CAROLINA LOSES TO VIRGINIA. WINS FROM VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE

Watkins Pitches Good Game. Southpaw Gammon Gives Carolina Four Scattered Hits. Woodall Secures Two Triples.

In the third and last game of the series, Carolina lost to Virginia at Charlottesville Saturday by a score of 6 to 1. Virginia has a little something to boast of now, having won three straight from Carolina and eight victories in a row. That the blue and white put up a game struggle goes without saying. Woodall got two triples, and Watkins pitched better than his usual good game. Southpaw Gammon the Virginia twirler, allowed the visitors four scattered hits. Virginia bunched her hits in the fifth inning. Paschall was safe on Shield's fumble and Phillips walked. Neff drove a single to right field scoring Paschal, and White's single to left registered Phillips and Neff. In the sixth Sticklely doubled and counted on Paschall's single over second. The feature was Neff's relay from deep center, nailing Woodall at the home plate. The box score was:

V. M. I. GAME.

Carolina and The Virginia Military Institute had quite a hard fought battle Monday when the blue and white won 5 to 4. The score came very near being tied in the ninth inning when Gallagher, bent on getting home, cut third after sliding under Woodall, and was called out. The whole game was intensely interesting. Carolina scored on Woodall's homer in the fourth, Nance's triple, and Shield's double in the third. Carolina rooters saw her add one point to her score on each of Bailey's doubles, and Hardison's, Long's and Woodall's singles in the fifth, and Woodall's triple in the eighth

The soldiers got in some good work while Carolina wasn't watching and scored on Pitt's double, Shield's error in the third, Pitt's single, Bulcher's walk, and Gallagher's round trip in the fifth.

CATHOLIC UNI. GAME

The Catholic University won a 3 to 1 victory over the Varsity Tuesday by a hitting rally in the fifth. Four singles and an error turned the trick in what amounted to almost a pitcher's duel with Aycock getting a little the worst of it.

Karl Bailey's walk and Hardison's hit gave the Varsity its lone run in the first.

Woodall showed his peg by foiling four attempted steals. Everyone was right there but "Red", who was left out.

TENNIS TEAM GOES SOUTH

Charlotte Gets Intercollegiate Tournament.

The Varsity Tennis Team, which is to say Oates and Chambers, who are serving their third term in that capacity, will leave for Charlotte Saturday to represent Carolina in the Southern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament to be held in that city May 4th and following days. For the first time in several years this annual tournament, which is of course the biggest event in Southern intercollegiate tennis, is being held in a North Carolina city. In 1911 and 1912 Columbia had it and in 1913 Columbia. This year Oates, who is vice-president of the Southern Association, has made arrangements for the tournament to be held under the auspices of the Mocklenburg County Club at Charlotte. This has the advantage of being near enough to the colleges farther south, and at the same time far enough north to be accessible to institutions in North Carolina and Virginia. For this reason teams are expected from a number of colleges that have heretofore been unable to participate; and an unusually good tournament is anticipated. Besides Carolina, Trinity, Davidson, South Carolina, Clemson, and Georgia are certain to be represented, and there is a strong possibility that Alabama, Auburn, Georgia Tech., and several Virginia colleges may send teams.

The outcome of the tournament is decidedly conjectural, probably more so than usual. Last year Clemson took first place and Carolina second. Both are expected to bid strongly for honors this year. But South Carolina and Georgia both return there, and Trinity has a three year team. Then, too, new entries may complicate the contest—Virginia is known to have a good team and in the event of its entering might develop into a formidable contestant. At any rate, the weather permitting, there will be some good tennis at Charlotte next week and the winner of the championship will claim no mean title.

Dr. Charles L. Parsons

Dr. Charles L. Parsons, chief chemist of the U. S. Bureau of Mines and general secretary of the American Chemical Society, will deliver an interesting lecture on "The Radium Situation" before the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society on Saturday night, May 2, at 8 p. m. in Chemistry Hall. Numerous specimens are to be shown. The public is invited to attend this lecture.

Red Litchfield Sick.

The Carolina team had to leave one of its best players, Red Litchfield, left fielder, in Lexington on account of fever. Nothing more detailed has yet been learned.

