DOWN WITH BOGUS CHECK WRITING

that 'the giving of the aforesaid worthless check, draft or order shall be prima facie evidence of intent to cheat and defraud.'

"But it is not a question of law that should interest the students. It is a question of citizenship, college and state. The University is no place for men who will write worthless checks and the sooner they are sent away, the better conditions will be for the others. In undertaking to deal with this problem, it is my purpose, as a representative of the Student Council and as representative of what I believe the best student sentiment to be, to bring these guilty ones to account, by whatever means may be necessary, and help cleanse the student life of some of its worst diseases."

TRACK MEN AT WORK

Any afternoon about twenty-five or more men can be seen working on the track. Old varsity men are out getting back into good trim. New men are out trying for the class teams.

The purpose of this fall work is to put the men into trim for the class meet, which is to be held the first of November. There is much good new material out, especially among the Freshmen. Some of the men are very promising, and the prospects for an interesting meet are very bright.

Last year this meet was won by the Sophomores, with the Freshmen second. Some of the men who participated later won their monograms and are therefore ineligible for the class meet. For this season there is a big opening for new men in the upper classes. Who will win this year? Which class can put out the best team?

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS

The Historical Society met Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in Chemistry Hall, for the purpose of organizing for the coming year. The following officers were elected: Dr. J. G. de R. Under the present arrangements, the Historical Society will meet on the first Monday night of each month.

First Constellation

After a careful consideration of the personnel of the company, their long and successful concert experience, the instrumentation in solos and splendid ensemble work, the vocal selections, readings, etc., the Star Course Committee was convinced that the Apollo Concert Company would attract large audiences and please them. Sneath, the president of of many of the best lyceum cities attest the splendid satisfaction given by their entertainment to crowded houses.

It would be rather difficult for me, if I were on both, to say just which members of the Apollos received the most applause at Salem Memorial Hall last evening as they each, separately and ensemble, were showered with blossoms of acclaim.—Stiles Manning Scruggs in Winston-Salem Journal.

County Clubs Organize

The Johnston County Club this year is a live organization of twenty six members, nearly half of whom are new men. They planned a Christmas banquet to be given by the club to the County Alumni. They also intend to give to the winner of a High School debate which they expect to arrange in the home county.

The officers for the year are as follows: I. M. Bailey President, Ezra Parker Vice President, J. Eldridge Treasurer, J. E. Turlington Secretary.

On Tuesday night two clubs, Forsyth and Wayne, organized for the year. The Forsyth club organized with twenty-six active members and three honorary ones. The honorary members are Messrs J. C. Beard, A. H. Patterson, and C. T. Woolen. The officers elected for the year are Doug Rights, Pres., Geo. Holton, J. T. Day, and R. A. Reed, Vice-Presidents, E. F. Conrad, Sect., J. A. Walker, Treasurer., and M. R. Dunnigan, Corresponding Secretary.

The Wayne club, which is probably the largest county club in college, started the year with thirty-five members, fifteen of whom are new men. They elected T. H. Norwood, Pres., P. C. Darden, Vice-Prse, K. C. Royal, Treas., and P. R. Bryan, Sect. This club has started out with plans for great things. They intend to have a feed on Nov. 2.

PHILLY RITCH HEARD FROM

Marvin L. Ritch of Charlotte who played center for Carolina last year was used for the full game by Georgetown against Randolph-Macon this afternoon. Ritch is a student in the Georgetown Law School. He was used at left tackle in the first half where he took the place of a regular who was injured last week. Kelly, a New York prep school player, worked at center for the first half. Ritch replaced him in the second.

Although somewhat awkward in his defensive work at tackle because of his inexperience in this position, the North Carolina boy showed up well. When he went in at center, in the second, he demonstrated that he was the superior of Kelly, who had played this position in the first half and with whom he will have to compete for the position on the first string. His passes were sure, and his defensive work was all that could be asked. Ritch has a good chance to face Virginia as a member of the Georgetown team, when he can seek vengeance for the defeat which he shared with the North Carolina team at the hands of Virginia last Thanksgiving Day.—Charlotte Observer, Sept. 29.
