FALL DEBATE WITH WASHINGTON & LEE

Carolina Will Meet This Institution About December 14th

TAKE PLACE OF PENNSYLVANIA DEBATE

They Beat Us in 1905 and We Beat Them in 1910 A Number of Experienced Men Will Try Out in the Preliminary, November 19th.

Arrangements have been completed by the debating Unions of Washington and Lee University and the University of North Carolina for an inter-collegiate debate between these two institutions, to be held about December 14, at either Lexington Va or Lynchburg, Va.

The query to be debated is "Resolved, that a more easy and expeditious method of amending the federal constitution should be adopted." Carolina will defend the negative side. The preliminary contest, to decide what two men shall represent the University in this debate, will be held Tuesday night, November 19. Among the number who will try out in this contest are W. R. Pettoway, H. C. Petteway, J. C. Busby, F. H. Kennedy, and S. W. Whiting.

This debate takes the place of the regular fall debate with the University of Pennsylvania, which has up to the present time been held successively every year since 1908. The four debates with Pennsylvania resulted in one victory for Pennsylvania and three for Carolina. Twice before, in 1905 and again in 1910, the University and Washington and Lee have met in debate. In 1905 Washington and Lee won; in 1910 Carolina won. Thus the debate this year will be a spirited one, each institution trying to break the tie in her own favor.

LITERARY INCENTIVES

In order to increase contributions to the University Magazine, there has been given for a number of years a gold medal for the best short-story published in this magazine. This medal is given by Dr. Wyche of St. Louis in memory of Hunter Lee Harris who graduated in the class of '89 and who was an instructor in Geology here. This medal was won last year by D. L. Rights '13. In order to stimulate a wide interest in the various kinds of articles to the Magazine, the two Literary Societies offer this year a prize of $2.00 for the best poem, and one of $2.00 for the best sketch.

These prizes are open to any member of any class. If you have a theme returned from first, second, or third English with better than an A, submit it to Alderman, Coulter or Rights, and it will be given a careful reading. All material for the next issue of the magazine should be in by November 15th.

Your subscription is now past due.

SWEATER RULES ALTERED

Athletic Council Changes Awarding of N. C.'s.

At a meeting of the Athletic Council Tuesday night the date was set for the election of football manager and assistants for next year, and rules were formulated governing the awarding of the right to wear N. C. monograms. Saturday, December 14, was set as the date for the election of the football managers.

The following resolutions were passed governing the awarding of the right to wear N. C. monograms:

1. That the Athletic Council shall retain supreme power in the awarding of N. C.'s.

2. That in baseball, football, basketball, and track the method of awarding by the Council shall be upon the recommendation of the Coach of the team, the Captain of the team, and the Athletic Director.

3. That in tennis the Tennis Association shall have the power to award N. C.'s to the members of the Varsity tennis team, subject to the approval of the Athletic Council.

4. That in gymnastics the method of awarding by the Council shall be upon the recommendation by the Captain of the Gym team, the Gym Director, and the Athletic Director, of such men as shall have fulfilled the requirements now prescribed for them, and shall have also creditably represented the University in intercollegiate gymnasium meets.

THE ELISHA MITCH MEETS

The 201st scientific meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society was held Tuesday night, November 12, in Chemistry Hall. Two papers were read before the Society, one by Dr. Wade Brown and one by Prof. J. S. Holmes.

The subject of Dr. Brown's paper was "The Physiological Effect of Haematin." Dr. Brown discussed the physiological effect of this drug on the respiration, on the heart, the blood pressure and on the vaso-motor center. He showed in connection with his discussions some slides that were made from certain experiments that he performed with this drug on animals last summer.

"Forestry for the Eastern North Carolina Lumberman" was the subject of Professor Holmes' paper. There is at present, said Prof. Holmes, considerable controversy as to whether forestry will pay the average lumberman. The object of this was to show how and why forestry should be a good financial investment for both the lumberman and the land-owner of Eastern North Carolina. Three precautions should be taken: The prevention of forest fires, protection of young growth, and provision for a regrowth. The amount of money necessary is much smaller than the sinking fund for a cotton mill or industrial plant, and it brings in larger returns.

DRAMATIC CLUB IS NOW BOOMING

Forty Prospectives Were Present at First Reading of Play

"WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES"

Amateur Night Nov. 22, Will be Featured by Punning Contest, Rights vs Huffman. A Western Trip to be Arranged.

Forty members of the Dramatic Club were present at the first reading of "What Happened to Jones", the play selected for presentation by the club. The play, which was read by Prof. George Mc Kie, is a farce comedy made up of certain adventures of one, Jones, a drummer. The club will present it before Christmas, the exact date to be decided upon later. In addition plans are now being made by manager Busby for a tour in the Western part of the state; unusual interest is being manifested by the members of the Club and a decided improvement in the production is looked for.

The club will hold on Friday night, Nov. 22nd an "Amateur night", open only to members. At this time everybody who can sing, dance, play any musical instrument, tell a joke, or perform any such stunt, will be called upon. The climax of the evening will be a "punning" match between Doug Rights and Bob Hoffman. No one but members will be admitted, but any student may become a member on payment of a fee of twenty-five cents.

