THE DRAMATIC CLUB

We feel that the Dramatic Club has really achieved a big success in its presentation of "The Man of the Hour." It is probably the best play given here in many years and this is due not so much to the play itself, but to the persistent work of the caste and directors.

We might find flaws in it, but such is the case with every home production. When the club makes its trip it is certain to make a big hit, for the audience will only see the characters before them and not the people playing the parts, as we see them.

THE FRESHMAN PETITION

It is now well known to the campus that the freshmen (a number of them) out for baseball, presented a petition to Dr. Lawson demanding that games be scheduled at once for them. As an alternative they expressed the intention of quitting. They complained of being used for the varsity to practice against without the same consideration and re-

We believe the men taking that stand have momentarily forgotten themselves, and that they now realize the un-Carolina taste it may leave with the campus. Is it the love of playing, and the loyalty to the institution, that brings out candidates or is the hope of reward only, and the gain an individual can get out of it?

It is hard to come out day after day and practice, when no games are in view. Military drill gives the desired amount of exercise, and this extra work apparently unappreciated, sometimes seems a burden-but should any group of men, realizing the suppressed condition of all college athletics, demand what is impossible to be had. Is it exactly fair for any group of men, many of whom played on the freshman football team, which was furnished with ample outfit, and in fact elevated to the major consideration last Fall, to make such demands now, when the varsity is putting the Athletic Association in debt each game? If the majority of the players have lost interest in a sport which the Athletic Association announced at the beginning of the season, would be necessarily neglected, they should stop going out. But to send a petition demanding or asking for games as a condition for further interest is not the right attitude of thoughtful people. Said at incovery the practice can be had this year by probable candidates.

Dr. Lawson and Prof. Hobbs have been giving their time and ex perience merely in view of a better varsity next year and, it is somehow strange that a bunch of intelligent men should fail to see

Gym Men Try Out for Letters

Wednesday night, at 8:00 P M., in the Gym, there will be a contest held for monogram aspirants. Six men are to try out-"Shorty" Spruill, George Johnson, Douglas Dardan, Percy Lynch, and C. S. Coffee, and the event promises to be of great interest, as a list of many stunts to be performed has been posted at the Gymn and includes many quite dfficult ones. There are in college this year ten letter men of the gymnasium department.

Dr. Archibald Henderson has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he will lecture before the Brooklyn Institute.

Tom Stokes has returned to the "Hill," after getting married, so his friends report. On this matter he is silent.

Carey Harrington, who recently sprained his ankle, is improving, but was unable to try out for an N. C. in Gvm.

C. B. Landis, '18, has just been drafted and has left the "Hill" for Marion, to spend a few days with his parents, preparatory to going to Camp Jackson.

Mr. Perrin Busbee, of Raleigh, who has never missed a Carolina Virginia football game, was on the hill this week to see the baseball game with Virginia.

Capt. Allen left the "Hill" Thursday for an extensive speak ing tour, going to Greensboro, Salisbury, and Charlotte. He will return Sunday evening.

During Junior week, the three assistants in geology were sick with the grippe, while Prof. Cobb was confined to his home for a few days. For this reason, they were not "out among them."

Lieut. Bellamy, '19, of Camp Jackson, was on the "Hill" Monday, and was married Tuesday to Miss Sarah Erwin, of Durham. The marriage occurred in the bride's home, and is the social event of the season.

Dr. Edwin Greenlaw is on an extended trip through South Carolina. He spoke in Columbia at the University of South Carolina last night. Thence he will visit and address the students of Erskine College at Due West.

Team Meets Elon Nine In Burlington To-day

Playing in Burlington for the first time in two or three college generations, the Carolina baseball aggregation meets the Elon College team today for their first mixup of the season. This game with Elon at Burlington was once one of the big events of the baseball season here but Carolina tried her hand with bigger game and this annual meet lost its importance.

Jack Powell says that Joyner will probably pitch the game today and is expected to give a good account of himself after his seasoning on the southern trip. Pippin will not be in the fray today, for the doctor is trying to coax the hard hitting center fielder's knee into shape for the final game with Virginia next Saturday. Powell will probably play center today.

The next game scheduled for the Hill is with Wofford on May 1.

Lewis Burnett, who has just returned from service around the Verdun section is on the Hill for a few days. Burnett left school last spring and went to France with an ambulance unit. Since then the government has ordered all private units in that work to be transferred to the U.S. medical reserves. Friday morning he made an interesting talk before the battalion giving many vivid On account of the bad weather incidents of the war times at the Presbyterian Church Fund Is Increased to $50,000

Dr. James Sprunt, LL D., '16, has increased his gift of $30,000 for the Memorial Presbyterian Church to $50,000, and work will begin at once on the building. Mr. Upjohn, the architect who planned the present Episcopal Church, has already drawn the plans. The style of the building, which will utilize the present building, is colonial, and will be very beautiful. The present isles will be run much further out, and the building increased materially in size and attractiveness.

Taylor and McKee were well up to the high standard of the cast. Burton and Royal playing the inevitable minor roles in their brief parts were fully up to the stand

It must be remembered, however, that such excellent acting could not have been produced without excellent training. Too much praise, therefore, cannot be given Dr. McKie and Mrs. Leavitt for their good work as directors of this most excellent production.
