

THE TAR HEEL

OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

VOL. 21

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1913

NO. 17

DAVIDSON AND ELON EASILY DEFEATED

Carolina is Too Fast and Piles Up Big Scores in Each Game

NEITHER OPPONENT STRONG ON DEFENCE

Carrington and Long Shoot Many Goals and Tillett's Floor Work and Dodging Are Always Sensational

The basketball team defeated Davidson on the home floor Monday night by the lopsided score of 42 to 8. During the first half Carolina made 16 points, while the Davidson team failed to score a single point, and in fact did not score at all until the last few minutes of play. Carolina scored almost at will during the last half, running up 26 points to their opponent's 8.

From the first tip off to the time-keeper's final call the ball stayed almost continually in Carolina territory. Carrington and Long made the majority of points, shooting eight and six goals respectively. Tillett, although guarded by probably the best man on the other team, dropped four. Chambers's two long distance shots were features of the game.

THE TEAMS

CARRINGTON	Center	Cashion, Carson
Tillett, Ranson	Forward	White (Capt.)
Long	"	Carson, Gibbon
Chambers (Capt.)	Guard	Howell
Redmon, Homewood	"	Booe

Summary—Referee (1st half) Cook, (2nd half) Smith; Umpire (1st half) Smith, (2nd half) Cook. Halves, twenty minutes. Goals: Carrington (8); Long (6); Tillett (4); Chambers (2); White (2); Carson (1). Fouls thrown: by Long (2); by White (2).

Carolina defeated Elon College in a spirited game of basketball Wednesday night. Although the score was 41 to 11, the play throughout was fast and lively. Most of the time the team worked together well and piled up the score rapidly. The score in each half was practically the same, in the first half being 21 to 6, in the second 20 to 5. Long played phenomenal ball for the first few minutes but slowed up after that. Carrington and Tillett played a consistent game all the way.

The line-up:

ELON	Center	CARRINGTON
Bradford	"	Carrington, Chambers
Newman	Forward	Long
Johnson	"	Tillett
Rand	Guard	Chambers, Homewood
Voughn	"	Redman

Summary—Goals: Newman (2); Bradford (2); Carrington (6); Long (6); Redmon (4); Tillett (3); Chambers (1). Fouls called on Carolina (9); Elon (3). Fouls thrown: by Long (1); Newman (3). Referee: Doak, of Elon. Umpire: Long, of Carolina.

At the last meeting of the Dramatic Club Blake Applewhite was elected assistant manager.

COUNTY CLUBS ORGANIZE Form Definite Association and Plan for the Future

The University Association of County Clubs has completed its organization by adopting a constitution and electing officers.

Dean E. K. Graham, as temporary chairman, opened the meeting. He said the purpose of the club was to better and strengthen: first, the relations between the college individuals and the State; second, the relation between the clubs and their counties; third, the relation between the University and the State. He said, "This organization can be made the biggest thing in College. It is a good idea."

The Constitution, the preamble of which begins, "Keenly aware of our obligation to the State," was read and adopted. The various officers were elected. I. M. Bailey, President; Frank Graham, First Vice-President; G. B. Phillips, Second Vice-President; Fred Morrison, Secretary; E. M. Coulter, Treasurer. E. K. Graham, Prof. Noble, and Dr. Raper were elected members of the executive committee, which is further composed of the Club President and the various County Club Presidents. Any one may become a member of this club upon paying an initiation fee of twenty-five cents.

After this routine work I. M. Bailey, E. W. Joyner, and Fred Morrison told of the various plans that had already been tried along this line. Dr. Hamilton then delivered the main speech of the evening. He spoke on the need of the State for a new constitution and told how this club could forward that movement. He said in part: "The statute law, contrary to general belief, is not the important thing—it is constitutional law. Our constitution was made by selfish and often ignorant carpet baggers; therefore there are many faults in it. The chief of these are special legislation, the lack of a definite responsibility of State power, inequalities of taxation, the inflexibility of judiciary laws, and the absurdities in our educational provisions. The way to change all this is to educate public sentiment."

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF BIBLE STUDY GROUPS

The Y. M. C. A. gave an entertainment to the members of the Bible Study groups Tuesday night for the purpose of getting the individuals of the several groups better acquainted. After a flash light and a speech of welcome by Secretary Hall an abundance of fruit and lemonade was served. Then talks were made by Mr. Moss, Frank Graham and "Cy" Thompson, and others. The speeches treated of everything from the Bible to Bronchos.

FINAL BANQUET OF THE CLASS OF 1913

Seniors All Weep Together and Swear to Mutual Love Forever

MISS BERRY TOASTS THE CLASS

Drs. Venable and Raper and Professors Williams and Graham versus Carrington, Busby, Mebane and Tillett

Gathering for the last time as undergraduates around the festal board, the Senior Class last Friday evening banqueted most happily. Although there was naturally a kind of "last time" feeling in the atmosphere, this detracted not a whit from the enjoyableness of the occasion, the wit of the class's many humorists and the cigars coming to the aid of those who might be pensively inclined.

The banquet committee had done its work well, and the menu was a reminder of the old "Marse Jesse" days. Between courses speeches were had and hearty applause greeted both the wit and the wisdom of the speakers. Walter Stokes made an excellent toastmaster; he was always strictly on the job.

