Y. M. C. A. Program

Where do you spend the time between supper and mail time? Practice the principle of conservation in respect to your time, for no man who foolishly spends his spare moments can become the strong person he should be. Think of this and come to the Y. M. C. A. building every Thursday night at seven o'clock. We have something there that will be worth your while. You will find some of the best men in College leading discussions on subjects vitally touching each one of us. These meetings are thrown open for general discussion, and you are invited to take a part. Bring your thoughts and share them with us. If you will do this we promise you greater returns for that thirty minutes (for we hold only one half an hour) than for any other period in the day.

Look over this list of subjects and find out these men that are leading in them.

On Thursday night Oct. 10, W. G. Harry, one of the strongest men in the Senior class, will talk on the subject of "Self Control."

Oct. 24, R. W. Isley will lead the discussion on the subject of "Influence." Let us feel the influence of your thoughts along with his.

On Oct. 31, H. S. Willis, the busy-boy in college, will talk on: "What am I in College for?"

For Nov. 7, E. M. Coulter will present us his thoughts on "What is the Greatest need of Our College?"

We need your help and you need ours. The Y. M. C. A. welcomes you to its prayer meeting service. It is yours.

Guy B. Phillips

FRESHMAN CLASS RESOLVES

The Freshman class of the University of North Carolina, in convention assembled, this 29th day of Sept. hereby resolve:

That it is conscious of the great loss recently sustained by it through the death of one of its most promising members, Isaac William Rand.

Realizing, as it does, that with his manly character, his lofty ideals and his splendid physique, he would have been an honor to his family, his friends, his University, his State and his Nation, the class here further resolves that his work shall not remain unfinished, but each member, seeing in his short life traits worthy of exemplification shall be inspired by them to higher and nobler deeds and thus immortalize his name.

To the father and brothers thus sadly bereaved, it extends the most sincere sympathies, and commends to them the Great Comforter and the friend indeed.

Jesus cares when we are burdened,
When Death's Angel comes our way,
He sustains us when we're saddened,
Listen, we can hear him say:

"Come unto me all ye that labors and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."—Matt. xi 28.

2. Be it here further resolved that a copy of the above resolutions be sent to the father and brothers of the deceased, that it be entered on the class record, and sent to the TAR HEEL for publication.
