TAR HEEL TOSSERS TROUNCE V. M. I. FIVE

CADETS PLAY FAST AND CLEAN GAME—AND FINISH WITH STRONG OFFENSIVE

REAL EXHIBITION OF TEAM WORK

Team Leaves for Five-Day Trip Thru Virginia—Schedule Includes Virginia, Washington and Lee, V. M. I. and V. P. I.

Carolina finished up the first part of the season in fine style last Thursday night when the strong V. M. I. team went down before the superior passing and shooting of the home quint.

The game started with a rush and for a few moments it seemed as if the two teams were pretty evenly matched. However, after McDuffie, assisted by Raby, had secured the first goal while in mid air, the visiting team lost hold and for the rest of the first period things went right for the White and Blue. No bounds were observed in the first half, and at times the play was rough, but fast and snappy.

It would be hard to feature any particular individual for the game was a real exhibition of team work. Every man fell into his place on both the offensive and defensive. The goals secured were not spectacular.

McDuffie and Shepard went better than they have hitherto gone. The close guarding of the Carolina defense men and Grandin's roving work kept the ball at the Tar Heel end of the floor most of the time, and even when by speedy team work the Virginians managed to get the horsehide within striking distance, poor shooting prevented a score. Fumbles by both teams kept the play rather slow at stages of the game, but was of no real importance as far as the result was concerned, for the aggressive floor work of the two quints kept the

DR. W. L. POTEAT SPEAKS HERE SUNDAY EVENING

"The Thirty Silent Years" is the theme of Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest, who speaks in Gerrard Hall at 7 P. M. The first thirty years of Christ's life have always formed a subject of intense interest to all students of history. Dr. Poteat's lecture on this subject is said to be intensely interesting and suggestive.

This lecture forms the initial part of the program of the Religious Meetings Department of the Y. M. C. A. for this spring. It was deemed advisable not to have the usual intensive meetings immediately after exams. Instead there will be at intervals of about three weeks, a visiting lecturer. After his lecture the subsequent Tuesday night meetings will be given over to faculty and students speakers on questions suggested by him. Discussion groups will be formed in all the dormitories and in the town for the purpose of thrashing out the questions raised in these meetings.

Sunday evening, these groups will meet a few moments after the lecture and form plans for the ensuing meetings.

UPPER CLASS HONOR MEN

LEAD CLASSES

Only Names of Ten Students in Each Class Making the Highest Grades for Work of Past Semester

The students in the sophomore, junior, and senior classes who made the highest average in their studies during the Fall term were announced this week by Registrar Wilson. All the students whose names appear in the list made an average of "2" or over on their term's work.

The senior class was led by A. M. Lindau, of Greensboro; the junior class by F. B. John, of Laurinburg; the sophomore class by J. C. Eaton and W. C. Eaton, of Winston-Salem, who tied for first place.

The ten students in each class receiving the highest grades are given below. The names are arranged in the order of excellence, except that, in the case of those whose average is the same, the names are arranged in alphabetical order and bracketed together.

SENIORS

1. A. M. Lindau, Greensboro, N. C.
2. H. G. Baity, Harmony, N. C.
3. Blackwell Markham, Durham, N. C.
- Oliver Rand, Smithfield, N. C.
4. J. G. Eldridge, Bentonsville, N. C.

Y. M. C. A. OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR NOMINATED

At the regular meeting Tuesday night, the nominating committee of the Y. M. C. A. named the following candidates:

W. T. Steele, for president, W. R. Wunsch, for vice-president, W. H. Stephenson, for secretary, T. E. Rondthaler, for treasurer.

The meeting next Tuesday night will be open for general nominations for these offices. Election will be held the following Tuesday night, March 6.

LATIN-AMERICAN CLUB MEETS

The Latin-American Club held its semi-monthly meeting on Monday night in the history seminar with a good attendance. R. W. Madry opened the meeting with a paper on lands and products, in which he discussed the increasing value of real estate and natural products in the various countries of Latin-America. A general discussion by members of the club then followed.

"What are you studying now?" asked Mrs. Johnson.

"We have taken up the subject of molecules," answered her son.

"I hope you will be very attentive and practice constantly," said the mother. "I tried to get your father to wear one, but he could not keep it in his eye."—Kansas City Star.

"I noticed you got up and gave your seat to a lady in the street car the other day."

"Yes, since childhood I have always respected a woman with a strap in her hand."

CLASS ATHLETICS NOW ON THE UPWARD ROAD

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF NEW SYSTEM READY TO BE PUT IN ACTION

CONTEST ENDS WITH TUG-OF-WAR

Coach Campbell Calls Together Committee Composed of Class Representatives and Members of Faculty

In accordance with the new class athletic system, basket-ball will start on Friday, 23. It is the plan of the managing committee to conclude the basket-ball series within a week's time. To do this it will be necessary to play two games each afternoon of the week beginning with Friday.

The seniors will play the sophomores, and the juniors will play the freshmen at the opening of this series. The contest is to be handled on a regular percentage basis; and, in case of a tie, it will be decided by an extra game. The winner of this series is to receive three points; the next contestant two; and the third, one point.

Baseball will be conducted in the same manner—the team with the highest percentage receiving eight points; second place, four; and third place, two.

