SHAW'S PLAY A SUCCESS

Dramatic Club Gives Excellent Performance

Playing far above the standard expected by even the most ardent admirers of dramatics, the University Dramatic Club made a splendid impression Friday night. "Arms and the Man" a supposedly very difficult play to act, was presented with the greatest ease. The play was a rich comedy, full of laughs all the way through. A packed house greeted the actors and there was an abundance of well deserved applause.

Charlie Coggins, who for three years, has played a leading role in Dramatics, was the brightest star. He played the part of Bluntschli to perfection. Weeks as Major Petkoff acted up to the high standard that he has set in previous plays. In the role of Mrs. Petkoff was W. D. Kerr, who deserves much praise. The part of Sergius was handled very easily by E. L. Applewhite. His work was unusually good. Bruce Webb, playing the part of Douka, the maid, acted the part well. He makes a good looking young lady, as does L. B. Meredith, who played the role of leading lady. There was not a weak spot in the cast. Everyone played well and deserves great praise.

During the intermission between acts, Dr. Archibald Henderson gave a very interesting talk about Bernard Shaw, the author of the play. He highly complimented the members of the cast for their excellent work.

The Dramatic Club left Monday morning for the annual Eastern tour. While on the trip they play in Goldsboro, Washington, Raleigh and one or two other towns.

NEW LECTURES ARRANGED

Ex-President Taft Will Speak Here Next Spring

A splendid course of lectures by famous men has been arranged this year for the University—a course designed to give one a large outlook on life and to enlarge one's sphere of knowledge.

The McNair lectures are to be delivered this year by Professor John Dewey of Columbia, and his subject will pertain to the relation of philosophy and politics.

Another series of lectures will be delivered by the Ambassador from Argentine, Mr. Naon, who was a member of the A. B. C. Commission. His subject will have to do with the trade and political relations between the United States and South American Republics. Several single lectures will be made by prominent North Carolinians on subjects pertaining to the welfare of the state. These lectures will be under the supervision of the North Carolina Club. Later in the spring Ex President Taft will speak on "The American Executive" or some subject closely related.

ALL CLASS TEAM PICKED

Coaches Graham and Klutz Submit Decision

The two class coaches, Klutz and Graham, have selected the following all class team:

Monroe.....	Sophomore
Right end
Wilkins.....	Senior
Right tackle
Smith, C. L.....	Junior
Right guard
Craig.....	Senior
Center
Harrell.....	Sophomore
Left guard
Little.....	Senior
Left tackle
Whitaker.....	Senior
Left end
Woolcott (Capt.).....	Senior
Quarter
Fitzgerald.....	Senior
Right half
Nance.....	Senior
Coleman.....	Sophomore
Left half
Ranson.....	Sophomore
Utility

Monroe right end, and Whitaker left end, are both strong defensive ends, good at boxing the tackle, and excel in receiving the forward pass. Simmons was a close bidder for the end position and Burnett, but for his weakness in handling the forward pass would have copped a place. Erwin of the Freshmen always had fight.

The two Senior tackles, Little and Wilkins, were the most formidable pair on the field and it was their work that opened the way for the fierce plunging of Nance, Fitzgerald, and Paty. Eagle and Telfair are both strong tackles but were overmatched by their Senior opponents. Little was the outstanding lineman in the deciding game but consistently through the season Wilkins was the most valuable man in the Senior makeup. Davis of the Freshman team is a tackle of promise.

The guard positions go to Harrell, preeminently, of the Sophomore team and Smith of the Juniors. Both exhibit a great power untempered by experience. Dawson of the Seniors would easily claim a position but was out for only the last game. In this game he neutralized the formidable Harrell.

Center belongs to Craig for his splendid all round work. He passed well, backed up the line effectively, and was an adept in intercepting the short forward pass. Smith and Newell were both strong center men.

Woolcott, who was Capt. and quarterback of the all class team last year, again won both places. He runs a team well, tackles cleanly, catches punts with ease, and is the best broken field runner of all the backs. Lewis, however, pushes him close by his expert forward passing, drop-kicking, and generalship.

The Senior backfield, Woolcott, Nance, Fitzgerald, and Paty, would resist every attempt to be broken into but for the for the

THE GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Musical Organization Pleases Large Audience

The first formal opportunity of hearing the Glee Club was afforded the students last Thursday evening. True it is that the singers had been carolling in practice every afternoon for some weeks, but they shone forth in full glory for the benefit of the visiting girls last Thursday. The program was clever and was well received. The chorus contained no exceptionally good voices, but showed careful training. Preston Epps stands head and shoulders above the rest of the company in talent, and his selections were heartily applauded. The parody sextette from Lucia was also forced to respond to several encores. The duet "He Was All Dressed up and Had Nowhere to Go," sung by Leicester Chapman and Charlie Mangum with guitar accompaniment was enthusiastically received, and encored time after time. The Mandolin Club was larger than last year and was exceptionally good.

