LATEST TRACK PROSPECTS

The New Material is Both Promising and Plentiful

Spring weather has caused a 100 per cent rise in track stock. The old men, Captain Woolcott, Patterson, Smith, Whiting, and Homewood are already displaying mid-season form, while last year's scrub men are showing up just as well as the wearers of N. C.'s.

For the sprint there is a fast field to select from. Clip Smith, last year's N. C. man in the 220, Goat Wright and Hugh Black, South Carolina's fastest prep school man, are showing up best so far, but Williams, last year's state high school champion sprinter, and Wood, a strongly built new candidate, are also good for points in the varsity meets.

The quarter is one of Carolina's surest events with Patterson, who for two years has won time after time, and McDuffie, who bids fair to run Little Pat a tie in almost every race. With steady work Gus Graham's stride should give him a chance with the other two.

Seymour Whiting, the fleet of foot, is the premier half miler. Two minutes flat is expected of him this year.

In the mile Rand bids fair to be an equal of the Southern Champion, Earl Patterson, two years ago captain of the team, while Pitts is never five yards behind. Following these two leaders is a numerous bunch of splendid material, of whom York, 1918, looks best.

Harrison is leading the 2 mile field. Upchurch, although very erratic, is just about as good.

Wright will be the first man in the broad jump with at least twenty-three feet. Captain Woolcott will be second, with Hatcher and Rimmer as good probabilities.

In the high jump Woolcott is expected to go almost six feet, while Kranner, a new man with long legs and powerful spring, ought to stick right by. Wright, Graham, Davis, and McKane may be used for this event also.

Homewood is booked for eleven feet flat in the vault. Isley and Davis are also out for this event.

For the hurdles there is Woolcott of last year and a fast crew of good looking new men.

Davis, winner of the shot put in the High School Meet last year, has already made thirty-seven feet eleven inches—over a foot better than has been made here in several years. Ramsay is pushing him close, while Hogan is almost up with both.

Ramsay looks good in the discus, having made over a hun-

CAROLINA LOSES TO ELON

Last Game of Season Ends in Defeat by Four Points

Carolina was defeated by Elon College last Saturday night at Elon in the final game of the season. This was the second time these two basketball teams have met this season, the first game being won by Carolina 15 to 9, and the last being lost 19 to 15.

The game Saturday night closed a splendid season for Elon since they have won from every college in the State.

The feature of the game was the work of Tennent, Carolina's left guard, who held Moorefield scoreless, and did some splendid passing in addition to his close guarding. Long and Andrews were the only Carolina men to score, Long caging the ball three times and Andrews four. Andrews was stationed at forward in place of Johnson, who was unable to play on account of injuries received on the Virginia trip.

McCauley won the game for Elon by throwing nine fouls. Carolina gained very little by fouls, getting only one out of eight chances.

dred feet already. Davis, Hogan, and Hall are also strong.

With this lot of material coming out over forty strong every day, working regularly under the new system of squad training by older varsity men and graduates, the team should be well rounded into shape for the following pending schedule:

April 17	Wake Forest	at	Chapel Hill
April 24	Elon	at	Chapel Hill
April 29	W. & L.	at	Lexington
May 1	V. P. I.	at	Blacksburg

JUNIOR WEEK APPROACHES

Plans Being Perfected for Seven Sensational Days

With the arrival of warm weather and new spring suits, everybody's thoughts begin to conjure up visions of Junior Week and the manifold diversions which that time implies. The dance leaders are swamped with letters from program and invitation manufacturers, and correspondence is carried on daily with the leaders of different orchestras in several cities. The committee from the Junior class has petitioned the Faculty for three holidays, the 7, 8, and 9 of April, but the petition has not yet been acted on. Three night dances will be given; the first by Order of Gimghouls, the second by the Juniors, and the third by the German Club. There will probably be also an informal afternoon dance. The dances will be lead by M. N. Oates, J. G. Cowan, and W. O. Huske respectively.

The Senior Stunt, which is always one of the events of Junior Week, is in the hands of J. S. Bryan, chairman; W. P. M. Weeks, W. D. Kerr, and B. B. Holder. It will be presented Friday night, the 9th. The committee has been working industriously, and their plans are taking the shape of a finished product. While there is always a good deal of mystery concerning the actual nature of the Senior Stunt, it is rumored that the performance this year will be a musical comedy. The class is fortunate in having among its members several men of proven dramatic ability, and this fact gives assurance that the presentation will be a good one.