ANNUAL OUTDOOR PLAYERS

Unusual Attraction Here on May 8.

Mr. C. T. Woollen has secured an unique dramatic treat in the Frank Lea Short Company for May 8, when that organization will present two of the most charming comedies of the present day. In the evening they will present Edmond Rostand's "The Romançers" and Louis N. Parker "Pomander Walk" in the afternoon.

These two playwrights represent what all critics please to term the last word in dramatics. And while their comedies are in every sense of the word academic, they are also more entertaining than any other two living dramatists. This is evidenced by the fact that "Pomander Walk" played to capacity houses at Wallack's Theatre in New York for two long seasons, and "The Romançers" which came from the pen of Rostand was played by the famous French comedian Coquelin and Madame Sarah Bernhardt in Paris and by Mrs. Campbell, Royalty Theatre, London. The translation used by Mr. Short of "The Romançers" is the one that Mrs. Campbell used. This latter comedy was brought to America by Mr. Short and has been exceptionally well received at the leading Universities in the United States.

Mr. Short, the director of this company, has been dramatic coach at Yale for the past twelve years and has played a large part in the social advancement of the stage in America. He is a young man but has already become famous for the high calibre of the dramatic sense of his productions and unerring detail of construction.

He has gathered together a strong cast made up of the best actors that could be secured from the winter successes on Broadway. Every member of his company ranks high in the profession and several of them are noted for character creations they have appeared in.

Tickets for the engagement may be secured at Eubank's Drug Store, at $1 each or at $1.75 for the two performances.

TENNIS TEAM SUCCESSFUL

Doubles Played Off Wednesday at Trinity.

On Wednesday afternoon Malcolm Oates and Lenoir Chambers the Varsity tennis team, went over to Durham and defeated Trinity in doubles. This afternoon they are there again playing in the two singles matches which will decide the meet; Trinity must win both to be the victor.

The doubles match went to four sets, Carolina winning by the scores, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. The Trinity representatives, Anderson and White, who were defeated by Carolina last year, put up a stubborn fight, and aided by familiarity with the court, threatened more than once to have things

TRACK TEAM GOES AFTER BIG GAME

S. A. I. A. A. Meet to be Held in Baltimore

STUDENT CONTRIBUTIONS ARE LIBERAL

With the aid of contributions from the students and faculty, Carolina sent her track team this morning to the 1914 South Atlantic Intercollegiate Meet at Baltimore. At a late hour yesterday the number of men going was still uncertain, owing to the incomplete funds.

Monday morning in Chapel Dr. Mangum laid before the students the condition of their athletic treasury and their track team. He pointed out that the Association could furnish only $125, while $300 was necessary to send even a small team. He left it to the students to attend to raising the necessary funds. On Monday and Tuesday nights canvassers were out collecting. About $75 was received in contributions. This necessitated a sharp restriction on the number of men taken.

The team left Thursday morning. Friday is the day of preliminaries in the big meet. And on Saturday, May 2nd the final contests take place. The S. A. I. A. A. is composed of Johns Hopkins, Georgetown, Virginia, V. P. I., Washington & Lee, N. C. A. & M., and Carolina.

DI VICTORIOUS AGAIN

Wins Fresh-Soph Debate After Hot Contest.

In the Fresh-Soph debate held Tuesday night the Di Society won by a two to one vote of the judges. Query: Resolved, That the true solution of the trust problem lies in the regulation of combinations rather than in the breaking up of combinations and the restoring of competition.

The Phi Society, represented by V. F. Williams and W. O. Smith, held the affirmative. On the negative were J. F. Hackler and R. M. Ross, of the Di. A. R. Newsom, Di, acted as presiding officer; and Hugh Hester, Phi, was secretary. The judges were Prof. Stacy, Dr. Greenlaw, and Prof. McGehee.

This contest was well up to the standard of the Fresh-Soph debates. A large audience was held interested throughout by the good arguments and the effective presentation, the two sides running exceedingly close for the decision.

their own way. But the superior team work of the Carolinians and greater all-round steadiness won out. Neither Oates nor Chambers played up to form and it was only in the last set that they played as they are expected to next week in Charlotte. Trinity lead in both the first and third set, and it was only after many long dunce games that Carolina won.
