

LITERARY SOCIETIES TO AID PREP SCHOOLS

to the University, at Chapel Hill, for the State championship contest. The school having the strongest team on the affirmative side of query and the school having the strongest team on the negative side shall be entitled to contest publicly in the University's Chapel for the Aycock Memorial Cup. (The Strongest team on each side of the query is to be determined by preliminary contest at Chapel Hill.) The school which shall win the debate thus finally held, shall have its name inscribed on the Memorial Cup, together with the names of its winning representatives. Any school which shall win out in the final contest for two years shall have the cup for its own property.

All high school representatives sent to the University in this contest will be met at the station by a committee of the Societies and entertained by them as the Societies' guests while at Chapel Hill.

It is evident from casual reading that this plan if successfully carried out, will mean much for the high schools of the state and in turn, for the literary societies here who must draw upon the high schools for their membership. This plan seems to remove what has been the greatest obstacle to high school debating in the past—the lack of material. All the material in the University Library bearing on the question to be debated will, as far as practicable, be printed in pamphlet form and sent to all schools having membership in the Union.

Mr. C. E. McIntosh, '11, of the Durham schools, who was largely influential in the Societies taking hold of this work, has agreed to be responsible for the furnishing of the Aycock Memorial Cup. It was deemed wise to call this cup "Aycock" cup in honor of the man who probably did more for the school children of the state than any other man has ever done.

A copy of the regulations governing the Union, together with a letter asking for the support of the schools and urging them to become members of the Union, has been mailed to practically every superintendent or high school principal in the State. It is hoped that their responses will be such as to insure an entirely successful formation of the Union. The committee from the societies charged with the carrying out of the plan is composed of: A. A. McKay, chairman; E. R. Rankin, Secretary; T. E. Story, R. C. Spence, A. L. Hamilton, Horace Sisk, Dr. L. R. Wilson, Librarian, and Prof. N. W. Walker, State High School Inspector.

At Dr. Bell's home on Friday evening the members of the chemical faculty, together with the senior and graduate students in chemistry met for the purpose of forming a club to study the biographies of famous chemists. The organization adopted the name "Alembic Club", after which it proceeded to an election of officers. This election resulted in Dr. Wheeler as president and Mr. W. L. Jeffries as Secretary. It will meet once a month. The Alembic Club is an outgrowth of the Karbon Klub, conducted by Dr. Wheeler last year. During the evening the chemists made a mixture internally of several substances having a "characteristic odor and color". They started the disintegration of some hot chocolate and sandwiches.

THE FIRST ISSUE OF ALUMNI THE REVIEW

1911. A sketch of his life is given by J. Bryant Grimes, 1886. There is an article on the General Alumni Association and a graphic account of the exercises of University Day with a picture of the procession. Dean E. K. Graham has an appreciation of "A North Carolina Teacher" the late Dr. Hume, with photograph. The work of the Summer School is described, accompanied by a striking photograph of the students of the Summer School saluting the flag. Sufficient statement of the facts in the Rand hazing incident is given. "The Present Status of Athletics", is discussed, and a sketch of Head Coach Nat Cartmell is given. There are pictures of last year's base ball team and of the foot ball game with Wake Forest this year. A sketch of Marse Jesse, the well known caterer, who died last summer and a speaking likeness of him, is given. The cover of the Review was designed by Kenneth Tanner, 1911, one of the editors.

In addition to these and the editorials there are fourteen pages of campus, village, and Alumni news, including accounts from many celebrations of University Day in different towns. There isn't an uninteresting line in the magazine from first to last and it sets a high standard for future issues.

Sixty-five men, an unprecedented number, answered the call for a meeting to re-organize the Dramatic Club on an entirely different and much broader basis. Professor Booker, who is chairman of the Faculty Committee on Dramatic Organization, addressed the meeting. He emphasized the necessity of general student support of the Dramatic Club. He further stated that the intention was to make the Dramatic Club representative of the student body, not of a particular class or faction.

These officers were elected: A. L. M. Wiggins, President; T. M. Ramseur, Secretary; and Arnold A. McKay, Treasurer. An initiation fee of twenty five cents was decided upon. Any student may become a member upon paying this fee.
