MASS MEETING HELD FOR THE TEAM

The Students Practice Songs and Yells for Thanksgiving Game With Virginia

MR. GRAHAM AND MR. BOOKER SPEAK.

Keynote of Meeting Was "Regardless of Record, Whether Winning or Losing, the Team is Our Team All the Time."

Last Friday night in Chapel a rousing mass meeting was held with the object in view of stirring up renewed enthusiasm in the football team and the game that is to be played with our dearest rivals, Virginia, in Broad Street park, Richmond, next Thursday, the same being Thanksgiving Day.

Walter Stokes, chief leader, opened the meeting by leading a hearty Boomer-er-ray for the team. He then introduced Prof. E. K. Graham as the first speaker of the interest renewing meeting.

Prof. Graham stated that he "had not come to bury Caesar, nor to praise him," but to make a plain presentation of the case as it appeared to him.

"Our team," he said, "has not made a brilliant record thus far; we know that. But our team is made up of the best that we have and demands our loyalty and support just the same as if it had a championship record behind it. True loyalty counts for more than anything else. The team has played so far and will play on Thanksgiving Day just in proportion to the amount of true loyal support that is given it. If we fail to do our part, then we can't expect them to play winning football."

"Support the team; go out on the field every afternoon until Thanksgiving, and root hard. That team represents not only us but thousands of alumni; help it to be representative in a true Tar Heel way in Richmond next Thursday."

Prof. Booker followed up Mr. Graham with a short practical talk on the necessity of our getting together and showing that we are together. He was loudly cheered when he said:

COACHES PUT ON FINISHING TOUCHES FOR THE VIRGINIA GAME IN HARDEST AND LONGEST SCRIMMAGES OF THE YEAR

The final preparation for the Virginia game has been severe and thorough going. Hard scrimmages all of last week, culminating in a regular game Saturday, were held under the direction of the coaches. The work has been secret until Saturday. At night too there have been signal practice and black-board talks regularly.

The presence of additional coaches who have come for the final polishing of the team has helped mightily. Foremost among them has been "Doggie" Trenchard, the old Princeton player and former Carolina coach. Mr. Trenchard has been with the Princeton team most of this season and has brought much good advice along with him. His ability to get fight and ginger into a team, as well as his expert knowledge of end play has had noticeably good results. George Thomas, captain of the '08 team, has been here all the week too.

In the scrimmages Coaches Martin and Trenchard have been driving the Varsity, while coaches Cartmell and Thomas have urged on the Scrubs. The latter team has played tip-top ball all season and especially the past week. Their line-plunging on Saturday was powerful enough to rush the ball over 60 yards on successive plays.

The Varsity has paid especial attention to forward passes and several new formations for this play have been perfected. One of the touchdowns in Saturday's scrimmage came on a pass from De Vane to Strange.

The exact line up of the team on Thursday is uncertain on account of injuries to several men. Abernathy's injury is most serious but it is hoped that he will be able to play. His presence means much to the line as he is a veteran of three years experience and will have a steady effect. In the backfield Wakeley and Applewhite are in poor shape, though they should come around in time. Their condition and the shifting of little Abernathy to guard has necessitated moving Foust from end to full.

At ends Huske and Homewood seem to have the first call, though Strange will probably be used too. Stevens and Abernathy have been the regular tackles. While "Ab" has been out, Jennings has taken his place. At guard Johnson and little Abernathy succeeded Johnson before the game was over. Jones seems safe at center. On the defence he is being used at guard, while "little Ab" backs up the line.

Captain Tillett at quarter is playing the best game of his career and is the life and strength of the entire team. Taylor's brilliant playing of the past few weeks puts him forward as the best half back. The other two positions are a puzzle. Moore, Wakeley, Applewhite, Foust, De Vane and Blalock all have a look-in. Ervin's work on the Scrubs Saturday was most encouraging and he too may be used.

