Dr. Mack Smith, of Laurinburg, an old Carolina man, was a visitor to the Hill on Thursday.

Mr. Hampden Hill acted as best man at the Proctor-Kernodle wedding in Graham on Wednesday.

George Freeman, '13, was initiated into the Kappa Sigma Fraternity on Wednesday night.

H. M. Stubbs, '11, returned to the Hill on Thursday, after a few days' absence.

There arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Henry, on East Rosemary, on Tuesday last, Master Matthew George Henry.

President Venable was absent from the Hill a few days this week, being in attendance at the North Carolina Synod in session at Rocky Mount.

Miss Sallie H. Myers, who has been visiting Miss Annie Bright for the last ten days, left for her home in Washington, N. C., on Friday morning.

The Historical Society will have its first meeting of the season on Monday night next in the Alumni Building. Much of the year will be covered with special work on North Carolina History.

There was a meeting of the Yackety Yack Board on Thursday night. These meetings now take place each week in order to keep in touch with new material constantly coming in for consideration.

The picture man has begun early this year. The absence of snow, the inopportune hour of 1:30, and the non-hazing spirit, existing among the upper classes—all combined in making the freshman class picture a complete success.

On account of trouble with his eyes, together with a "run down" condition of health, D. S. Richardson, '13, has been compelled to leave college for a while. He left for his home at Beaufort on Thursday, where he is to engage in the fish business till February, when he hopes to return to college.

The Brotherhood of Saint Andrew met at the Episcopal rectory on Wednesday night. Among the important business, there was an election of officers for the coming year. The following are the officers: Director, Fred Drane; Vice-Director, L. B. Whittaker; Treasurer, Jack Hobgood; Secretary, E. M. Harden.

Today is the last day for the registration for those wishing to vote in the November elections. There are only a very few students eligible to vote in Chapel Hill. Some are to go many miles in order to help their home towns and districts carry things as they think they ought to be carried. From all accounts, so far as the political situation in Orange county is concerned both sides feel confident.

All the men who desire to enter the class on the "Negro Life in the South," will meet at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The course is not confined to seniors and juniors only, but is open to sophomores and freshmen as well—open to every man in the University. The class will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Hogue. Mr. Hogue has made a special study of the negro during the past few years, and should be able to make the course interesting and profitable.

This year's football eleven at the Naval Academy is an aggregation of captains. At the end of last season Henry Clay, a halfback, was elected captain, but having some trouble with the authorities on the cruise, he was invited to resign, or give up football for the year. His successor is T. S. King, a Californian, who plays tackle. At the other tackle is Loftin, who is captain and stroke oar of the eight oared crew. He is also captain of the wrestling team and heavy weight champion of the academy. Erwin, quarterback, is captain and second baseman of the nine. Carey, captain and crack sprinter of the track team, is a leading candidate for halfback; and Scott the leader of the fencing team, is trying for the same position.

A descendant of Chaucer, having found himself in the environs of a Southern college, gives voice to his poetic soul in these rapturous lines, taken from The Reveille:

Prithee, faire maiden, turn not away thy face.

Incline thy dayntie eare unto my crye.

Have pitie on a poore wretched youthe And smyle upon me, deare, els mote I dye.

A slave am I, and kept in durance vile.

A queen thou arte, so dayntie and so trimme,

I fain would bowe before thee in ye dust

And presse my lippes unto thy garment's hemme.

I am not worthie to behold thy face; But e'en a dogge may gaze uponne a star.

¶ I onlie pelade to sitte upon ye fence.

When thou goest past, and worshippe from afar.

WHAT?

What about a Chapel Hill merchant who does 95 per cent. of his business with the students of the University, and yet boycotts every student publication?

FATIMA

TURKISH BLEND CIGARETTES

CHEMISTRY

Two atoms of Hydrogen, combined with one of Oxygen, make water—just that proportion—no other.

So in Fatima Cigarettes, the same exactness in blending fine tobaccos has been made a definite science, in order that their good qualities may never, never vary.

A strong affinity exists between Fatimas and College men. No fancy box but an extra 10 cigarettes, making 20 for 15 cents.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO.

With each package of Fatima you get a popular actress' photograph—also a pennant coupon, 25 of which secure a handsome felt college pennant (12x32)—selection of 100.
