CAROLINA AND VIRGINIA DIVIDE HONORS IN THE FIRST TWO GAMES

Carolina Comes Back for Victory in Durham After Losing First Game in Greensboro

Fate has decided to make the Carolina-Virginia game in Charlottesville the deciding contest of the season. Like a clever novelist she has decided to maintain suspense until next Monday when the third game of the series will be played on the grounds of the University of Virginia.

In an uninteresting game until the ninth inning the boys from the Old Dominion State beat Carolina by the score of 5 to 2. The crowd was one of the largest that has ever witnessed a baseball game between the two universities. The stands were full of those girls of whom Greensboro boasts—there are none prettier. The students from the Normal and the G. C. W. were on hand. Likewise a good share of Greensboro. About 500 Carolina students occupied one section of the bleachers and led by Mr. Frank Graham, rooted steadily for the team. The crowd was estimated to be about 5,000.

Shields went to the mound for Carolina, while Drummond did the hurling for the Orange and Blue. Virginia got busy at once and secured 5 hits in two and a third innings off Shields' delivery. Williams took up the burden in the third with the bases loaded and one man out. Thereafter Virginia had difficulty in scoring. The big boy had everything with him. His curves were breaking well and his usual amount of steam was not absent. After the third inning Virginia scored once in the sixth—that being the last time that they could push one around. The game settled down into a pitcher's battle between Williams and Drummond.

In the ninth Zollicoffer was safe at first on Drummond's error. Bailey hit for two bases and Zollicoffer was thrown out at third. Hardison went in to bat for Lewis and was out at first. Edgerton batting for Williams doubled and Bailey scored. Honig singled, scoring Edgerton. Pope went out third to first. Thus ended the rally and the game.

Carolina fielded steadily—making only one error, which was charged to Patterson. Later on Patterson fielded brilliantly. Drummond made Virginia's only error in the ninth. Patterson and Bailey led in the batting for Carolina. Each one got two hits. Honig, Bruce, Pope, Zollicoffer, and Edgerton also registered in the hit column.

Summary: Two-base hits, N. Smith, Stickle, Bruce, Bailey, Edgerton. Sacrifice hits, Bailey, Berkely, Phillips, Stickle. Base on balls, off Shields 2; off Williams 3; off Drummond 4. Struck out, Shields 1; Williams 6, Drummond 5. Wild pitch, Williams. Double play, Patterson, unassisted; Patterson to Bruce to Pope; Lewis to Patterson. Left on bases, Carolina 8, Virginia 7. First base on errors, Carolina, 1. Hits off Shields 5 in

2 1-3 innings; off Williams 4 in 6 2-3 innings. Time 2:05. Umpires Adkins and Sisson. Attendance, 5,000.

Carolina, with a changed batting order, gave Virginia the worst drabbing of the season in Durham Monday. Our boys went in to win, and the way they hit that ball was a shame.

However, the game was neither won nor lost by the skyward jaunt of Virginia. Three names tell the story—Woodall, Bruce, and Williams. Woodall and Bruce led in the hitting. Woody got three hits in three times up. Bruce followed with two doubles to his credit. Williams did not figure in the hit column at all. His work was on the mound.

Carolina fielded in great style, having only one error checked up against her. That error paved the way for one of Virginia's runs though. Curiously enough, Virginia earned just one run. Three of the runs came after Williams had walked a man. The next man secured a hit in each case. In the eighth Virginia scored one run on three clean hits. Williams tightened up again and all scoring stopped.

In the first inning Patterson failed to connect. Woody, next up, hit to the fence for three bases; Bruce followed with a double and Woodall scored.

In the third the bottom dropped out. Patterson walked, Woodall singled, then Bruce hit for two bags again, sending Pat and Woody across the plate. Before Virginia could settle three more runs had crossed the plate.

Virginia's coach sent Gammon in to relieve the Irishman. Gammon, by the way, is the same fellow who shut Carolina out in Durham last year. Gammon

Misses Lalla Rookh Fleming and Ethel Gray Gardner Win Out in High School Debating Contest

The third annual high school debating contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup was won last Friday night by Miss Lalla Rookh Fleming and Miss Ethel Gray Gardner, who composed the negative team of the Wilson High School. The query was "Resolved that the United States should adopt the policy of subsidizing its Merchant Marine engaged in foreign trade." Statesville had the affirmative and Wilson the negative side of the question. The Statesville team was composed of Mr. Stuart Lee Cowles and Mr. Henry Cowles Bristol.

In the first preliminary held in six affirmative and six negative sections on Thursday night, the following teams won out: On the affirmative; Lincolnton, Louisville, Manteo, Raleigh, Carthage, Burlington, Winston-Salem, Jamestown, Elise, Waynesville, Pinnacle, and Statesville; On the negative; Lincolnton, Lowe's Grove, Wilson, Cool Spring, Manteo, Raleigh, Carthage, Burlington, Lumberton, Black Mountain, Piedmont, and Hendersonville. Of especial interest is the unusual fact that so many schools won both sides of the debate; Raleigh, Manteo, Lincolnton, Carthage, and Burlington having this honor.

These twenty-four teams, twelve affirmative and twelve negative, competed in the second preliminary held Friday morning.

Miss Lalla Rookh Fleming is the daughter of Mr. C. M. Fleming, who is the manager of the Imperial Tobacco Company. Miss Ethel Gray Gardner is the daughter of Mr. J. W. Gardner, who is also in the tobacco business. Mr. Chester C. Harworth is the principal of the Wilson High School and Mr. C. L. Coon, superintendent. Mr. Harworth is himself a debater of note, being a graduate of Earlham College and having been captain of the debating team which won the championship of Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan in 1910.

Mr. Stewart Lee Cowles is the son of late Congressman W. H. H. Cowles of the eighth district. Mr. Henry Cowles Bristol is the son of Col. L. B. Bristol and grandson of the late Col. Henry Cowles. Mr. W. G. Harry is the principal of the Statesville High School and Mr. Matt Thompson, the superintendent.

The contest this year has been unusually large and interesting and exceptionally well handled. Great credit is due to Mr. E. R. Rankin and the Bureau of Extension for their enthusiastic and untiring efforts to make the contest a success.

The individual and collective ideals of college life are on the upward grade. In the last two Virginia games, at which were large numbers of students, there was no evidence of drinking or boisterous conduct. Enthusiasm and spirit were uncontained in a free and youthful way, both in the defeat and in the victory.

On account of the limited amount of space in this issue of The Tar Heel, the account of the Carolina-Wake Forest game has been carried over until next week.

Introduction of President Graham into office. Locke Craig, Governor of North Carolina.

Inaugural address. President Graham.

Greeting from: State universities. George H. Denning, President of the University of Alabama.

The colleges of the state. W. J. Martin, President of Davidson College.

The public schools. J. Y. Joyner, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The alumni. George Stephens, of Charlotte.

The student body. T. C. Boushall of the Senior Class.

The Faculty. L. P. McGhee of the School of Law.

University hymn. Benediction. Bishop Edward Rondthaler.

Music. Luncheon in Swain Hall.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, has been chosen to act as toastmaster at the luncheon to be served in Swain Hall at 2:15 o'clock. Short speeches will be made by distinguished guests present. Reception will be held in the gymnasium at 9 o'clock.
