Engagements at the Lab. class football practices and tennis, quickly forgotten on Monday when the long string of carriages on Main street announced "A Free Ride to the Sale of Lots at West End." Doubtless the promoters of that "gigantic auction" felt a pang of disappointment on arrival, at what at first might have seemed a delegation of capitalists, but proved later to be an aggregation of "dead broke" University students "just come to see the fun."

Among the visitors to the Hill Saturday to see the V. M. I. game were a number of former Varsity Stars, Messrs. Joe Graham of Durham; Jock Manning, Principal of Durham High School; John A. Parker, Insurance man of Charlotte; Albert L. Cox, Lawyer and Legislator of Raleigh; and Perry Seagle of Raleigh.

There were a large number of visiting Alumni here to witness the Saturday's game with V. M. I. Of this number were Messrs. Later he was called to Wilmington as principal of the City High School there. He is now State Superintendent for Ginn & Co., publishers of School and College text books.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas God, who has power over life and death, has in His infinite wisdom, seen fit to take from us our friend and classmate, J. C. Russell; therefore be it resolved:

First, That the class of 1913 has, by his death, lost a true and loyal member and the University, a devoted son.

Second, That we do hereby extend to the bereaved family our deepest and most heartfelt sympathy.

Third, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the distressed family; one to the Tar Heel, and one to the Stanly Enterprise for publication.
