SIXTY-ONE STUDENTS ATTAIN HONOR GRADES

ONE-FOURTH OF SENIOR CLASS
EXCELS IN SCHOLARSHIP—
SOPHS AND JUNIORS TIE

18 FRESHMEN ON FALL TERM LIST

That nineteen Seniors, or approximately one-fourth of the whole Senior class, averaged a "2" or better on their studies for the past fall term was the most unusual feature of the announcement of the honor grades this week. Sixty-one students attained an average grade of "2" or over, the list including eighteen Freshmen, twelve Sophomores, twelve Juniors and nineteen Seniors.

J. L. Cook, of Winston-Salem, and Miss M. C. Carson, of Asheville, led the whole University with averages of "1."

Winston-Salem and Charlotte are represented by six men each on this honor roll, Asheville and Chapel Hill have five each, Durham has three, Raleigh and Gastonia two each, and Greensboro one. One of the senior honor men comes from Japan. Of the Freshmen, five come from private preparatory schools and the other thirteen from high schools in the State. Co-eds are well represented, and in the Senior class the first and third places go to women.

The following members of this year's Freshman class of the University have made the roll of honor—a grade of 2 or better on all classes for the fall term: (1 is highest grade, 2 next highest, etc.)

- C. D. Beers, Asheville High School, (first). Av. . . . .1.25
- H. A. Patterson, Chapel Hill High School, (first) Av. . . .1.25
- W. H. Bobbitt, Charlotte H. School (second). Av. . . . .1.4 (Statesville, N. C., home)
- W. L. Blythe, Huntersville H. School, (third). Av. . . . .1.5
- J. G. Tucker, Plymouth H. School, (third). Av. . . . .1.5
- T. J. Wilson, 3rd, Chapel H. School, (third). Av. . . . .1.5
- W. A. Gardner, Wilson H. School. Average. . . . .1.6
- W. R. Berryhill, Dixie H. School. Average. . . . .1.75
- C. T. Boyd, Gastonia H. School. Average. . . . .1.75
- Miss M. L. Cobb, Chapel Hill and Fassiferu. Average. . . .1.75
- W. S. Justice, Episcopal H. School, Va. Average. . . . .1.75
- J. D. Shaw, Woodberry Forest School. Average. . . . .1.75
- C. L. G. Ashby, Elizabeth City H. S. Average. . . . .1.8 (Raleigh, N. C., home)
- R. G. Coker, Woodberry Forest School. . . . .2
- W. W. Hagood, Charlotte Univ. School. Average. . . .2
- J. J. Hankins, Winston-Salem H. S. Average. . . . .2
- J. T. Penney, Charlotte H. School. Average. . . . .2
- W. B. Smoot, Salisbury H. School. Average. . . . .2

Several Changes to be Made in Yackety Yack

To be a Military Number—Individual Instead of Group Pictures—Humor and Snap Shots to be Scattered Thruout—Good Annual is Promised

Work on the Yackety Yack has been forging ahead since the publication of an annual for this year was definitely decided upon by the business managers several weeks ago. The book will be practically the same size of last year's annual, however several less important sections will be eliminated; for instance, there will be no separate department of humor. There will be ready places throughout the annual for jokes and witticisms, also for kodak pictures, snap-shots, and the like.

This year's Yackety Yack will be the first war number and the military side of college work is to be the dominant feature of the annual. The Yackety Yack will consist of five separate books. Classes, professional schools, activities, military and athletics, organizations.

The arrangement of the pictures of the fraternities and a great many of the organizations will be by individual photographs instead of the usual group pictures which have been used in the past. This arrangement has necessitated a separate photograph of every man who belongs to any of the organizations represented in the annual, and

TEAM IS AWAY ON TRIP TO PLAY FOUR STRONG QUINTS

COMPARATIVE "DOPE" SHOWS
GOOD CHANCE FOR SOUTHERN CHAMPIONSHIP

With a good chance of winning the Southern Basketball championship and a fighting determination to avail themselves of that chance, the Carolina five sailed away from the home port yesterday to tackle Elon, Guilford, Lynchburg Athletic club and Virginia, successively.

Georgia put Washington and Lee out of the race, and Georgia has been vanquished by Carolina. Virginia bowed to the Blue and White last year and, according to the Tar Heel plans, her menu for next Tuesday night will be dust for the first and second courses, and more dust for "refreshments."

If Virginia is again defeated and Carolina is successful in her other contests, the coveted Southern honors will rest at Chapel Hill. Davidson must be considered, but as Carolina defeated Elon, Elon rebuked V. M. I. and V. M. I. trounced Davidson there is every indication of Carolina's superiority over Davidson.

Virginia is reported to be especially strong this year at center and right guard. Rixey has been doing excellent work at center, and altogether Virginia has an unusually speedy and accurate team.

Carolina is also there with the goods as her past record has shown. Tennent and Cuthbertson are in good form again having recovered from injuries received in the Georgia game. Liipfert's ankle is well again and he is expected to put up the game of his life against Rixey.

ELABORATE SETTING SCINTILLATING TOASTS FEATURE 1918 BANQUET

CARNIVAL AND PEP RULES
NOVEL DECORATION PLAN
—CO-ED ON TOAST LIST

With one of the most elaborate settings that has adorned a class banquet in this college generation, the Senior class held its banquet last night in Swain hall. A portion of the hall was turned into a veritable garden of flowers, where good fellows got together for the last time to enjoy the rapidly passing pleasures of college life. The carnival spirit ran wild in clanging cowbells, tooting horns, and rattling whirligigs which were placed as favors at each plate.

