TAR HEELS TRIM SOUTH CAROLINA IN CLOSE GAME ON THE EMERSON FIELD

SPIRITED PITCHERS' BATTLE ENDS WITH VICTORY FOR JOYNER

The baseball team successfully repelled the attack of the University of South Carolina contingent Thursday, winning by the score of 4 to 2.

The game was a hotly contested pitcher's battle between Davis of the Palmetto lads and Joyner of the Tar Heels, the latter treating his guests of the afternoon rather impolitely and grabbing the larger section of the praise pie.

Joyner corralled the invaders early in the contest and held them in subjugation throughout the entire afternoon. In the eighth stanza the ice was thoroughly rough, but the Tar Heel moundman managed to steer successfully out of dangerous territory. Only five men were able to secure safe bingles off his delivery and eleven of the visitors viciously beat the ozone, in an attempt to connect safely.

In promulgating the victory, however, the entire laurel wreath must not be given to Joyner, for while his consistent work was in a large measure responsible for the final outcome, both the offensive and defensive playing of his team-mates were potent factors.

In the fourth chapter the guns of the Tar Heel aggregation found the range of the enemy and opened fire. A miscene in the opposite direction of hits created a casualty for the South Carolina crew and before the morale could be restored, their lines had been broken through. When the smoke cleared away the Tar Heels had gained ground and one run had been recorded in the log-book.

Again in the sixth the heavy artillery of the North Carolina crew was brought into action, the defense of the enemy pierced, and again havoc was wrought. Feinster fired a shot that was effective. Grandin slipping through the barbed wire, giving the Tar Heels two men anxiously waiting

University to Send Ten Men to Officers' Camp

About twenty men are trying out for a place among the ten who are to be sent from the University to the next officers training camp, which it is understood will open about May 15th. Capt. Allen has been drilling the contestants this week and will no doubt pass upon their fitness within the next few days.

The things being considered are the applicant's experience, presence, voice of command, and his all around suitability for selection. The two general requirements are that the applicant be at least twenty years and nine months of age by May 15th, and that he be a Senior. It has not been learned as yet whether the accepted men will be graduated by the University, but this is the general understanding. The men passed on by Capt. Allen will, of course, have to undergo the regular government physical examination for the Officers' Training Camp, but it is understood that they will first be examined by the University medical officials in order to get an idea of their physical fitness.

Four Men Get Gym Letters

Four of the five contestants were successful in the Gym try-outs, Wednesday night. Those winning were C. S. Coffee, Douglass Darden, George Johnson, and "Shorty" Spruil. Percy Lyneh, the fifth contestant, was forced to drop out because of a recent attack of appendicitis from which he had not thoroughly recovered. The judges, Dr. Lawson, Jones, Crowell, and Devereaux decided that "Shorty" Spruill won first place with Johnson running a close second.

Di Elects Yackety Yack Editors

Last Saturday night at the annual election of editors and managers for the Magazine and Yackety-Yack Board the Di Society elected the following men to serve for next year: on the Magazine Board, as Editor-in-Chief, T. E. Rondthaler; Associate Editors, T. C. Wolf, H. S. Everett, R. D. Williams; Assistant Business Managers, G. D. Crawford and Bob Gwynn; on the Yackety-Yack Board, as Associate Editors, W. C. Eaton, W. B. Anderson, and R. A. Spangh. The last-named will serve with W. E. Price, who was elected Editor-in-Chief of the Yackety-Yack a few weeks ago.

Dr. Venable in Washington

Dr. Venable spent the week in Washington attending the session of the United States Munitions Board of which he is Vice-chairman and the only Southern man on the board. The function of this board is research work in gas warfare, investigation of minerals needed for munitions and of laws for the regulation of the sale of

CHAPEL HILL SCENE OF STREET FIGHTING IN BIG ATTACK ON WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon the Carolina battalion pulled off what the aspiring young poet would call "some deep stuff." A and D companies had been designated as the attackers, while B and C had been chosen to take the defensive.

The plan, which the companies carried out almost to a detail, was that the attacking party should march out Cameron Avenue and form a line of skirmish from there to Rosemary Street. They were then to advance upon the defenders, who were, in the meantime, to be drawn up as skirmishers along College Avenue. Then, the latter were to fall back to a position behind the faculty tennis courts, where they should take up an "intrenched" position.

Promptly at 4:10 the show began. Captains G. Holding and "Red" Cooper marched their men off with a confident stride, as if to say, "Wait 'til we get back." After they had been given a sufficient start, companies B and C, under Capt. C. Holding and Bill Blount, took up their positions, forming a skirmish line extending from Cameron Avenue to Rose-

McNair Lectures Set For May 3rd, 4th, 5th

The McNair Lectures which are to be delivered here in Gerard Hall the 3rd, 4th, and 5th of May promise much in the way of depth of interest and power of appeal. They are to be delivered by Professor Shailer Matthews of Chicago University, a man of great national prominence, renowned for scholarship, eloquence, and cultured concern in the larger problems of our time. On Friday night Dr. Matthews will lecture on "The Kinship of Patriotism and Religion." His lecture on Saturday night will be "The Moral Values of a Nation," while on Sunday night he will speak on the subject, "Religion as a dynamic for Patriotism." The hour for these evening lectures will be eight o'clock. On Sunday morning at eleven o'clock Dr. Matthews will lecture on "Christianity and War."

