

Sportograms

That Fayetteville melee was too bloomin' close to be pleasant. Somehow the Water Babies seem to put up their best diamond work against us. Remember last spring how they surprised us with a 14 inning wallop at Raleigh, and three weeks ago they held us to two tallies here on the Hill.

We ought to mop up the ground with them. Even Catawba did that. Well, what's the use? Post mortems don't get you a thing in the world

The boys had a grand time in the Eastern Carolina city. 1200 people went out and saw the mix-up. Pretty good support isn't it?—especially when you remember Durham's '400 at the Davidson game. But to proceed. The Fayetteville people carted the boys around in automobiles. A hundred or so fair damsels made much of them—from Coach (Dr.) Royster down. The festivities wound up with banquet Monday night.

Our bunch will remember the expedition as one of the stellar events of the season.

But, brothers in arms, the end of the schedule is approaching. Three more games and the most satisfying season we've been blessed with in six years will be of the past. We've given old Virginia two complete coats of white-wash. That alone would have made a most hilarious spring time. And by the way chase back into your memory and see when the old Dominion gentlemen have blanked us in a baseball game. You'll be surprised. We've turned the trick three times in the last two years—"Red" Stewart once and Raymond Lee twice.

But as we were going on to say, there are but three more games and these will all be pulled off on the Hill. V. P. I. comes Thursday, and Washington and Lee, Friday and Saturday. Blacksburg will give us a nice tussle. They've taken Guilford's scalp twice this spring and a few days ago they ran over Wake Forest, 11-3. W. and L. has Harry Moran and a pretty fair bunch of ball tossers back of him. Moran is a great hurler. There's no getting around that. However we don't see how he can beat our outfit. He may do it, but we are from Sedalia, Missouri, at the present writing.

Whatever the results these final affairs should be corkers. If our fellows maintain their gait of the last fortnight, our friends from across the northern border will be given opportunities to exert themselves.

The hen stood on the river's brink,
And gave her college cry.
Until a frog in pained surprise
Politely asked her why.
She said, "Kind sir, you see that duck
Out there upon the water?
Well, that's a winning college crew.
And I'm its Alma Mater."

Better Than Ever.

Morehead City, April 28th:—With the arrival of ideal spring weather, the famous old Atlantic Hotel presents an animated scene these days, under the direction of Mr. T. Alex Baxter, the new manager. The skill and activity of 200 workmen is engaged in making the most extensive repairs and improvements on the building and grounds since the historic spot became a pleasure and health-giving resort years ago. Its fame as a place of pleasure has spread far and wide in that time, and the news that the State's "Summer Capital" will be made still more attractive and comfortable will be of interest to numbers of people in and out of the State who make their summer homes at Morehead City.

On the second floor a number of rooms have been thrown into one, making a spacious convention hall for the entertainment and comfort of the numerous associations and societies which hold their annual conventions at the Hotel.

In and out the house is being repainted, additional both rooms added, and new furniture installed in 100 of the guests rooms. Bowling alleys, pool tables and other amusements, are being installed. Tennis courts are being made on the west end of the lawn.

A pleasing sight will greet the visitor on arrival at the Hotel on June 15th—the opening day. Manager Baxter is giving much attention to improving the lawn and the immediate surroundings of the Hotel. Flowers of various kinds and many evergreens have been planted and are in evidence everywhere.

Mr. Baxter says the season looks unusually bright, and although it is yet early, reservations for rooms are now being made.

It is said that the Norfolk Southern Railroad has promised the Management to make the cheapest tourist rates to the Hotel this year that have ever been provided. With the improvements and the hearty cooperation of the railroads an unusually successful season is confidently looked for.
