BASEBALL PRACTICE SPEEDING UP DAILY

Coach Doak Getting Men Right for Oak Ridge Game Friday

With the first game of the season less than a week off the team is rapidly rounding into shape. The squad now consists of about 36 men. This number will be cut down later. The pitchers are going good and the hitting is steadily improving. The unfavorable weather conditions have held back the work somewhat.

Among the pitchers Cuthrell, Currie and Williams are showing up best. Plyler, Watkins, Powell and Coleman are also working well. For catcher Angel, Hart and Bennett are running a close race with the "odds even." At first base Hardison is holding down the bag in good shape. Love has been shifted from catcher to first and he and Lewellyn are both rapidly improving. At second Captain Patterson is playing his same steady game. Massey and Polk are also working at second. At third Mac Lewis is fielding splendidly and hitting well besides. Meyer is also playing a good game at third. At short, Royster, Huske and Herty are working about evenly with the odds on Royster. In the outfield Hubert Bailey is making enough circus catches to please the most rabid fan. Other outfielders who are showing up well are Wood, Barnes, Pippin, Self, Stewart and Pierson. Zollicoffer has not been out for the last two weeks on account of sickness.

The first game of the season will be Friday, March 17, with Oak Ridge.

N. C. Club Meets

"Elbow-Room for Homeseekers in North Carolina" was the subject of a paper read by Mr. G. H. Cooper, of Rowan county, at the regular meeting of the North Carolina Club Monday night. After showing that there is room in the State for 25,900 families in only five counties of the lower Cape Fear region, Mr. Cooper proceeded to show the social and economic results of such a move. "The high price of Western lands," he declared, "ought to be an incentive to farmers to move to this State. We need to advertise like Florida, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas."

Dr. Raper in New Orleans April 16-20

Dr. Charles Lee Raper, dean of the graduate school, has accepted an invitation to present a paper before the Superintendents' Conference at New Orleans April 16-20 on "The Next Steps to Secure the Revenue Needed for the Common Schools."

Dr. Raper has also been asked to make a report before the Southern Conference for Education and Industry at its meeting in New Orleans, April 16-20, on a plan for a permanent committee on tax education.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL HOPES TO HAVE 1000

Excellent Faculty Expected

That the Summer School here this summer will be a great success has been assured by the fact that the faculty will be composed of many of the best teachers of the State. With a few exceptions all of the teachers here now will do active work in the Summer School. Besides filling these few vacancies with capable men, other noted teachers will also be added. Some of those who will be here are Dr. J. F. Royster, English; Prof. W. C. McCall of Columbia University, Psychology; Miss Roger, Primary Methods; and Prof. D. D. Carroll, Economics.

The number attending the school will undoubtedly be unusually large. Though nothing definite is known now it is expected that the thousand mark will be reached. Last year the enrollment of 731 was considered very good. Should there be a thousand here, it would give the greatest increase in students the Summer School has ever enjoyed.

The courses to be given this year are about the same as those which were offered last year. The Educational courses will be one of the main features. They will be divided into many branches such as Story Telling, Plays and Games, and teaching in the lower grades. Courses in domestic

35 OUT FOR SPRING PRACTICE

Coach Campbell Getting His Material in Shape Early

The squad is working hard to get in shape for the final game at Richmond next—No! Wait a minute! March 10? Yes. Spring practice? Yes. Then the tone of the article had better be changed. But one could easily imagine that it was the first of November, if he strolled out to the grove to watch the spring football squad practice.

This is Carolina's first experience with spring training. It is entirely new and is bringing new results. There are 35 or more candidates now in training and a number of others are waiting for uniforms. Every available piece of football equipment is now in use. One of the most important results of the practice thus far, is the large number of men who have never come out for football before. There is promising material in some of these new recruits.

The nature of the practice so far has been punting, catching passes, running, light line scrimmaging, running interference, tackling the dummy, and various peculiar forms of muscle developing exercise. Later on the squad will have regular scrimmage practice.

Dr. H. W. Chase will deliver the commencement lecture at Pilot Mountain, April 20.

DR. WOODBRIDGE DELIVERS McNAIR LECTURES

on the Pluralism and History

"History is like a line in the drawing; so much of it as has been drawn we may call past and that which has not yet been drawn we may call future," was the statement of Professor Woodbridge in the second of the McNair lectures, March 4, on "The Pluralism of History."

Dr. Woodbridge then explained that the present was not the middle point of the line, nor can any time be the middle point of the line. The point never moves forward, but always moves backwards as we learn more of the past. The past, present and future are not like parts of a whole into which an absolute or complete time is divided; they are but derivations of a time process.