Track, however, will be decided on a slightly different basis, although the mile, half, and quarter will be decided as usual. That is, the order in which the contestants cross the tape will be averaged, and the class with the best average wins the event and thereby scoring one point. Each class must enter three men in each event. In the case of the 100 yd. dash, the 220 yd. dash and the

NEW POWER HOUSE NEAR COMPLETION

Professor Coker's new arboretum will have a hard rival for the honor of beautifying the valley behind the Peabody building, for the Power House which is now nearing completion is quite a pretentious affair. The red brick, and white trimmings will about take the cake for recent decorations on the campus. While the contractor and the architect did not necessarily mean the power station to be exactly a thing of beauty, still it will probably be that and also a joy forever. At least the heat and light it is guaranteed to furnish the present dwellers on the campus and their immediate and remote successors to seats of glory in and about U. N. C., will cause joy to flow in rivers.

The station was begun sometime last summer, and will be finished "sometime soon," a phrase which is to be considered in the same class with the "somewhere in France" which our weekly pictorials use with such frequency. When it is finally completed there will no doubt be terraces about it and "Keep off the Grass" signs, which will be observed in the usual way. The gradual rise of the smokestack has been the most interesting part of the operation to most of the spec-

REV. F. M. JOHNSON HERE

DELIVERS UNIVERSITY SERMON
IN GERRARD HALL

"Man in His Daily Work is Turning Stone Into Bread" is Theme of Speaker—Conference Held During First of Week

Rev. F. M. Johnson, Bishop Co-adjutor of Missouri, preached the University sermon last Sunday in Gerrard Hall. The Bishop impressed the people of Chapel Hill with his big self and his still bigger personality.

Sunday morning Bishop Johnson took as his text St. Luke IV, 3-4. "Man in his daily work is turning stones into bread. Whether he be engaged in commerce, manufacture, mining, or statesmanship, his aim is to turn stones into bread. Six days were given by God for turning stones into bread and God has blessed man in his work. It is man's duty to do his work on every day of the six as much as it is his duty to reverence God on the day He has set apart for worship. A point that one should observe, however, is that man must reverence and see God all through the six days of his labor, and not put on his Sunday reverence as he would draw on a garment.

"Man should turn stones into bread: it is his duty. Our Saviour refused to do so at Satan's word, because it was then not his duty. He had been a worker and knew

YACKETY-YACK GOES TO PRESS THIS WEEK

Differing from last year's book in many new features, particularly in the comic cartoons of Seniors the 1917 Yackety Yack went to press this week and will appear on the campus in about a month. Editor Patton and his staff are optimistic in the belief that this year's annual will be the best yet. The size of the book will be practically the same as that of last year but it will have a limp roycroft cover. A snappy bunch of cartoons has been contributed by Russel Henderson. The dedication of the book will be announced later.

Tau Kappa Alpha initiated Saturday night Howard Sharpe and Marion Ross, who represented us in debate against George Washington University in December.

The Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society held its 228th meeting Tuesday evening in Chemistry Hall. Mr. Collier Cobb gave an illustrated lecture on "Recent Changes in Currituck Sound." Mr. H. H. Williams spoke on "The Philosophy of Science."

"What a lot of baby-food there are these days!"

"Yes, it is a wise child that knows his own fodder these times."—Life.

Hokus—"So you believe in signs, eh? Well, when a man is always making new friends, what is that a sign of?"

Pokus—"It's likely to be a sign that his old friends have found him out."

ROYAL FESTIVE BOARD WELCOMES MEN OF '17

BRILLIANT BANQUET HELD AT SWAIN HALL BY THE GRADUATING CLASS

MUSIC AND FOOD WOO 1917

Hanford, Brown, and Campbell on Speech Program—Ramsey, Erwin and Sharpe Respond in True Seventeen Spirit

The annual banquet of the senior class was held last Friday night in Swain Hall beginning at nine-thirty. The banquet was the largest class banquet in years—the number present being eighty-four. The menu follows:

Chilled Grape-fruit au Cognac
Amandes Sales
Pim Olas Celeri Glace
Poulet a la King
Petit Pois
Filet de Boeuf au Diable
Pomme de Terre au Gratin
Salade Aspereges
Mayonnaise
Glace au Napolitan
Cafe Noir

Petits Pains Beaten Biscuits
Cigars Cigarettes

Mr. Oliver Rand, president of the class, was toastmaster. Guests were Dr. Hanford, Dr. Brown, and Mr. Campbell. Their after dinner speeches were humorous as well as timely. Mr. Hanford played upon the emotions of those present by a very vivid ghost story and told other interesting stories. Mr. Brown and Mr. Campbell were equally enjoyable.

The student speakers were Graham Ramsey, Sam Erwin, and Sharpe, and a host of others. The play was around one spot for a good part of the game—namely the art of asking the blessing with the most amusing examples—the most memorable of which was on "Muck" Williams, who was said to have performed at the Summer school (very hurriedly of course)

MANY NEW BOOKS RECEIVED BY LIBRARY

The library is receiving new books daily and in order to call the attention of those who do not "hang around" the library enough to get a chance at them it is our intention to review some of them from time to time.

One of the cleverest playwrights of today is J. M. Barrie. His popularity has long since been proven by the success of Peter Pan, A Kiss for Cinderella and The Little Minister, in England as well as in New York. A book called Half Hours of J. M. Barrie has just arrived. It contains four short plays Pantaloon, The Twelve Pound Look, Rosalind, and The Will. They are very up-to-date and I am afraid Nietzsche would say they are decadent. The characters are strikingly human, and, despite that the hero and heroine do not speak in one whole play, one becomes just as well acquainted with them as with Mr. Pickwick and Barney Pitts, both of whom spoke all the time. The phantasy—Pantaloon—is exquisite if the imagination amend it. To appreciate it thoroughly one