For the first time in the history of the institution a co-ed's name adorned the toast list. Miss Maud Carson made the response to Capt. Allen. Toastmaster York introduced Dr. Greenlaw as the first speaker who was responded to by K. Kato. Prof. Bernard, with response by C. Holding, was the last speaker.

The tables were arranged around a square which was carpeted and be-decked with palms. On two sides of the square were four white columns, replicas of those at the well. Between these columns were banked pine trees, which completely inclosed the tables, making a banquet hall of natural scenery. Along the sides of this inclosure were stretched strings of incandescent bulbs arranged Gothic effect, and on each column was a black and gold 1918 shield. At the north end of the hall hung a picture of Woodrow Wilson around which were draped the American and State flags. Strips of gold and black crimped paper were stretched down the center of the long tables. The menu cards were dainty arrangements with the raised numerals, 1918, on the front.

The committee on arrangements was composed of Hermas Stephenson, chairman; Miss Carson, J. B. Linker, Victor Bryant and W. R. Wunsch.

Famous "Eat" Emporium Passes into History

Draft Calls Nick and Carley—Institution for the Cure of Hungeritis is Latest War Victim—Greeks Left no Wooden Horse—Not Even Furniture

The last chair was placed aboard, the ropes tightened and the big truck pulled away from the curb and moved slowly down Franklin avenue toward Durham. The small crowd which was waiting on the late mail stood sorrowfully around and watched the proceedings with heavy heart. As the truck, laden with old familiar pieces of furniture, moved away, each man in the crowd heaved a painful sigh and turned and went "to his long home."

That truck was bearing away the last earthly vestige of Nick's Emporium of Good Eats. The place is closed and as you view it from the street it looks as if it had fallen victim to a German air raid. The long marbled-top counter is gone, the mirrors with their alluring markings "Hot Weinies and Pickled Pig Feet", are lost relics of the past, the electric piano, with its almost ceaseless grind of "Pretty baby, pretty baby," is hushed forever. The sweet aroma of onions is gone never to return and the pleasant sound of sizzling sausages will be heard no more. Never again will you hear the greeting, "Say, Bo, see my line of haberdashery at the Royal Cafe" or

SPECIALIZED FIGHTING IS BEING TAUGHT TO GROUPS

MR. HILL GIVES 2 FLAGS TO BATTALION CO'S BAND C WON
IN DRILLING

Following the return of warm weather, the battalion has taken up its various kinds of work with a spirit that bodes ill to the wary Boche. The different courses have begun and Captain Allen thinks that it will take four weeks to finish them. Every man will be put through the engineering, bombing and bayonet-fighting courses, and a little signalling will be given also. The musketry course has only gotten so far now as the parts of the rifle. But as soon as every man has qualified in musketry and made his triangle of error, firing on the range will begin.

During the past week Mr. Hickerson has been teaching prospective military engineers the way to tie the knots which are used in bridge-building. The bombing and bayonet-fighting have progressed under Captain Allen, and soon blood thirsty young sammies will be charging down Emerson Field with bayonets fixed in a way to make a Hun wish himself a whole company. Captain Allen has also taught the positions used in bombing. Bean-bags, or something like them, will be used as bombs.

The battalion now owns four flags, as a British and a French flag have been presented by Mr. John Sprunt Hill, of Durham. Competitive drill will take place soon for the possession of the flags. The probable outcome may be predicted from short drills on Monday when B company defeated A company by one point; Mr. Hickerson

TAR HEELS TAKE CLOSE GAME FROM ELON FIVE

VISITORS PUT UP GOOD FIGHT—
CAROLINA NOT UP TO USUAL FORM

A SPURT WINS IN SECOND HALF

A victory of 29-25 over Elon College last Monday night put the Carolina basketball team within good striking distance of the Southern championship honors.

The game was a good fight from start to finish. The Carolina pivot man, Liipfert, obtained the tip-off over Stevens every time, but this advantage was more than offset by the pretty floor work of the visiting center. Stevens was easily the star of the game, showing himself a master of the side step and dribble. Liipfert played a pretty covering game against him, though his passing was not as good.

The defense put up by the two Elon guards was the prettiest that has been seen here this season. Carolina often worked the ball down the floor until within some twenty-five feet of the basket, but the visiting guards invariably broke up the play by close covering. Consequently, the home forwards obtained few short shots. The closeness of the game is indicated by the score throughout the whole game. There was seldom over two points difference in the score. The first half ended 10-6 in favor of Carolina.

In the last half Elon made a spurt that put her four points in the lead. The score remained thus up until the last few minutes of play. Then the Carolina team seemed to really wake up and find itself in its old time form. Fast passing netted the home boys six points in rapid succession. Lynch sent the last goal through the net just as the whistle blew.

Carmichael played best for Carolina, getting seven field goals. The whole University quint was suffering from the after effects of the hard Georgia game of the week before, and it did not play true to form. Cuthbertson played a good game at guard; both he and Tennent are still suffering from "charley horses."

The line-up and summary follow:

- Carolina (29) . . . . . Elon (25)
- Lynch (3) . . . . . McLain (2)
- Left Forward
- Carmichael (7) . . . . . Preston (3)
- Right Forward
- Liipfert (2) . . . . . Stevens (5)
- Center
- Tennent . . . . . Tuck
- Left Guard
- Cuthbertson (2) . . . . . Johnson
- Right Guard

Goals from fouls: McLain (5) out of (6); Lynch (1) out of (6). Referee, Carrington. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

All men interested in attending rural Sunday Schools this spring will meet in front of the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon at 2:15.

Hermas Stephenson led the discussion at a meeting of Amphoterathon on Thursday evening on the subject, "The Evolution of Democracy."