Continuing, the speaker said: "Every history is a particular career in the development of which some facts, persons, and events have been more significant than others, so that the termination of the career at any time is like an end that has been reached or a consequence to which its antecedents are appropriated. That is the sense in which history is purposeful and selective. The results reached at any time are such as complete those which have gone before, for each career is the producer, not the product of the past. From the selective character of history it follows that there is no single complete history of anything. There are many histories, so that we are led to say that history is pluralistic."

"Absolutely considered the history of man cannot claim pre-eminence over the history of the stars. But none the less the history of man is unique and must be interpreted in human terms. Man only is the writer of histories, so that historical comprehension becomes the significant trait of human history. To live

ALL CLASS QUINT PICKED

Coach Doak Selects Two Squads; Others Mentioned

The following men have shown up well in the class basketball series which ended a couple of weeks or more ago. It falls to my lot to pick an all class team. I have thought it best to divide the material into two teams.

They are as follows:
Shepherd forward Jewett
Tennent forward Armstrong
Fitzsimmons center Cowan
Hutchins guard Clarvoe
F. Patterson guard H. Patterson
Special mention should be made of the fact that several other men played well; namely, Hodges, Cuthbertson, Perry, Lynch, Bryant, Gwyn, Pell, Sawyer, Isley, and Kendrick.

Coach Doak.

DURHAM WINS STATE H. S. BASKETBALL CUP

21 to 20 as Whistle Blows

A plucky fighting spirit coupled with the ability to throw long field goals when in a tight place enabled the Durham High School basketball quint to defeat Winston-Salem at the gym Friday night, 21 to 20, thereby winning the state high school basketball championship. At the end of the first half the score stood 7 to 7. In the second half Durham managed to get a lead of 15 to 11 when Winston ran its score to 19. Durham tied Whaling's foul placed Winston in the lead by one point. Winston, Durham's right forward, shot the winning goal as the whistle blew.

The outstanding star of the game was Billy Carmichael, left forward for Durham. He was in every play and piled up to his credit thirteen of Durham's points, five fouls and four goals. Eustace Whaling, left forward, lead the scoring for Winston, shooting eight out of twelve fouls.

The teams were evenly matched and at no time during the game were there any odds in favor of either quint.

LIFE AT PLATTSBURG

College Men Particularly Are Desired At Summer Camps

"Most of the men who attended the Plattsburg Camp went there because of patriotic impulses," declared Professor J. M. Booker in an illustrated lecture on "Life at Plattsburg" Tuesday night. Dr. Booker told of his own experiences at Plattsburg, declaring that all who attended found life there highly enjoyable and profitable. He said the originators and promoters of the camp especially desired to reach college men, for they are most easily trained, with a purpose of instilling in them obedience, patriotism, discipline, and a rudimentary knowledge of army manners and tactics.

The executive committee of the local National Security League has appointed Dean Stacy, Prof. Wagstaff, and Dr. Booker to award the Frothingham scholarship to Ft. Oglethorpe. Character and intelligence coupled with inability to go without help will be considered. Applications are to be in the hands of the committee by April 15.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HAS ITS FIRST BANQUET

Reorganizes Boo-Boo Club, Christens Freshmen, and Hears Speakers

On Saturday night, March 4, the class of 1918 enjoyed its first banquet. Swain Hall was bedecked with orange and black and every Soph enjoyed himself immensely. President Bryant presided as Toastmaster and called upon Dr. Mangum, Dr. Dey and Professor Cobb. Dr. Mangum spoke on "Athletics," the one-year rule being emphasized. Dr. Dey spoke on "Closer Relationship between the Students and the Faculty," and Professor Cobb on "Vocational Training." The speakers from the class were C. L. Snider on "Matters of Moment," A. C. Oettinger on "The Twofold Duty of the Class," and William Bailey on "Class Loyalty." After a delightful meal the class adjourned to gather around a bonfire at the well.

Dr. Chas. Mangum spoke on "Athletics at Carolina."

In substance his theory was as follows: Our adoption of the one year rule will greatly effect the athletic life of Carolina in the future. All colleges must eventually come to realize that such a rule is necessary to develop clean college athletics. The chief end of college athletics is not to gather together but to develop the strongest team possible to represent the college. This new policy may weaken next year's teams, but the weakening is only immediate. In the long run our teams will be stronger and more successful than ever before.

"There are men who develop to a degree of efficiency which almost enables them to make the team. But at this point other men come in to temporarily strengthen the weak places. The almost developed man is put aside for the man who plays a year and then leaves college. The team may have been stronger as a unit for that season, but what about next year? The man who almost made the team has been put aside. There was no opportunity for him to develop further so he lost interest. There is a vacancy to be filled. Any temporary strengthening of this vacancy is a short-sighted policy. The man who comes to college just to play ball—if there be such—will take into consideration the one year rule. The man who comes to play ball as a part of his college career will not bother about such a restriction."