The team will leave Chapel Hill Wednesday morning and get into Richmond that night. They will stop at the Richmond Hotel.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS PLEASED WITH DEBATING UNION

The movement launched by the literary societies two weeks ago to form a State-wide debating union of the high schools of North Carolina has thus far met with admirable success. The plan which provides for the formation of a network of secondary schools for stimulating debating has already been responded to by 47 representative schools of the State. The list includes the High Schools of Raleigh, Charlotte, Salisbury, Statesville, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Washington, Hendersonville, Oxford, Lenoir, and other foremost schools of the State. The committee promoting this debating union has been active in arranging the query to be debated, the prize to be awarded, and other technicalities toward making the union a thorough-going one. The prize, by name "The Aycokk Memorial Cup", will be a contribution by the local chapter of the Tau Kappa Alpha fraternity, which is composed of inter-collegiate Carolina debaters.

The query that will be debated by members of the union is: "Resolved, That the constitution of North Carolina should be so amended as to allow women to vote under the same qualification as men." Increased interest is added to this query because of the recent election in Oregon, Michigan, Kansas, and Arizona, in which amendments were adopted allowing women to vote.

This movement will be brought directly to the attention of the teachers of the State at the meeting of the Teachers' Assembly, in Greensboro, November 27-30, by Mr. C. E. McIntosh, of the Durham High School, who was influential in planning the whole scheme.

Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, at a recent meeting in Atlanta, was re-elected President of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association.

AMATEURS HOLD A NO-HOOK NIGHT

Buglese Rights and the Huff-Maniac Reek With Puns While the Team Plays Smokers

TOLSON STARS THROUGH CENTER

Members of the Faculty Perform for the Amusement of the Hazers While the Shades of Parker and Lsley Look On.

An Amateur Night where there was no call of "Get the hook"; an Amateur Night where there was more fruit, raisins, crackers and cheese, cigars and cigarettes, than the crowd could consume; an Amateur Night where professors sat on tables and stood on tables, and students put their feet up as high as they pleased, threw banana peels and cigar stumps on the floor, and where even "Cizzors" smoked a coffin tack; such an Amateur Night did the Dramatic Club pulled off in the reception hall of the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening. Needless to say, it was an unqualified success, both from a social and a dramatic standpoint.

There was no regular program; Amateur Night precludes such an idea. Walter Stokes opened the evening by reading a negro poem which struck the keynote of the evening—a good time. Then things started up. When Meeks felt like singing, he sang. Anyone played as the spirit moved him. Occasionally the whole crowd, about eighty-five, sang a college song. Doug Rights mounted the table and set everyone laughing with a string of puns on the names of the various college students. Tolson, who was the particular star of the evening, pulled off some good comic reciting, and at any pause during the rest of the evening, he was called on and always responded with something worth seeing or listening to, or both. He was good at anything from poetry to dancing. His composition on the billy goat was fine, but as he said "The goat lost out when noses was first invented. His clog accompanied by Lipscomb with his mouth organ, brought down the house. Coggins, Strong and Bogan volunteered to shake a foot. John Johnson entertained the club for some time with amusing sketches and jokes. He requested that while he talked everyone be quiet as one mule braying at a time was enough.

THE TAR-HEEL TROT

Tune: "Everybody's doin' it."

Carolina's doin' it. Doin' what? Gettin' hot!
 Carolina's doin' it. Doin' what? Gettin' hot.
 Old Virginia's at us with a boun';
 See big Jones there, standin' like a moun';
 Hold your breath boys! Lordy, look aroun'!
 It's a down! It's a down! It's a down!
 Abernathy's blockin' it, knockin' it, sockin' it;
 Taylor's luggin' it, luggin' it, pluggin' it;
 Guards and tackles crumplin' up their line,
 Ends and backfield hangin' to 'em fine.
 Come! Come! Come! Come! Everybody "jins" it!
 Carolina's holdin' 'em now.

Carolina's doin' it. Doin' what? Gettin' hot!
 Carolina's doin' it. Doin' what? Gettin' hot!
 See our full-back buttin' out a hole?
 Get your specs; you're as blind as a mole.
 He's off like a shot. Oh, Lordy! Bless my soul!
 It's a goal! It's a goal! It's a goal!
 Cap'n Tillett's crawlin' it, haulin' it, maudin' it;
 Applewhite is rushin' it, squishin' it, crushin' it;
 The rest of the bunch we've played pretty well;
 But the U. V.—A. we're playin' like hell.
 Come! Come! Come! Come! Everybody yell!
 Carolina's beatin' 'em now.