Dr. Venable, the first speaker, gave a serious talk. Now that the class, 75 strong, was about to be sent away as the finished product of the University, he asked "What?" The University man is expected to make good, to measure high. "The three essentials are", he said, "first Character, then Industry, then Training."

George Carrington responded to Dr. Venable. George, who incidentally presides over the destinies of the Tar Heel, made a breezy speech. He had provided himself with a set of jokes and some big words and these he manipulated effectively, here a little and there some more.

Prof. Graham, the next speaker, told a joke about "food" and one about "fellowship". Then he expressed sincere thanks, both for himself and the University, to 1913 for the helpful course it had stuck to during a trying year. He urged that the class see to it that its progressive measures be continued by succeeding classes.

Will Tillett, responding to Mr. Graham, made a talk characteristic of the energetic football captain. He advised all 1913-ers to "bat out a home run the first time up, to make a touchdown from the kick-off".

Dr. Raper, who had kindly consented to be present in the place of Dr. Henderson, said that between "preparing Chapel talks on taxation and Sunday School talks on the Flood" he had not had time to get up a ban

Continued on Fourth Page.

LAW SCHOOL WINS $100

Trial of the Jennie Brice Case Best in the State

The University Law School has won a prize of $100 offered by the Ridgeway Publishing Company for the best mock trial in North Carolina of the Jennie Brice murder case. This news was received Tuesday in a telegram to S. R. Winters, the official court stenographer at the trial. It is a distinct triumph for the law department.

The mock trial arose from the publication by Everybody's Magazine of a serial story by Mary Roberts Rinehart. It concerned the supposed murder of a girl, Jennie Brice, during flood times in Pittsburgh in 1907. In order to advertise the story, the publishers of the magazine offered numerous prizes for the best mock trial of the case. All over the country trials were held and much interest was aroused. The prizes were awarded by states.

The law department of the University held its trial in Gerrard Hall. It ran for two nights, Dec. 13 and 14, and the hall was crowded with students who were much interested in the proceedings. The best men in the department acted as attorneys in the case and fought as bitterly as if a life were really at stake. Prof. P. H. Winston acted as the judge. The lawyers for the State were J. W. Morris, H. E. Stacy, John W. Hester, and W. L. Warlick; for the plaintiff were L. A. Swicegood, G. H. Ward, W. F. Taylor, and J. J. Henderson.

TO MAKE COUNCIL MORE EFFECTIVE

At the last meeting of the Greater Council several matters of importance were discussed. It was decided that the present Presidents of the Sophomore and Junior classes continue in office as members of the Student Council until the students at large and the representative elected by the Council are chosen and installed. This is to insure a strong, working Council at the first of each year. Also it was decided to submit the following resolution to the student body for its consideration. "Resolved; that the representative chosen by the Council itself be not limited to the Senior class as heretofore, but that any old member of the council who is then a Junior, Senior or a Professional student be eligible." This is intended to insure the presence of an experienced man on the Council.

The committee appointed to seek some way of building up Athletics reported, and recommended that an organized effort be made to promote coached athletics in the State Public High Schools, as sixty-three percent of our men come, almost untrained, from them. It was thought most practicable to forward this plan through the County Clubs.

DOGGIE TRENCHARD SIGNS CONTRACT

Princeton All-American End to Coach Carolina for Three Years

A WELL KNOWN FIGURE ON THE HILL

Trenchard Has Always Been a Favorite With the Alumni and it is Largely Due to Them That He Has Signed

Graduate Manager McLendon has announced that T. C. Trenchard, better known to the athletic world as "Doggie" Trenchard, has signed a three-year contract as head football coach at the University of North Carolina. Mr. Trenchard, who is at present engaged in lumber and real estate business at Ridgeland S. C., will come to Chapel Hill about March 1 and live here in the future. The salary he will receive has not been announced but it is understood to be the largest ever paid to a Carolina coach.

The news of "Doggie" Trenchard's coming was received here with great delight and the student body believes that he can pull Carolina football out of the rut of the past few years. Trenchard is a Princeton man, graduating there in 1894. During his college career he was one of the greatest ends of all times and was unanimously selected for all-American elevens.

In 1895 he coached the Carolina football team with brilliant success. It was at this time that he acquired the liking for Chapel Hill and the University that has brought him back year after year to assist in the last few weeks of the season. At various times also he has gone back to Princeton and helped there in the development of the Tiger teams. Last Fall he spent six weeks at Princeton in charge of the ends.

Besides possessing accurate technical knowledge of football "Doggie" Trenchard is noted for instilling fight into a team. He is a man of great spirit and energy and he is able to impart much of it to the team under him.

Trenchard was selected as head coach at a conference here on January 27 between representatives of the alumni, faculty and students. This committee, in entire charge of all coaching arrangements, it is one of the results of the recent move by which the alumni have an active interest in athletic management at the University. Trenchard has always been a favorite with the alumni, and it is largely due to their efforts that he has been signed. The alumni will pay the greater part of his salary, the athletic association guaranteeing $1,000 a year.

A modified system of alumni coaching will be installed. From time to time alumni coaches will come to Chapel Hill and help Trenchard.

STAR COURSE--"SEVEN SATELLITES OF VENUS"

GERRARD HALL, FRIDAY NIGHT, FEBRUARY 7, 1913.