$145,000 for Maintenance and Improvements

The State Legislature has furnished a new supply of fuel for its various institutions. This supply must last two years.

There are, generally speaking, two branches of these institutions: Charitable and Educational. The total amount appropriated this session is almost $500,000 larger than that two years ago. The grand total approximates $3,000,000. Most of this increase goes to the various asylums and hospitals under State care. Practically the same amount has been given to the various colleges as last year. A considerable amount is given the charitable institutes than is given the colleges.

Figures for a few of the more important institutions follow.

University of North Carolina, $115,000 annually for maintenance, $30,000 annually for permanent improvements; out of this must be paid $40,000 "land notes" the remaining $20,000 to be used at discretion of the board of trustees.

A. & M. College, Raleigh, $85,000 annually for maintenance; $10,000 annually for permanent improvements.

State Normal, Greensboro, $100,000 annually for maintenance; $10,000 for indebtedness. East Carolina Teachers Training School, Greenville, $50,000 annually for maintenance; permanent improvements, $18,679.12.

State Hospital, Raleigh, $175,350 annually for maintenance, less $61,150.89 to the credit of the hospital December 1, 1914, also $5,000 for heating plant, $35,000 for receiving building available in 1916.

State Hospital, Morganton, $200,000 for 1915; $205,000 for 1916 for permanent improvements, in installing additional water supply, $60,000; from appropriations for support and maintenance of 1915 there is to be deducted $76,202.49 to credit of the institution for 1914.

School for Deaf at Morganton, $67,500 for support and maintenance for 1915 and like sum for 1916; also appropriated annually $5,000 for eye, ear and nose and teeth specialists, $4,000 for permanent improvements.

School for Feeble-Minded, Caswell Training School, Kinston, $30,000 for 1915 and $40,000, 1916 for maintenance, for permanent improvements $16,500, to include girls' dormitory, $14,000, and reinforcing present foundation $2,500.

For the last two years the University has been receiving $95,000 and $50,000 annually. A. & M. and the Normal receive about the same as before. A. & M. gets about $40,000 yearly from the Federal Government.

Monday night the Journal Club held its regular meeting in Chemistry Hall. Dr. Herty, Messrs. Killefer and Pickett read and discussed interesting papers.

Many Noted Men to Attend President's Inauguration

Invitations have been issued reading as follows:

The Trustees and Faculty of the University of North Carolina request the honor of your presence at the Inauguration of Edward Kidder Graham as President of the University of North Carolina on Wednesday the twenty-first of April one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, Chapel Hill, North Carolina. It is requested that a reply be sent to Prof. George Howe.

Among the college presidents who will attend the inauguration of President Graham are all those in North Carolina, with the exception of one. From outside the state will come President Alderman of Virginia, President Goodnow of Johns Hopkins, President Lowell of Harvard University, President Finlay of New York University, President James of University of Illinois, President Hammerschlag of Carnegie Polytechnic Institute, President of Rice Institute, President Moore of Union Theological Seminary, President Matheson of the Georgia School of Technology, President Murphee of the University of Florida, President Smith of Washington and Lee University, President Johnson of Winthrop Normal College, President Stevenson of Princeton Theological Seminary, President Soule of Georgia College of Agriculture, President Webb of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and President Graham of Hampden-Sidney.

The following institutions have signified their intentions of sending delegates. Cornell University, Northwestern University, University of Pennsylvania, Rochester University, Lafayette College, Dartmouth College, Lehigh University, Baylor University, Smith College, Columbia University, University of Missouri, Stevens Institute of Technology, Vanderbilt University, Trinity College (Conn.), Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of Pittsburg, Teachers College of New York, Haverford College, Wofford College, Perdue University, Bryn Mawr College, United Holyoke College, Rutgers College, University of Alabama, St. John's College, University of Arkansas, George Washington University.

In many ways the inauguration will be the most elaborate affair of this kind that the University has ever witnessed.

The Dramatic Club appeared in Charlotte Wednesday night, and seems to have made a very favorable impression. Every member of the caste acquitted himself especially well, and the play was a great success. The Club left Monday on their trip of a week through the State. If "Arms and the Man" is as well presented in every town as it was here at the University, the trip will certainly be a success.

Winston-Salem and Raleigh Play Championship Game

The High School Football game has become as much of an institution as the Thanksgiving game; the High School Debate has become as much a part of the University Program as commencement; but the High School Basketball Contest is something new. It is familiar in that it is operated on the same plan as both the other contests. Despite the fact that this is the first year that it has been tried, it has every prospect of being a great success, a benefit to the State and the University.

The teams that will contest in Bynum Gymnasium Friday night at eight o'clock are Winston-Salem and Raleigh. The winning team will be champions of the State and will be presented with the cup.

