BASKETBALL LEAGUE WILL BE ORGANIZED

SIX CLASS TEAMS TO PLAY SERIES OF GAMES BEFORE CHRISTMAS

MUCH MATERIAL TO WORK ON

Old Commons Hall Fitted Up With Showers, Lockers and Dressing Room for Players—First Practice Monday

Varsity and class basketball will be run on a new plan this year. Coach Peacock has worked out a system which will insure a stronger varsity team and a far more interesting class season.

There will be six teams—representing the four academic and two law classes. Any man may play on his respective class team whether he has played varsity ball or not. These teams will follow a regular schedule for both practicing and playing class games. In case the class teams are not balanced enough to make the league interesting a readjustment will be made and class distinction broken down.

Starting December 1, a series of interclass games will be played and this will be the general nature of the period from December 1 to Christmas vacation. The schedule will be announced in next week's Tar Heel.

During this league Coach Peacock will watch the prospective varsity players—and select as soon as possible a team to which he will give special coaching in addition to that received in the regular practices or league games. These players will be selected finally for the varsity squad and withdrawn from the league teams at the beginning of January. The remaining players will then form into their respective class teams and play the regular inter-class series for the class championship.

Old Commons Hall has been cleared out and put in shape for basket ball and it is there that most of the basket ball activities will be centered this fall. A set of shower baths, lockers and an adequate dressing room will be fitted up immediately.

There will be no lack of players this season. Raby Tennent, Captain; Tandy; Scruggs, Jewitt, (Continued on Page Six)

CAROLINA-10, DAVIDSON-6

IN A CLOSELY CONTESTED GAME PRESBYTERIANS KEEP TAR HEELS ON DEFENSE

Favored by the breaks in a game in which they were continually outplayed Carolina won from Davidson at Winston last Saturday 10-6.

During the first quarter Davidson opened Carolina's line again and again and Burns was able to gain repeatedly. A fumble by Burns on University's eight yard line probably prevented a score. Fumbles were frequent by both teams.

No scoring was done in the first three quarters, neither team coming within striking distance again until the last quarter, when, having recovered a fumble well into the collegians' territory, Tandy kicked a field goal from the 25-yard line.

Carolina kicked off, and after an exchange of punts Carolina recovered the ball on her 40-yard line. On the first play Folger broke through the line and ran 60-yards for a touchdown. Davidson received, and on the third play Flowers caught a long pass from Lawson and ran 55 yards for (Continued on Page Six)

RECEPTION GIVEN GLEE CLUB BY SALEM GIRLS

The Glee Club gave its first performance at Salem College on Friday night. The program was begun by the chorus, who sang, "Hark the Sound," which was followed by orchestra string band, mandolins, quartet, and Hawaiian numbers. Every number was encored several times, and it was only with great difficulty that Director J. Earl Harris was able to leave the stage, after rendering several piano selections.

After the performance the club was given a reception by the seniors of the college, which was highly enjoyed by every member of the club.

The club remained in Winston on Saturday to witness the Carolina Davidson football game and returned to the Hill on Sunday.

Those who made the trip are as follows: Pace, Martin, Howell, Travis, Lupfert, Green, Lashmit, S. Travis, Harris, Wimberley, Lindsey, Stephenson, Dalton, Rondthaler, Parker, Poag, Prince, Spough, Brinson, Kinlaw, Thompson, Jordan and Hartshorn.

LYCEUM FOR RURAL SCHOOLS IN OPERATION

The Y. M. C. A. lyceum for rural Sunday schools, which was recently instituted by the Education Department headed by Marion Fowler, gave its first lectures on Monday night at Rankin's Chapel and at Mt. Carmel with a good attendance at both places.

It is the purpose of the lyceum department to give weekly lectures at each of the seven rural Sunday schools, with which the Y. M. C. A. is connected, in place of the moonlight schools which were held last year. These lectures will be delivered by members of the faculty, who will speak on such subjects as public and private health, farm economics, and methods of education.

CAROLINA-FURMAN GAME ON EMERSON FIELD TODAY

VISITING TEAM LIGHTER THAN TAR HEEL—BUT PROMISE STIFF OPPOSITION

"The Furman eleven, though playing a scrappy game and even at times showing a willingness to do and dare—at no time had a look in." This is the summary of the Furman-Georgia game last Saturday according to the State Columbia.

Compared with Carolina the Furman team is considerably lighter and for that reason is not expected to offer a very stiff opposition. It is probable that many of the second strong men will get a chance to show what they can do, while the many back field and end candidates will have a chance to show their ability.

Furman is sure to put up a stiff enough defense to prove interesting. It has played good ball all season—but mostly with teams out of its class. According to comparative scores Carolina should win by four touchdowns.