ENTERTAINS SENIOR CLASS

President Walter Stokes, Jr. Tuesday night in the Y. M. C. A. entertained the Senior class at a spread and smoker, given in honor of his twenty-first birthday. Good cheer, good fellowship, and good things to eat combined to make this birthday party one long remembered by those present. The presence of the Senior "Co-eds", Misses Kasey, Vice-President of the class, Berry and Summers added charm to the occasion. For an hour or more the Seniors feasted and mingled together, enjoying on the side the wit of the class's most noted humorists, Messrs. Doug Rights and R. O. Huffman. The meeting was broken up by a rousing cheer for the host, President Stokes.

CHEMICAL JOURNAL CLUB MEETS

The Chemical Journal club held its 3rd meeting for the year in Chemistry Hall last Monday night, Dr. J. M. Bell presiding. There were four papers presented before the club, one by Mr. J. T. Dopkins on "Synthetic ammonia" one by Mr. C. B. Carter on "Phenol Formaldehyde condensation products"; one by Mr. D. A. Killiter on "Extraction apparatus", and the last by Mr. E. B. Mott on "Benzoic acid as an acidimetric standard."

WASHINGTON AND LEE

A Special Train if Eighty Students Will Go

Washington and Lee Saturday in Greensboro, and a special train if eighty eight persons will go. Washington and Lee has a fine record for the season. She has played three teams that Carolina has met, and in each case she made a better record. Georgetown beat her 20 to nothing, she beat Davidson 54 to 0, and V. P. I. 26 to 0. Among her star players are Captain "Fats" Miller, a 240 pound guard who runs with the ball frequently, Miles, a big tackle, and Beuhring' a plunging full back. Her coach is Reiley, a Yale man.

The excursion ticket is $1.75. The schedule has not been announced because it is not known whether enough students will go to justify a special train. By comparative scores, Carolina seems to be out classed. But the team has always played better when against worthy opponents. It is the last game before meeting Virginia.

SOPHS DEFEAT CHAMPS

Woolcott made a pretty drop kick in the third quarter of the Soph-Junior game Tuesday; therefore the Juniors lead no longer in the class championship race. They are tied by the Sophs. At no time was either goal line threatened although both the Juniors and Sophs unsuccessfully tried a drop kick. The Juniors attempted many forward passes, all but two being broken up. The Sophs made most of their gains on line plunges, Lindau, at left half, being especially good at this. He easily did the best work of anyone during the entire game. The Soph line held well. The Juniors were unable to make any gains with their fast back field as the Sophs broke up interference on practically every play. DeVane's end run for fifteen yards was the only exception.

Taken as a whole the game was the best class game of the year so far. The two teams will now have to play off the tie.

COMMUNITY CLEANNESS

The Community Club of Chapel Hill is making an effort to keep the streets of the town clear of paper and rubbish and bespeaks the cooperation of the students of the University to the extent of putting all waste paper in the barrels which have been placed along the sidewalks for this purpose. A little care is especially needed around the post office.

FOUR PLACE KICKS IN ONE GAME

The Two Carolinas Fight to a Tie, the Score Being 6 to 6

STEVENS' TOE SAVES THE DAY

Captain Tillett's Long Runs Enable the Tar Heels to Stave Off Defeat. South Carolina Has a Strong Team and a Real Star in Heyward.

The two Carolinas played each other to a standstill on Saturday, 6 to 6. The game was remarkable in that each team made two place kicks. Von Kolnitz performing for South Carolina and Stevens twice tying the score for North Carolina. Neither team came near a touchdown, the ball see-sawing back and forth in the center of the field.

The game was a disappointment to Tar Heel supporters. Without detracting from South Carolina, who presented the strongest team in years, it is safe to say that North Carolina failed to show promised form. In spots the play was brilliant, but only in spots. Captain, Tillett played probably the best game of his career and yet he was afforded but little protection. A better defence against end runs, more accurate end play, organized interference, and a final punch in the attack are desperately needed.

Long runs by Heyward and Von Kolnitz enabled the latter to try for field goals three times in addition to his successful efforts. Twice his kicks went wide however and last time Jones' massive form was in the way.

Play in the first quarter was largely in Tar Heel territory. Fumbling marred the work of both teams. Heyward carried the ball well and gained repeatedly. In the second quarter Von Kolnitz dropped it over the bar. Not a whit daunted, the Tar Heels came back strong. With less than a minute left to play Tillett caught a punt and squirmed down the field for 40 yards. Stevens stepped back and kicked a place kick, not five seconds before the whistle blew. In the third quarter North Carolina fumbled under her own goal posts and Von Kolnitz again sent over a place kick.

Again the Tar Heels came back. On the very next play Tillett ran back the kick-off 60 yards, and all but got loose for a touchdown.

Further progress was stopped, but Stevens came again to scratch with his trusty toe and tied the score at 6 to 6. After that both teams fought desperately, but could do nothing. Taylor, substituted at left half, did brilliant work and always gained. Two long runs by Heyward brought the game to a close.

Captain Tillett starred through the entire game and was the life and strength of his team. One 60 yard run, one 40-yard run and numerous gains for 5, 10, and 20 yards go to his credit. Opposed
