Sloan	2	1	0	.060
Bailey	1	0	0	.000
Team	591	63	129	.218

The teams fielding average is .931. Here are the extra base-hits, sacrifices and stolen bases credited to each player:

Lee	8	8	0	12	48	3	1.4
Duls	8	4	4	9	59	6

Besides, Pember won one and lost one while Sloan lost two.

Pilfered bases and sacrifice hits played a very small part in the team's work. Timely hitting, fine boxwork and superb fielding were the things that did the work for us.

Well, brethren, the long year closes. Starting with a miserable football season, the honor of old Carolina has been redeemed this spring.

We've had a creditable basketball team, an excellent track bunch and a great baseball machine. We're satisfied.

Next year the varsity teams should make even better reps--particularly the gridiron representatives. Goodness knows they won't have to exert themselves to outshine our pigskin heroes of last fall.

There'll be a combination of coaches on the Hill the coming year that'll put us ahead of everything below the Mason and Dixon as far as coaching is concerned. With some dependable material--not necessarily fallen stars--Carolina will make things hum.

This is our last "Sportogram." Here's hoping that in the coming year, Carolina wallops old Virginia every time they come together. Au Revoir.