Florida Club Meets

The Florida Club held its first meeting of the year on Tuesday night at the Phi Delta Theta hall with nine members present. The following officers were elected: Dr. Herty, Pres. Emeritus; W. P. Fuller, Pres.; N. A. Reasner, Sec.; J. M. Parker, 1st Vice-Pres.; W. W. Kirk, 2nd Vice-Pres.; F. W. Norris, Treas.; H. M. Kanner, Chief Custodian of the Gator; D. H. Killefer, Gator Bait; F. H. Horton, Gopher Grabber. The Gator was selected as the club emblem. After the business was over, an excellent feed was enjoyed by all.

There is now on sale, at Klutz's, a beautiful booklet, at the ridiculously low price of 25 cents. It is "O. Henry: a Memorial Essay," written by Dr. Henderson. The proceeds are for the O. Henry Memorial Fund. It makes a dandy Xmas gift.

John L. Henderson of Hickory was initiated into the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity Saturday night.

far-carrying power of Coleman's unerring toe. Coleman outdistanced all opposing punters by a score of yards and this fact alone makes him invaluable to any class lineup. Fitzgerald and Nance are powerful backs both on the defense and offense, and Nance passes the ball almost half the distance of the field. Paty yields only to the punting of the Sophomore Captain. "Rusty" Davis of the Sophomores has both defensive strength and offensive dash.

Pike, of the Juniors challenges comparison with the line-riddling Nance but does not quite measure up in all round play.

Ranson is a strong end, a good half, and a paralyzing secondary defensive back. He is a good utility man for this mythical eleven.

COACH DOAK ARRIVES

Basket Ball Prospects Bright For This Season

With the arrival of coach Doak on the Hill, basket ball practise has begun in earnest. About fifteen men answered the first call and probably three times that number will be out before the week is over. Practise will be held every night in old commons until arrangements are made for the use of the gym.

Capt. Long, Tennant, Keesler, Homewood, Davis, and Andrews of last year's squad are out again. "Yank" Tandy, who played enough last year to show that he has the goods, is suffering with scarlet fever at present, but will probably be in the game before the season is well started. Much new material is in evidence, and it is expected that the class series will produce several good men.

Coach Doak, who is to direct the team this year, needs no introduction here. As one of the most popular players in the Carolina Base Ball League, and as coach at Guilford College he is well known throughout the state.

Practise in the class series has also started, and prospects are very encouraging. Several men have already answered the call and more are coming out every day. The first game of the class series is to be played next week.

The first game is to be played on Saturday night with the quintette from the Durham Y. M. C. A. They are said to have a fast bunch of players this year, and consequently, a good game is expected. Although not yet in good trim, Carolina's squad is fast being rounded into form, and expects to start the season with a victory. Nothing definite is known yet as to who will play Saturday night, but the team will probably be picked from the following: Long (Capt.), Tennant, Holding, Davis, Andrews, Homewood, and Fuller.

CLASS BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Ten Games to Be Played Before the Middle of February.

Dec. 15 Fresh—Sophs.
Dec. 16 Junior—Senior.
Dec. 18 Pre Meds—Fresh.

George Wall, of Hillsboro, was initiated into the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Final Game to Be Played in Chapel Hill Saturday

On Saturday there will be staged at the athletic field the final step in the High School Football Contest which has been arousing so much interest throughout the state. Since Raleigh beat Washington 75 to 6 in the East and Asheville beat Huntersville 6 to 0 in the West, these teams will be the ones which will make the final struggle for the Championship of the State. The battle will open at 2:45 with probably Klutz and Trenchard as officials. Since the expenses of both teams will have to be met by the committee in charge, a small admittance fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

A special train will be run from Raleigh to Chapel Hill Saturday to bring the Raleigh team and supporters here to witness the game in which they hope to win the state championship.

The Asheville team has been coached by E. A. Thompson of 1911, who was a Carolina varsity man. He played the position of guard and was captain of the team in 1910. He is at present teaching English in the Asheville High School.

The Raleigh team has been coached by G. B. Philips '13 also a teacher of English.

A large number of supporters of both sides will be here, and the students are expected to take sides with one or the other contestants. Charles Coggins will lead the cheering for Asheville and Frank Graham for Raleigh.

CLASS NUMERALS GIVEN

Members Of Senior Football Team Get Numerals

The committee from the Greater Council upon the recommendation of the Coach Frank P. Graham, and Captain Woolcott, of the Senior football team, winners of the class football championship of 1914, has given the following fifteen players the privilege of wearing the class 1915 football numerals: Paty, Fitzgerald, Nance, Woolcott, Craig, Field, Holder, Parker, Hart, Dawson, Wilkins, Little, Cummings, Whitaker, and Burnett. Under the ruling, not more than fifteen men may be allowed this privilege.

The Seniors, averaging in weight 157 lbs., a few pounds more than any other teams, scored 128 points to their opponents' 2, having won every game they played. They are an excellent example of what hard work and class spirit can do.

Their season's record is.

Seniors 49 — Freshman 0
Seniors 0 — Sophomores 0
Seniors 39 — Juniors 0
Seniors 33 — Freshman 0
Seniors 7 — Sophomores 2

Robt. H. Harris, of the Sophomore class is confined to his home in Greensboro, suffering from scarlet fever.
