Bretheren, let it not be said that Carolina deserted her defeated football team. Let us not be called a bunch of yellow streaked quitters. If you have any harsh thoughts, keep them to yourselves. Nil Nisi Bonum. That bunch of ours feels that Saturday affair ten times more than all the rest of us do. You can bet your bottom dollar on that.

From now on the funny business is going to be cut out. Our big fellows understand now that they are not the greatest players in the world. They are going to do their darndest to prove that Carolina has't the sorriest outfit in the South Atlantic States. You can string that up in your smokehouse.

It is up to us to back them up with all we have and some more. A strong spirit behind them and a fierce spirit within them will yet give us a great fighting machine. Our campaign is but a third over. We meet six more teams. Those gentlemen are due to sizzle. Things have been going bad, but the dawn is breaking, and what's the use of grumbling and mumbling "When there's something in the bottle for the morning?" We weren't the only thunder drowned by a pop gun Saturday. Yale gave up the ghost to West Point 9-3. Illinois whitewashed Chicago 3-0. The new rules are playing the mischief--to some.

Virginia continued her merry march down the pike by trimming St. Johns 29-0. V. P. I beat Western Maryland 13-0. Georgetown swamped Washington and Lee 52-0. What do you think of that?

The Cubs and the Athletics are playing for the worlds Championship. The little bears have a wonderful combination but our tip is the Mackmen.

The second and last game on the Hill is billed for Saturday. The water babies will tackle us. Come out and open your fly trap. Don't be a quitter.

Friday, the Juniors had little trouble in licking the Sophomores, 11-0. The third year gentlemen should have run up about 40.

The counting was done in the 2d and 3d periods. The Hazers managed to hold 1912 off in the first quarter of the melee but the twelves got busy in the middle sections. Shooting through the line and whirling around the flanks they ran up eleven points by the end of the third.

The Juniors have a good team - a fair line and a real lovely backfield. Barker, Wood, and Cook ought to be on the scrubs. 1913 has about the poorest conglomeration we've ever looked at. They didn't make a single first down. Vann, Williams, Smith, Manning are fair. The Sophs will pull down this year's booby. You can bank on that.

Lineup:

Juniors	Sophs
Pittman L. E.	Burk, Strange
Stacey L. T.	Vann
Moore L. G.	Hoover
Cowles C.	Hatcher
Atkinson R. G.	Hargret
Bellamy R. T.	Royster
Price, Graham R. E.	Mason, Blaylock
Barker Q.	Strange, Parker
Wood L. H.	Manning
Barbee F. B.	William
Cook R. H.	Smith

Time of game - four ten minute periods. Referee - Dr. Lawson. Field Judge - "Rube" Oliver. Umpire - Ernest McLean.

WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

give their services to these needy places in the country.

There are on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. building several very nicely furnished rooms. The Young Men's Christian Association extends an invitation to all or any of the various organizations of the students here to hold their meetings in these rooms. The Secretary hopes to be able to make some additions to the game rooms and to make the social features of the Association more attractive this year than heretofore.

It is also a matter of gratification to the Y. M. C. A. officers to notice that many of its members are new men.

The Self Help Committee was of greater service to new men this year than ever before. Many men who had in their ignorance of conditions here, come up to the University without securing either room or boarding place, were lodged by the Y. M. C. A. men and helped to find room and board. The self help committee also made itself of great service in securing work in college and out in town for those students who are wholly, or partially paying their own expenses through college. This committee stands ready throughout the year to render any service it can in getting work for men. The Information Bureau too, was found to be of great help to the new men. At the University station they were met by Y. M. C. A. men and introduced to the University life. A vast number of new men and many old students found it necessary to consult the Information Bureau when they had become entangled in their efforts to get registered. Besides helping new men the Y. M. C. A. is doing even now an incalculable service to the students in general. Probably the direction in which it does most good is the Bible Study Group. There are three regular courses: "Studies in the Life of Christ," "Life of St. Paul" and "Old Testament Characters." These courses are prepared especially for college men, and are led by men who have been trained and coached for the purpose. Being arranged in groups any man who has not joined a Bible group may do so and get in with congenial companions.

THE MAGAZINE FOR OCTOBER

care of himself developed in the American student by the system of student government is in marked contrast to the Oxford student's lack of ability to cope with affairs, the result of the English system of Spies and Proctors. In matters of study, however the Oxford student is placed on his own responsibility, and, for developing intellectual self-reliance, the superiority of this system over the American plan of instruction is pointed out.

"The White Arrow Point" by W. P. Belk, is a story of Indian life and it is well conceived and well executed. The Indian maiden Wenonah is torn between the duty to her father and her tribe and her love for the young Cherokee chief, Fraw. The baseness of her other lover, Chiacto, finally impels her to forsake her tribe with direful results.

The portrayal of Indian life and the delineation of character is exceedingly well done for a young writer.

The verse contributions are good. There are two characteristic poems, "Life's Victories" and "Fame" by Samuel H. Lyle Jr., a sonnet on "University Day" by Banks Holt Mebane, and a poem by W. P. Patterson.

Raleigh will have a great influx of Carolina boys this week owing to the fair and Home Coming Jubilee now in progress.