A man of great versatility, Professor Matthews has been in time professor of rhetoric, of history, and political economy, of New Testament history and interpretation, of systematic theology, and of historical and comparative theology. For a period of eight years (1903-'11) he was editor of the popular magazine, "The World Today;" and since 1913 he has been editor of the "Biblical World." Perhaps his most worthy service of this cause was in 1912, when as President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ, he made a visit in company with Dr. Sidney L. Gubilt, to Japan. A few of Dr. Matthews most notable works are: "The French Revolution," "The Church and the Changing Order," "The Gospel and the Modern Man," "Scientific Management in the Churches," and "The Making of Tomorrow."

Plattsburg Junior Summer Camps Scholarship Offered

President Graham spoke of the Junior Plattsburg Summer Military Training Camp in Chapel Wednesday; stating that he had one scholarship to award, covering the expense of the entire camp. For one who is still undecided as to how he will spend the coming summer, this camp presents an especial appeal. There are but 24 similar scholarships awarded in the whole country and these are in the hands of the camp advisory board of which Mr. Graham is a member.

The Camp is situated on Lake Champlain. The spot selected is ideal for the purpose, splendidly equipped, and is adaptable to every form of military training. Courses are to be held dealing with all of the important phases of modern warfare (machine guns, hand grenades, trench warfare, etc.). The Staff is composed of U. S. Army and Navy officers, who will be assisted by British, Canadian, French, and Italian officers, who have seen service in the present war. It is the purpose of the officers in charge to make this camp a permanent institution, and a pattern for similar organizations.

Those men having had previous military instruction in any camp, school, or university, will wear service stripes; and having been given an opportunity to show their capability, they will be designated commissioned or non-commissioned cadet officers. The expenses of the camp are $250. 00

The general requirements for this scholarship are that the applicant must be under 21 years of age and a University student. Several men have already announced their candidacy. The selection of the representatives will be left to the military authorities here.

CAROLINA MINSTRELS READY TO GIVE FIRST PERFORMANCE

SHOW SPICED WITH JOKES, DRAGS AND LATEST SONGS OF THE SEASON

Rehearsals of the Minstrel have been progressing very satisfactorily for the last two weeks; and all indications point to a great show. The performance will take place some time next week; the exact date will be announced later.

An all-star cast will fill the bill. Most of the old vocalists are back, and among the newcomers are such men as Poindexter, Blount, Morris, and Pless. Bingham McKee, the old favorite of Glee Club fame, will head the singers and also act as Interlocutor. The songs will be the latest out. "Lorraine," "Break the News to Mother," and "O Death Where Is Thy Sting" will be among the headliners.

The comedy will be handled by such artists as J. Y. Jordan, Admiral Simms, Alan Wright, Chester Burton, and Bill Pless.

The Olio will consist of four acts, all new. Probably the best feature of the whole show will be the Royal Troubadours, a band of

CAROLINA SPEAKERS WILL FACE JOHNS HOPKINS AND U. VA. IN ANNUAL DEBATE

CARR AND STEPHENSON DEBATE HOPKINS—YORK, FOWLER MEET VIRGINIA

With the "Carolina Pep" and determination to win, the varsity debating squad left the Hill yesterday afternoon for Charlottesville and Baltimore where they will meet Virginia and Johns Hopkins tonight in the annual Inter-collegiate Triangular Debate. Leo Carr and W. H. Stephenson upholding Carolina's affirmative, will meet Hopkins in Charlottesville, while M. B. Fowler and W. M. York, representing the negative, will debate Virginia at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

At the same time the Carolina spirit is being manifested before large audiences at these rival institutions, Virginia's affirmative will meet Hopkins' negative team here in Gerrard Hall, the debate beginning at eight o'clock and the Carolina band contributing largely to the spirit of the contest. President Graham will preside over the debate and Albert Coates will serve in the capacity of secretary.

Dr. Greenlaw Returns From South Carolina

Dr. Greenlaw has recently returned to Chapel Hill from a trip through South Carolina. While away from the "Hill" Dr. Greenlaw acted as a judge in the State oratorical contest which was held at Greenwood, S. C. Eight colleges of the state were represented in this contest. The representative from Clemson College was awarded first place, the subject of the winning oration being an indictment of Germany's policy of world dominion. Furman University was awarded second place, and the University of South Carolina third place. The character of the orations delivered was of excellent quality, the predominant characteristic of nearly all of them being reflections on some phase of the great war.

While at the University of South Carolina Dr. Greenlaw delivered a lecture on the background of the Russian Revolution, discussing the causes and political principals accentuating it and the probable effect of Russian condition on the war and the nations therein engaged. This lecture was also delivered at Erskine College, and will be again repeated by Dr. Greenlaw in Winston-Salem on Saturday evening, April 27.

Study Groups Organize

The groups for the discussion of "Rebuilding Civilization" held their first meetings in the various dormitories last Sunday. Their are fifteen groups and the number present was estimated at a hundred and seventy-five. Many of those who had registered for the discussions were absent on account of confusion as to the places of meeting.
