Carolina Meets Her Old Rivals of the Dominion State

Posters distributed through the village announcing the fact that the return trip fare to Greensboro has been reduced to a dollar and a half have brought relief and satisfaction to the many Carolina students who are anticipating seeing the Carolina-Virginia game Saturday. Likewise comforting is the news that the team is hitting hard. Coach Doak thinks that the team is in excellent trim to meet the old rivals, and anyone who has watched practice for the last few days can notice the marked improvement in all departments of the game. The infield especially has made progress this week. Altogether, Carolina has the most promising prospects for a victory.

Greensboro is duly preparing for the occasion. The Greensboro Chamber of Commerce has scheduled, among other things, a dance for Saturday night. The game is being advertised throughout the surrounding country, and Greensboro is preparing for her largest crowd of the season. So to the game.

REWARDS FOR CHAMPIONS

Coach Trenchard Plans to Give Souvenir Emblems to Class Champions

Coach Trenchard has recently decided upon a plan to increase interest in class athletics. In addition to the class numerals now awarded to members of the championship class team, souvenir emblems, the exact nature of which has not yet been decided, will be given. The surplus proceeds from the high school championship games which are played here, will be used in purchasing these emblems. These souvenirs are to be awarded to the winning teams in all the branches of sports, football, baseball, basketball, etc. The plan is being heartily approved and should add a great deal of interest to class athletics.

Tentative plans are also being formed whereby the championship class baseball team shall play the high school champions of the state. The deciding game of the High School Championship will be played here and the proposed game is to take place the following day. If this plan is adopted and is successful, contests between the champions of the state and the classes, in the other sports will be held. Further details of the proposed plan will be given as soon as they are completed.

Prof. Zebulon Judd spoke at Calypso in Wayne County on April 2.

Dr. L. A. Williams will make the commencement address at Benson High School on April 20.

Dr. A. H. Patterson has recently been ill, but is rapidly recovering.

President of the Drama League of America Speaks

Dr. Richard Burton, of the University of Minnesota, president of the American Dramatic League, poet, essayist, and eminent lecturer, spoke in Gerrard Hall last Tuesday night on "Bernard Shaw, The Wittiest Man Alive".

According to Dr. Burton there are two Shaws; Bernard Shaw of the newspaper headlines, pictured as the witty autographer, and Shaw the serious-minded philosopher. His diabolical wit is a talent which takes many forms, accomplishing that most difficult task of pleasing that changeable monster, the public. His plays delight the brainless auditor and please the thoughtless patron, a thing few philosophers accomplish.

An unfortunate trait of Mr. Shaw's, Dr. Burton declared, was his use of the word "romance" in portraying sham. Often his real object is misunderstood on account of this. To illustrate this point several selections were given from his plays, "The Devil's Deciple" and "Arms and the Man".

Shaw is a socialist, being deeply interested in his fellowman. Ideas suggest in his plays twenty years ago, which terrified the people at that time, are generally practiced today.

On the other hand Shaw is a philosopher, firm in his belief that life forces should be joined for the promotion of humanity.

Immediately after the lecture a smoker was tendered Dr. Burton by Omega Delta which is affiliated with the American Dramatic League.

MR. W. W. WOLFE AT Y. M. C. A.

The Parable of Lazarus Applied to Modern Conditions

Mr. W. W. Wolfe from Union Theological Seminary of Richmond spoke in Gerrard Hall Tuesday night, April 7, on "Today's Rich Man and Lazarus." Mr. Wolfe first read the parable in the Bible on Lazarus and the Rich Man and then made applications of it to modern life. He was unusually direct and personal in his manner of speech. As an illustration of the need of service, Mr. Wolfe made the statement that more people go to bed hungry in India than go to make up the entire population of North America. In conclusion, he issued a call to the ministry as expressed through a call to service, and no one can be a true Christian without serving.

In Two Close Games Carolina an Amherst Share Honors

In the first game of the series with Amherst Carolina lost by the score of 3 to 1. Neither team played at its best on account of the slow and muddy field. Even at that Carolina out-hit her opponents with 6 hits to 4 for Amherst.

These hits were offset by errors, poor base running, and a wild pitch by Williams. The game would in all probability have been tied in the ninth had Hornig not attempted to come from second to home on a short single to the out-field. Patterson followed Hornig and singled to right. Pope, the next man up, drove one to the fence. All efforts by Coach Doak to tie the score failed after two men were down, as Pope's hit failed to score anyone.

Patterson led in the hitting with a double and a single. Pope and Goodrich each hit for two bases. Twelve of Carolina's men were left on bases while four of Amherst's died in the same place.

Second Game

The second game, which ended in a 2 to 1 victory for Carolina, was one of the prettiest pitching duels ever seen here. Each pitcher allowed four hits. Shields kept the hits of the visitors well scattered, while Goodridge allowed a hit at the wrong time. Goodridge, however, made a desperate effort to win his game. He secured a triple and a single out of four trips to the plate. Shields, besides pitching a great game, also secured a hit.

Outside the pitching the outstanding features of the game were the fast fielding of Bruce and Swasey. Bruce covered the whole side of the field on his

Teams Divide Honors in Two Games Easter Monday

Carolina divided honors on Easter Monday with Clancy's bunch of ball tossers at Winston. In the morning game the Twins triumphed four to two. Curry pitched and held the leaguers to six hits. Curry's teammates garnered eight hits but could not bunch them.

In the afternoon game Williams had the Twins eating from his hand. Whenever there was any danger, he tightened up and stopped all efforts towards a score. Incidentally, Carolina had a batting practice in the last game. The way they went after Couvey was a shame. When the smoke cleared away the Blue and White had checked up ten runs, while the Clancyites made one. Everyone took a hand in the swatfest. Bruce hit one over the fence with two on bases.