Line-up:

Carolina	Furman
Love	Wood
L. E.
Taylor	Jeter
L. T.
Grimes	Shirley
L. G.
Tandy	Payne
C.
Herrell	Carson
R. G.
Ramsey	Shirley
R. T.
Proctor	Varnadoe
R. E.
Johnson	McManaway
Q. B.
Bellamy	Speer
L. H.
Tennent	Gressette
R. H.
Folger	West
F. B.

The game will be played on Emerson Field at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

EXPERIMENTAL GARDEN FOR BOTANY STUDENTS

To gather together all of the 248 varieties of North Carolina shrubs into one small plot is Dr. W. C. Coker's aim in clearing and digging up the vacant field back of the Peabody building. This field is not to be converted into a new arboretum, as one would suppose who has noticed its carefully laid off walks and orderly rows of plants. It is Dr. Coker's purpose to plant one half of the plot in the different shrubs of the state and to use the other half as an experimental ground for the students of the botany department.

The field has been in cultivation for the past two summers, but on account of lack of time Dr. Coker has not been able to advance very rapidly with the work. However, he intends to begin collecting his shrubs as soon as possible.

"Liquid music, my son, is—er—well, it must be the kind that comes from a kettle drum."—Judge.

BIG DANCE AT GYM TONIGHT

GIVEN BY THE FRATERNITIES COMPLIMENTARY TO THE VISITING TEAM

"—A speckled puppy is one of the most beautiful things in this world," he was saying, "but I've never seen one that had anything on you." He was getting inspired. "Moreover, I'd eat out of your hand anytime. I—I—"

"I believe you're kidding. Stop it, I don't—"

"No, I'm not. I, ah" he scratched his head—what was he saying? "say, you know Carolina is going to play Furman next Saturday. Yes. And after the game there's a dance. They say it will be a swell affair—full dress."

"Yes, I suppose it will."

"I thought I'd go—been working hard you know—need some diversion."

"Yes, yes, go on—"

"And I want you to come over."

There. He'd said it, anyhow, and he had resolved to give up all pleasures and be a grind, after seeing his last report. He'd figured on catching up and getting 'way ahead while his companions danced and had Pickwick parties and (Continued on Page Six)

75 MEN ENTER CLASS TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The class tennis tournament, which entered about 75 men, shows that more interest is being taken in tennis this year than has ever been taken before. Though there are twelve courts, it is a rarity to see one vacant. This tournament has only begun, so nothing can be officially announced as to the winners of the various classes. Those who have been showing up especially well are: L. H. Harvey and W. S. Arrasmith of the Freshman class; W. C. Feinster of the Sophomore class; Quinn and E. A. Griffin of the Junior class; and E. J. Perry and M. H. Revel of the Senior class. With so large a number out for tennis, new material should be found which will pave the way for better tennis in the future.

Holmes Herty, C. H. Combs, J. B. Hester and H. V. Wilson, who make up our varsity team, have proved themselves too great a match for anyone with whom they have played so far. They expect to have a return game with Raleigh Country Club from whom they won two weeks ago.

BILLY STEELE LEADS Y. M. C. A. DISCUSSION

Billy Steele led the weekly Y. M. C. A. discussion meeting, Tuesday night. His subject was, "The Morning Watch."

He very interestingly outlined a good plan for the Morning Watch, and showed the advantages that a man may get from a few moments devoted each day to the study of the Bible.

"Such men as David and Isaac," he said, "and men like Lee in later times were careful followers of the Morning Watch."

DR. J. A. MacDONALD OF TORONTO CANADA

DELIVERS SERIES OF INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE LECTURES ON

"THE NORTH AMERICAN IDEA"

Defining it as, "The Right of a Free People to Govern Themselves"—Lectures Characterized by Striking Statements

"In that wider sweep of the world life, and in that farther sweep of the world mind, the North American Idea shall find itself and have its chance." With this striking assertion James A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, opened the second series of lectures on American Citizenship under the Weil Foundation in Gerrard Hall Wednesday night. Dr. McDonald's resourceful vigor and energetic manner kept at all times the undivided attention of his audience. The subject of the first lecture was, "The North American Idea in the American Republic."

"It is in the United States and in Canada," he said, "that the North American Idea has had its opportunity. The American Republic and Canadian Dominion agree in this; they each gave a chance to the released and irrepressible idea of freedom, the idea which disturbed the autocracies of Europe and began their overthrow long before America played any part in the history of the world.

"Mexico, indeed, shares in the geography of North America but not in its idea. The people of Mexico have not come to their own in the North American inheritance of democratic self-government. The North American Idea as yet finds no directing and controlling place in the Mexican mind.

"The two North American democracies, then, are Europe's second chance. And North America's real title to greatness must be read in the light which these two nations, each in its own way, and both together in their common internationalism, give back to the fatherlands and motherlands, not of our peoples alone, but of our ideals of freedom and our principles (Continued from Page Two)
