It is pretty tough to try for a place kick and end up by having your opponents make a touchdown, but that is what the Freshmen experienced at the hands of the Juniors last Saturday. Not satisfied with this, with five minutes play, the Juniors went in and made another touchdown and had two minutes to spare. Up to this time the two teams had see-sawed back and forth across the field with neither goal even threatened. What little advantage there was favored the Freshmen. Devane's end runs and Lord's good forward passes were offset by Parker's line plunges and Reid's runs. Strong for the Juniors and Joyner for the Freshmen did fine defensive work on ends. Pendergraph did good line work at center. He blocked the Freshmen's attempted place kick. Smith picked the ball up and had a clear field for a touchdown. Smith also played aggressively during the last few minutes of play and carried the ball half the length of the field in successive rushes for the last touchdown. There was much fumbling on both sides. Every attempted rally was ruined by fumbles at critical moments. The punting was not up to the otherwise good standard of the game.

The line-up:

GEORGETOWN WINS FROM CAROLINA

In the final period Dave White made the last touchdown by a beautiful 35-yard run. Costello failed to kick goal. The Tar Heels were still fighting gamely when the whistle blew.

Carolina played splendidly against a better team. Costello, the best open field runner in the South Atlantic States, who has starred in every game this year, could not be stopped. Our own "Philly" Ritch played center in good form, and big White was a source of strength, defensively and offensively. Capt. Tillett, and Homewood, playing his first game at end, did fine work. Tillett gained frequently and tackled steadily. Homewood's work was most encouraging and he promises to be the best end on the squad. His smashing of interference and tackling were high class. Moore played well.

The line-up:

ELECTION NEWS RECEIVED

After several reports had been made beginning with "The New York Sun says," "The New York Herald says," "The St. Louis Globe-Dispatch says," some one called out "What does the Tar Heel?" Back came the reply, flashed on the screen, "The Tar Heel says that it is now time to subscribe. The climax of the evening came with Roosevelt's congratulatory message to Wilson. The cheering that followed was the most enthusiastic and prolonged during the entire report. After that people began to drop away. "Nothing to it; what's the use of staying now?" said one man. But a few dyed-in-the-wool politicians, the old Guard, hung on till the last. At three-thirty messages quit coming in and the twenty odd "fans" wandered off to bed.
