WASHINGTON AND LEE GOES DOWN IN DEFEAT BEFORE CAROLINA

The Varsity Line Holds Virginians on One-Yard Line When Lexington Players Make Desperate Effort in Last Quarter

WASHINGTON AND LEE.

This is the way the two teams lined up at the beginning of the game.

Officials: Gass, of Lehigh, Referee; Nelle, of West Point, Umpire; Hodgson, of V. P. I., Field Judge; Davis, of W. and L., Head Lineman.

Time of quarter, 13 minutes.

Lafayette Field has never staged a more bitterly fought contest than that of Saturday afternoon, when the University of North Carolina and Washington and Lee met in their annual game. It was Tar Heel Day and Coach Bocock's charges completely outplayed their heavier opponents in three of the four periods and carved out a clean victory with the score 4 to 0.

Contesting every inch of the way, neither team crossed the opposing goal line and the North State victory came as the result of two safeties. The first was made in the opening quarter when Tillett of Carolina, punted to the Washington and Lee goal line. Raferty caught the ball and attempted to run it out, but was thrown hard over the line by Applewhite. The second safety was scored in the second quarter, when Francis tried to punt out from behind the goal. L. Abernathy blocked the kick and four Carolina men fell on Referty, who recovered the ball behind the goal.

The teams were in the pink of condition and the game was delayed but little on account of time taken out for injuries. The tackling on both sides was fierce and sure, but the soft condition of the field prevented extremely hard falls, which usually result from clean tackles.

TILLETT, TAR HEEL QUARTER, CLEVER GENERAL.

The teams were about evenly matched in the line and in the backfield, with the exception of the quarterback position. Tillett of Carolina, was undoubtedly better than Raferty and Slater of Washington and Lee. This youngster played most of the game and he used his head throughout. Besides that, he more than held his own in the punting.

Both lines were a mixture of good and bad. On the defense the Washington and Lee line was magnificent, but they lacked aggressiveness. They failed to hold several times when one of their men was trying to get off a punt, and they failed to open up the proper holes when the backs were hitting the line ten yards before it was captured by Malcolm.

Malcolm gained four yards on a skin-tackle play over the right side of the line and on the next play made first down on a fake kick formation. A delayed pass, Beubring carrying the ball, netted three yards and Raferty failed to gain against the Carolina line. Waddill attempted an end run, but was thrown hard by Abernathy. The ball went over on downs.

Winston tried a short end run, but was stopped by Miles before he had reached the line. Tillett was stopped by Burke without a gain and on the next play the ball was fumbled and recovered by Washington and Lee.

Beubring attempted to split the Carolina right tackle, but was hit hard by Abernathy before he had a good hold on the ball and he fumbled. Waddill recovered the ball and Carolina held for downs.

Tillett punted to Raferty, who caught the ball on the goal line. Applewhite was upon him in a moment and threw him behind the line for a safety. The North Carolina rooters went wild.

The ball was brought out and Waddill kicked forty yards to Winston, who returned it ten yards. Winston clipped two yards off left end and Tillett was thrown for a loss by Moomaw when he attempted to run on a fake forward pass. Washington and Lee held for downs.

Raferty took the ball on a quarterback run around left end for twenty-five yards when tackled by Winston. Francis punted forty yards to Tillett, who was downed in his tracks by Brown.

Manning gained ten yards through right tackle and Tillett, the wind with him, punted fifty yards. Washington and Lee made several small gains and Carolina held for downs. Tillett executed a pretty forward pass to Winston, which netted eleven yards, and the whistle blew for the end of the period. It was decidedly Carolina's quarter.

Carolina opened the second period by sending Manning through right tackle for eight yards. Tillett got off a short kick and on the first play Miles was thrown for a loss by Small in an attempt against the line. Beubring made two yards over right tackle, and Miles clipped off eight yards on an off tackle play. Moomaw

SOPHS DEFEAT FRESHMEN SONG AND YELL PRACTICE

Second Year Men Fail to Cross Freshmen's Goal Line, but Score When Worth Kicks Two Field Goal

The members of the Mask and Brush had things their way Friday and won from their younger brethren 6 to 0, making two successful drop kicks. Worth pulled off both the kicks; one in the second quarter after a fair catch by Hanes, the other in the third quarter during play.

After the first five minutes of play it was evident that the sophomores were on the road to victory. They played a good game. The freshmen, on the other hand, did not put up anything like their usual article of ball. But perhaps that was due to their innate timidity and hesitancy to force themselves upon their elders. Perhaps, only perhaps, the side lines may have contributed to their defeat. The formidable array there of talented members of the ancient and dishonorable order of the Mask and Brush may have had an embarrassingly unnerve effect upon the young members of this family who thus far have not succeeded in wrapping themselves completely in the swaddling clothes of learning.

The sophomores, however, seemed to gain strength by their backers on the side lines. Worth outpunted the freshmen's punter, Hanes intercepted a forward pass and got away with it for 25 yards before getting nabbed "Ratty" Ranson, their famous left end, held down his position with characteristic grace and ease, while Lord on right end played good ball. Darden, at center, put up a splendid game. He broke through the freshman line with ease.

Line up. Amherst will have a new athletic field to cost $50,000.

Plan is to Have Practice in the Chapel, at the Pickwick, at Commons Hall, and on the Athletic Field

From this time on some organized effort will be made to give direction to the singing and cheering. Stated briefly the plan is this: To practice the songs every morning at chapel; to have the songs flashed on the screen at Pickwick between the different reels, and to have somebody who can sing to lead those songs; to have song and yell practice every night at the door at Commons Hall; and finally, to meet every afternoon on the Athletic Field at some stated time and there to practice the yells and songs.

It is planned to limit the number of songs to three. Heretofore just before the Virginia game we have been flooded with songs, parodies, and near-poetry which all read once and never sang. This year three songs will be learned and will be sung. As for the yells, all the old ones will be tried.

Two large megaphones have been bought for the cheer leaders, and two hundred small ones have been ordered for the use of the students. Some noise, well led and well directed, will be made in noble town situated on the noble James, next Thanksgiving day.

POSTOFFICE FOR CHAPEL HILL

The Bill Has Been Introduced in Congress for a $100,000 Building

When the Democratic Congress meets in next December, a strenuous effort will be made by the authorities to secure a government building for the use of the post office in Chapel Hill. A bill was introduced at the last session of Congress for a building to cost $100,000. No action was taken on the matter then, but at the next session the matter will be pushed. It is the expectation of Post Master Lindsay that favorably action will be taken.

The urgent need for a post office building in Chapel Hill is apparent to any one who has ever chanced to see the present accommodations. The building now in use is totally inadequate for the needs of the town. The rush of students at mail time has been the subject of many an English theme, and the despair of the post master. When the mail is a little late, seven hundred and fifty students try to crowd into a space scarcely thirty feet square, to the annoyance of the authorities and the peril of innocent by-standers.

Senator Simmons has stated to Mr. Lindsay that he will do everything in his power to get the building. The receipts of the postoffice at Chapel Hill were $9,500 for the fiscal year ending last June. They have increased over $1,000 during the past three years. This sum is only slightly under the standard set by Congress, and it is for this reason that Mr. Lindsay entertains such great hopes for the appropriation being made at the next Congress.
