valuable additions and improvements to the church work here. The many friends of Mr. Hogue and his charming wife and family, will be much interested in his final decision, as his field of work here is one in which all of North Carolina is vitally interested and his leaving Chapel Hill would cause a great regret from all directions. For a young man who has been in the ministry only eleven years, this call to one of the largest Episcopal churches in the South is a decided compliment.

is backing Atkinson well while Blacklock and Strong are understudying Parsley better than last year's second string men. The jumps are still weak, but Graham is working hard on the high and Belk, Cook, Morgan and West are contesting for honors on the broad, so there may be some development here. Atkinson and Abernethy are putting the shot fairly well.

The Coach is satisfied with the outlook. "Those fellows of mine have the nerve," says he. "That's half the bloody game. We'll make a good showing."

Mr. Riess comes to V. P. I highly recommended in every respect, and after having the great misfortune of losing the best coach in the South to a rival institution, we deem ourselves quite fortunate in securing Mr. Riess to fill the vacancy.