Altogether about forty high schools entered this contest. Those eligible for the second preliminary were: in the West, Belmont, Winston-Salem, Lexington, Asheville, Statesville, and Matthews; in the East, Raleigh, Goldsboro, Middleburg, Enfield, and Benson. Lexington forfeited to Winston-Salem on account of sickness of players. Asheville eliminated Statesville 67-8, Belmont eliminated Mathews 41-15, Winston-Salem defeated Belmont 88-9. Thus Winston-Salem became champions in the West. In the East, Raleigh defeated Middleburg 90-9, Enfield eliminated Benson 20-18, Goldsboro defeated Enfield 50-23. Goldsboro forfeited to Raleigh, thereby making Raleigh the champions.

The game will be one of the most interesting played here this season. It will be refereed by Coach Doak, and an admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged to pay some of the expenses of the contest. Tickets can be had from Coach Trenchard, E. R. Rankin, or the members of the Greater Council.

MR. TAFT'S VISIT

Many People Will Hear Ex-President Taft Lecture March 17-18-19

The coming of Mr. Taft to Chapel Hill is very much anticipated not only by the University but by people throughout the State. Practically all the reserved seats have been sold. Among the out of town people who will attend the lectures are; Judge Henry Groves Connor, who will be the guest of President Graham, as will also be Ex-Judge Crawford Biggs, of Raleigh. Justice W. A. Hoke and Mrs. Margaret Busbee Shipp, of Raleigh, will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Archibald Henderson.

During his entire stay in Chapel Hill, Mr. Taft will be engaged one way or another. Among those who will entertain in his honor are Dr. and Mrs. Henderson.

Second Banquet of Season as Successful as First

The Junior Banquet held last Friday night at University Inn was attended by about fifty members of the class and was pronounced by each of this number the most successful affair that the class has ever given. The committee, under the chairmanship of R. C. Vaughn, provided a delectable spread, and, what had just as much to do with the success of the occasion, chose their speakers with care. Dr. Hamilton was the first faculty speaker. His talk was concise and to the point. He emphasized the necessity for college men to read the newspapers, keep posted on political issues at home and throughout the nation, and to help educate the people of their communities up to a proper attitude toward government and politics. Merrill Parker made the next speech. His subject was "What is a Senior?" In the course of his speech he advanced several schemes whereby the class could benefit the University, the most important of which was the plan of each class donating its damage fees, which are returned at the end of the term, for the purpose of establishing a lasting and beneficial memorial to the class after its graduation. This fund could be used for beautifying the campus, establishing an ornamental campus lighting system, or for providing better bathing facilities. After the serving of another course, Dr. Greenlaw spoke on the value of consistent, steady work throughout the term as opposed to cramming at examination time. He illustrated his point by several amusing stories. Hubert Blalock responded with a discussion of class unity and democracy. His speech was up to the standard which he set for himself at the Peace Contest. Professor Bernard made a witty speech that was thoroughly enjoyed. His subject was "Efficiency", which he discussed from several points of view. Tom Linn took the floor next and compared the Junior class with a person about to set out on a trip. He said that now is the time for loose ends to be gathered up, and for the men to strive for those things in college which they have thus far let slip by or have neglected. After another period of feasting Prof. Stacy spoke of the work that it is possible for a student to do in his home counties. He also laid stress upon the fact that more friendly and intimate relations should exist between the faculty and the students. Hugh Hester had been hailed as the dispenser of comedy for the evening, and although he had not prepared his speech with this end in view, succeeded in living up to his reputation, getting off several mirth provoking stories.

After the last course had been served, President McDaniel Lewis, as toastmaster, called upon Miss Anna Forbes Liddell, of

Eighteen Games to Be Played During March and April

The class athletic committee has agreed upon the following regulations for class baseball.

I. Eligibility.
No member of the Varsity squad who has played five innings in a varsity game this year is eligible for class baseball.

No man considered by Coach Doak to be a member of the Varsity squad is eligible. Should such a man play, and later return to the Varsity field, the game is forfeited.

No wearer of a baseball NC is eligible.

II. Protests.
Protests of all kinds must be registered before 12 o'clock on the day before the game is scheduled. This includes protests of schedule as already decided upon.

Pharmacy and Medical students are to play with the Junior team. Law and graduate students are to play with the Seniors. Upon good reason being shown the committee, a member of the professional schools may play with any team they choose.

The committee reserves the right to change any of these regulations as they see fit.

(Signed) Roger McDuffie,
Chairman.

Meb Long.

Walter Fuller.

The University Magazine, the appearance of which was delayed somehow by the printer, will come out shortly. One of the leading articles will be "Pan-Slavism in the Great War" by Samuel Newman. One of the short stories "Ashebro in Mercy Street" is by N. A. Reasoner, the other "The Golden Butterfly" is by W. Daub Kerr. These are only three of the interesting articles in the Magazine.

Charlotte, the only co-ed in the class, for a talk and she promptly responded. In a very charming manner she expressed her pleasure at being a member of the class. She received by far the most enthusiastic applause of the evening. After this several impromptu speeches were made, and ere long the banqueters departed, leaving behind them a waste of desolated dishes.