The following men have been appointed to arrange a Junior Stunt: Charlie Coggin, Marmaduke Cox, Barney Pitts, Bob House, Mac Lewis, Frank Jarrel, Tom Linn, and Francis Bradshaw.

The committee for arranging the Sophomore Stunt consists of Jim Hoover, chairman; W. T. Polk, and J. A. Capps. They have almost completed plans for their stunt, but no practice has yet been held.

The Freshmen have not yet taken any action in regard to the stunt that they will present, but it is expected that they will be on hand to uphold their share of the entertainment.

It has been customary heretofore for the Senior baseball aggregation to challenge a chosen team from the faculty to a game during the the holidays, and it is not improbable that some of the

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

K. Kato Speaks on Religious Situation in Japan

At the regular Tuesday night meeting of the Y. M. C. A. the report of the nominating committee was accepted unanimously. The report of the committee was: J. Merrel Parker for President, Francis O. Clarkson for vice-President, L. H. Edwards for Treasurer, and F. F. Bradshaw for Secretary.

A retiring address was made by the Ex-President, W. P. Fuller, in which he treated in a brief manner the development of the Y. M. C. A. during the past year. Among the most important developments are: the Lost and Found Bureau, the Book Exchange, the Boy Scouts Organization, the Industrial Work at Carrboro, the Freshman Continuation Committee, and the Negro Work.

After Fuller's address, K. Kato made a talk on "Christianity in Japan," in which he told of the history of Christianity in Japan and some of the present problems and hopes of Christianity in that place. He estimated the number of Christian workers in Japan at 8,000 and the number of Christians at 170,000, aside from many who are Christians at heart but not by avowal. He further spoke of the confusion caused in the Japanese mind by the multiplicity of Christian Denominations, which seem to be fighting each other, and the prospect of the formation of a Federation of all the churches including the Roman Catholic, in order to present a united front. In conclusion Kato spoke of the necessity of the missionary's seeking to instill Christianity into present day Japanese ideas and customs rather than attempting to destroy these customs and habits of thought and build entirely new ones.

ex-stars will be working into their old-time form some of these warm afternoons.

A regular baseball game has been scheduled with Bingham of Asheville to be played in Chapel Hill on the 9th. Then, the first game with Virginia will be played in Greensboro on the 10th, which, no doubt, a large number of students will journey to see.

In addition to all this, the high school debate will be held during the latter part of the gala week. No man can complain that the occasion will be dull, for no matter in what direction his tastes may be, there will certainly be something on the diverse program to interest him.

SENIORS' LAST BANQUET

Class of 1915 Has Enjoyable Time at University Inn

Time—nine p. m.; place—The University Inn; occasion—the Senior Banquet. Never has a happier bunch of Seniors assembled at a final banquet than the members of 1915. The briny tear caused by the thought of an early departure from "our beloved Alma Mater," as Mr. Noble would say, was not in evidence. No, the Seniors are not an unappreciative lot, at least not all of them, they are just happy because a change of residence is near.

Then the speeches—someone said that the Seniors had every professor in college. While that was not exactly true, they did have a great number. The Faculty speakers were: President Graham, Dr. Herty, Dr. H. V. Wilson, Dr. Raper, Prof. Noble, and Frank Graham.

Among the student speakers were George Eutsler, Toastmaster, W. P. Fuller, B. L. Field, G. A. Martin, W. R. Taylor, and L. B. Gunter. These fellows abounded in what, by mistake, might be called wit. Walter Fuller made one of the best talks of the evening in spite of the introduction given him by the toastmaster. To be a "Big Little Man" is a position worth striving for. His classmates will remember his speech when others have been forgotten.

Dr. Herty gave the class some useful advice. He knew where he talked and spoke as an authority. Dr. Herty was a little surprised at his invitation in view of the last exams.

Dr. Wilson and Dr. Raper gave just what was expected of them—two of the best talks of the evening. The committee is to be congratulated upon securing these two men.

Of course the Seniors had Mr. Noble there. Why shouldn't they? He was the life of the occasion. No one here could have spoken in a manner more pleasing to his hearers.

But Frank Graham! His talk seemed to center at and revolve around No. 2 Carr—or rather its inmates. He delighted his hearers by a running fire at Fitzgerald and Nance. Frank always speaks of the highest and noblest things; and No. 2 Carr is gratified to have been referred to.

But no more! The Seniors have almost finished their course here. Each one came away feeling better. The occasion was altogether a happy one. Two coeds were present, Misses Lynch and Stone. They added what was noticeably lacking—beauty.
