

TAR HEELS WIN GAME IN LAST EIGHT MINUTES

outclassed the Orange and Blue was something of a surprise for fans who have been following the game closely for the past few weeks, for in scarcely any department did the Charlottesville team measure up to the Carolina ability.

"In passing, the Tar Heels had decidedly the best argument, and the same was true in following up tries for goals. This aggressive policy netted the 'Downhomers' several well-earned scores.

"Virginia left Carolina unguarded for three or four open shots, while the Tennent brothers kept a close watch on the Virginia forwards, a fact that is proven by only one goal being credited to the Orange and Blue forwards."

Carolina scored first from a foul goal, but the advantage was short lived for it was soon offset by a similar score by Virginia, and then a goal by Ingle put them three points to the good. Soon the score was four all, then five to four for Carolina, and then Ingle caged another, making it 6 to 5 for Virginia. Carolina forged ahead toward the end of the first half, and the whistle blew for the period with the score 13 to 10, in favor of the Tar Heels.

The last half was the most exciting and contained brilliant play by both teams. The Carolina team simply ran the Virginians down, and blinded them with fast passing.

Shepard and McDuffie secured goals apiece and worked the team well. Grandin at center got the tip-off on his man and played a good passing game, keeping free of his man and working for openings for the ball.

After the last tie, which came near the end of play, Carolina got the jump and quickly ran the score up, Virginia continuing their hard playing, but showing a loss of effectiveness.

About five hundred people saw the game, including many girls from Randolph Macon, Sweet Briar, and Virginia Christian College.

W. AND L. 40—CAROLINA 23

Fast playing by the Washington and Lee quint, and the ability of May and Young, forwards, to locate the basket, cost the Tar Heels their first defeat on the trip, and gave the Generals a claim to the championship of Virginia, Carolina having defeated V. P. I., Virginia, and V. M. I., candidates for this honor.

While the defeated team worked hard, and threatened at times to run in the lead it was evident after the beginning of the second half, that the Generals had a strong enough defensive and offensive to maintain a margin over the visitors.

The work of May, Young and Adams stood out most for the winning quint, while Shepard for Carolina, was the chief basketer, scoring five field goals against Pierotti, captain and left guard for Washington and Lee.

V. M. I. 47—CAROLINA 34

In a game marked by rapid scoring of both teams V. M. I. came back strong in the second game against Carolina and won by a 47 to 34 score on their home court.

The Tar Heels did not seem able to solve the plan of attack offered by the Cadets and were handicapped from the start by a ten point lead.

Near the end of the second half Carolina challenged the V. M. I. margin by several goals in quick succession, but V. M. I. swung back into the lead near the close of the game by scoring three field goals.

Marshall and Hock of the winning team were the substantial scorers, securing ten and eight goals respectively.

McDuffie and Shepard found the basket for seven and four goals but the shooting of Marshall and Hock offset their scoring.

V. P. I. 30—CAROLINA 22

With a lead of one point over V. P. I. on their home court Wednesday night and only five minutes to play, Carolina became disorganized when Raby Tennent left the game with a broken nose, and lost to the Cadets by the score of 30 to 22.

"PEPSI-Cola" — that's what old Mr. Sun hates to hear a fellow say 'cause he knows how fast that tall, dewy, "ice-berg" glass chases thirst.

Pepsi — tangy — tasty — bracing — cooling — as a breeze off the polar bears' playgrounds (it certainly does make summer quit bothering you).

Try it — say "PEPSI-Cola" at any fount — or tell the grocer and he will leave a case of two dozen bottles to make the evenings happier.

SURVEY FORSYTH COUNTY STARTED BY UNIVERSITY

The work of making a complete social and economic survey of Forsyth County, a complete industrial survey of Winston-Salem, and a complete survey of the schools of the city and county, has been commenced by the experts in the various departments of the University. This work has been made possible by the Forsyth County Alumni Association, and its purpose is to make Forsyth County and Winston-Salem types of studies in economic problems for the Piedmont section of the State. The result of this important work will not only be an accurate knowledge of conditions in Forsyth (which is necessarily the first step toward improvement) but will also be an example for investigations in other cities and counties.

Dr. Williams has already commenced a survey of the schools of Winston, with respect to buildings, financial support, teaching corps, and methods of administration. A similar survey of the county school is being made, and recommendations as to needs and ways of meeting them and the general results of the study will be printed and distributed.

Dr. Branson is making a thorough and extensive research into the industrial and especially the agricultural conditions in Forsyth County. Both the city and the county economic and sociological problems are being considered. Much of the data has been compiled by Messrs. J. Tucker Day, R. G. Stockton, William Wright, Wilson Dalton, and D. Hill Carlton, students of the University from Forsyth. Dr. Branson is making a series of visits to farms and dairies personally.

Dr. Raper is conducting an investigation especially with regard to civic and business conditions in Winston.

The result of the survey will be published in a bulletin, "Forsyth County, Economic and Social," which will be distributed free to the citizens. Dr. Branson will write a summary of the conditions in the closing chapters, entitled "Where Forsyth Leads," "Where Forsyth Lags," and "The Way Out."

In the progress of the survey, which, because of its extent, will consume some time, Dr. Branson, Dr. Williams, and Dr. Raper will make several visits to Winston and the surrounding county. Dr. Branson has already visited the city and delivered interesting and useful addresses on two occasions.

Beginning Sunday morning, Rev. R. Maynard Marshall, formerly of Charleston, S. C., but more recently of Clemson College, will be the minister of the Episcopal Parish here.

Having taken his B. A. from the College of Charleston, Rev. Marshall later attended the University of the South where he received the degree of B. D. Since entering the ministry he has served at Rock Hill, S. C., Charleston, S. C., and Clemson College. That he has a great capacity for work is shown by the fact that in addition to his work with the boys, Rev. Marshall carried four churches. He will bring here to live his wife, Mrs. Harriot Simons Marshall, a son, and a daughter.
