The course of lectures on Foreign Missions will close Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with an address by Mr. Mark Levy on "The Missionary Spirit in the Scriptures." Mr. Levy was born in London but spent a large part of his early life in Australia where he gave up his Hebrew faith and became a Christian. Being rejected by his own people he came to America where he has lived since 1887. Mr. Levy is an interesting speaker and should draw a large crowd to hear him Sunday.

Last Star Course of the year: Wilburn Starr Quartette Company—Thursday night April 6th. Mr. Starr the leader of this organization is considered to be one of the best baritones outside of grand opera. The other members of the quartet are said to be better singers than are usually found on a Lyceum circuit.

They sang in such excellent harmony—the audience was delighted as evinced by repeated recalls.—Indianapolis News.

Wilbur Starr sang well—acted well and was altogether pleasing—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mr. Starr's voice is fine and his interpretations inspiring—Philadelphia Ledger.

If it's something to wear, get it at T. A. Waker and Co's when you go to the game.
