seniors Choose Officers

discussed. It was decided by a majority that more good could be accomplished by ignoring the question of hazing than by pledging the class to oppose it—ignoring it, as one expressed it, as beneath the notice of a college man. A motion was adopted to ask the freshmen to meet with the senior class. The object of such a joint meeting is to acquaint the new men with the customs and traditions of college life and advise them upon questions that concern their welfare.

YACKETY YACK STIPULATIONS.

The following stipulations entered into between the Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies and the Fraternities of the University of North Carolina shall, beginning with the Year 1910-11, govern the Yackety Yack until superseded by other stipulations agreed to between said Societies and Fraternities.

Art 1. The Board of Editors shall consist of three men from each society and one from each recognized academic fraternity.

Art 2. Sec. 1. There shall be one Editor-in-Chief and two Business Managers.

Sec. 2. Their selection shall be made according to the present order of rotation among the two Literary Societies and the Fraternities.

Art 3. Each member of the Board shall be a member of one of the academic classes at the time of his election, provided that the Editor-in-Chief and the two Business Managers shall at the time of their election, be members of the Junior or Senior class of the academic department.

Art 4. The Editor-in-Chief shall have been a member of the Yackety Yack Board at some time previous to being elected as Editor-in-Chief.

Art 5. There shall be an Advisory Committee consisting of two members of the faculty and the Editor-in Chief, who shall approve all contracts and all disbursements of money.

Art 6. The two faculty members of this committee shall be permanent, and shall be elected by the Yackety Yack Board. The Editor-in-Chief shall be ex-officio a member of this committee.

Art 7. The price of the Yackety Yack shall be $2.50 each.

Art 8. The Board of Editors shall have the right to pass on all material that goes into the Yackety Yack.

Art 9. The Yackety Yack Board shall have thirty three votes which shall be distributed as follows: Each of the Societies and the Fraternities shall have ten votes each, and the two Business Managers and the Editor-in-Chief one vote each.

HOLD ON!

Are you aware that The Literary Digest is about the most interesting periodical in the world to-day? It is positively always interesting! What is more intensely interesting and important than the stories of the many crises that have threatened the destinies of nations; or of the many discoveries and inventions, theories and philosophies, etc., etc., that are changing the course of human life? Are we not now living in an age of stirring events—in peace, dissension, war; in exploration, discovery, invention; in thought theory, practice—things that the minds of future generations will read of with eager intensity? Where do you stand? What do you know of this world you inhabit, of those who inhabit it with you, and of the rapid march of its daily history? Reading world-history in the making, with its many unexpected twists and turns, is as stirring as the greatest novel, and yet positively nothing is more refreshing and valuable to the intellect.

Why Not Read Something of Value as Well as Interest?

The Literary Digest is more vitaly interesting to the average, thoughtful, busy man than the ordinary magazine, because it is with things worth while that The Literary Digest is constantly dealing. Each week it acquaints you with the news of the important movements of the world, gleaned from all publications, all arts, all brains, all industries, all sciences. The editors of The Literary Digest are provided with the best periodicals of the world, each week they cull for you the best news and thought that these important publications contain. In brief, clear, entertaining form, The Literary Digest affords you each week precise ideas regarding every topic of current interest. Both sides of every question are carefully shown—absolutely without any partizan coloring—this is the editorial policy of The Literary Digest. You cannot afford to be without this valuable weekly.

THE BEST PEN FOR COLLEGE MEN

There's no pen that gives such all-round satisfaction as Conklin's Self-Filling Fountain Pen. It's the best pen for College Men. When an ordinary fountain pen runs dry in the middle of a word, it means you've got to stop right there, hunt up a rubber squirt gun, fill your pen to overflowing, clean both pen and dropper, wash your hands, and then endeavor as best you can to collect your lost train of thought. It's different with

CONKLIN'S SELF-FILLING FOUNTAIN PEN
 "THE PEN WITH THE CRESCENT-FILLER"

To fill, just dip it in any ink, press the Crescent-Filler, and the Conklin is filled and ready to write instantly. You can't over-fill it. Hence no inky fingers, no loss of time, no ruffled temper. The feed of the Conklin is perfect. No waiting for ink to come—no jerking—no slips, balks or blots.

Leading dealers handle the Conklin. If yours does not, order direct. Look for the Crescent-Filler and refuse substitutes. Prices, $3.00 and up. Send at once for handsome new catalog.
