The Varsity Eleven Came Back and Went Through

PREPARATIONS FOR BIG CROWD TURKEY DAY ARE ABOUT COMPLETED

SEATS WILL BE SOLD DIRECT TO THE STUDENTS AND THE ALUMNI

FIRST VA.-CAR. GAME EVER HERE

Special Trains to Be Run From Most of the Large Cities of the State

Preparations are being made at Chapel Hill to handle for the Carolina-Virginia game Thanksgiving day the largest crowd that ever saw a football game in this state. Bleacher seats to hold 2,500 persons in addition to the regular seating space in the concrete stands have arrived, and are being put up. Graduate Manager Charles T. Woollen has sent to the alumni this week application form for seats. Other arrangements are beginning to assume definite form from the point of view of numbers and general interest, as well as in the playing itself, the game is expected to be the greatest football contest ever staged in North Carolina.

The present game is the first Carolina-Virginia contest to be played in North Carolina. Former games have been played in Richmond, except in 1907, when the game was in Norfolk. The agreement between the two universities calls for the game to be played before the student bodies of each university in alternate years and the next game will be played in Charlottesville.

The present concrete stands on Emersonfield will seat 2,500 persons and with the addition of the bleacher seats, which will be placed on the oppositeside of the field, seats will be provided for 5,000. Every one of these

Taming of the Shrew; Subject of Dr. Koch's Lecture Thurs. Night

Declaring that Shakespearean comedy portrays the divine achievement of life in the surmounting of seeming obstacles, Dr. Koch discussed the genius of Shakespeare and gave a realistic impersonation of leading characters in "The Taming of the Shrew" Thursday night, November 13, in Gerrard Hall.

Dr. Koch drew an apt comparison between the Grecian and Roman idea of comedy and that entertained by Shakespeare in stating that the writers of ancient comedy gave essentially satiric presentations of comedy that was based on some disfiguring defect of character, while Shakespearean comedy developed the innate goodness of the individual through the celebration of a master mind.

In comparing Shakespeare with his contemporary writers of comedy, Dr. Koch said that in general the comedy of the 18th century was a rough attempt at burlesque, and of the lesser satellites Ben Jonson nearest approached Shakespeare in his conception of comedy. Quoting Jonson, Dr. Koch said, "I'll strip the ragged follies of the time and make them as their birth and with whips of steel will make the stage a mirror where all shall see the time's deformity."

Playwrites of the present century fall far short of the goal set by Shakespeare according to Dr. Koch, who cited Ibsen's "Lone Comedy" as a masterpiece of satire, and Geo. Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman" as a scintillating satire on socialism.

Of the "Bard of Avon" Dr. Koch said that to Shakespeare there was given the power to show the people something of the wonder and beauty of human nature. He was a creator of character, a poet-playmaker of the people and Dr. Koch stated that thru the "highbrow" methods of his commentator Shakespeare had suffered. He explained the term "highbrow" as meaning a person educated beyond his intelligence.

Dr. Koch deplored the lack of tone or celebration in the modern comedy and said that the world is inclined to

Many Noted Lecturers Will Address Students This Coming Winter

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the famous arctic explorer, lecturer and discoverer, has been secured for a lecture on his travels and discoveries in the arctic regions and will speak in Gerrard Hall December 11, according to information received from Dr. Archibald Henderson, chairman of the University Lecture Committee. "This lecture," said Dr. Henderson, "will be unique in that it will be the first time any world famous explorer has been to the University and his descriptions will be illustrated by photograph projections."

On January 20 the committee has secured the services of Dr. S. H. Clark, of the University of Chicago, who will give interpretative readings among which will probably be excerpts from Percy McKay's clever play "Washington."

In February the lecture platform will hold the person of Ernest Thompson Seton, the man of the woods, the scout leader and biographer of the fourfooted clan who will lecture on the great outdoors and its relation to success.

In addition to the top-liners in the lecture field, it is planned by the committee to continue the Weil lectures on citizenship and the McNair lectures on higher science and religion, it was stated. Detailed announcements of lecture plans will be disclosed later.

Dr. Henderson stated that lectures on the circuit of the Southern University Exchange Foundation, including the Universities of North and South Carolina, Vanderbilt and Virginia, would be resumed, and Dr. Howe has been appointed to represent this University at the University of South Carolina. North Carolina will receive a lecture from Virginia, Vanderbilt from South Carolina and Virginia from Vanderbilt, it was announced.

Freshmen Meet the Virginia Freshmen Today on Lambert Field

The Freshman football squad with Coach Bond and Manager Erwin in charge left yesterday afternoon for Charlottesville, Virginia, where they will meet the first year men of the Old Dominion on Lambert Field this afternoon. Captain McDonald's men are in good shape and are expecting to return to the Hill with another scalp in their belt of trophies which include many gridiron victories.

Both teams have a string of victories to their credit, and have shown some fast work this season. The Virginia men have lost only one game this fall, and have defeated several of the strongest prep school squads in that state. In the contest with the Pennsylvania first yearmen, they were defeated by a score of 9 to 3. Staunton and Fishburne met defeat at their hands. Coach Bond's men have won all four games which they have played. They have piled up a score of 139 as against their opponents' none. The average weight of the team is about 158 pounds. In their scrimmage against the varsity they have displayed good team work. Every indication points toward a fast and hard battle when these young sons of the two traditional rivals meet this afternoon.

Phi Assembly Votes Against Open Doors

Despite the efforts of the framers of the bill, which would open the doors of the Phi society to the public, it was defeated by a vote of 52 to 30 at the meeting last Saturday night.

The bill was warmly contested on both sides and at the beginning of the discussion it looked as if the framers of the bill had a sure victory. The affirmative contended that many people were ignorant as to the activities of the society, and by leaving the assembly public many could gain an insight as to its work. The supporters of the bill also attempted to show that an outside audience would be a great incentive to new speakers.

FRESHMEN WALK THRU BINGHAM'S LINE WITH FIFTY-ONE TO ZERO SCORE

CADETS UNABLE TO STAND BEFORE POWERFUL DEFENSE

CADETS PUT UP A HARD FIGHT

The Carolina freshmen swept the Bingham Cadets off their feet last Saturday, piling up a 51 to 0 score, representing 8 touchdowns.

The Freshmen started off with a rush, scoring in the first few minutes of play, by brilliant open field running of McDonald and the line plunging of McGee and Maxwell. The Freshmen continued the same rapid pace throughout the first half, circling the ends at will and plunging through the line at random.

The first half ended with the ball in the possession of the Freshmen, and in the shadow of the goal post, with the score standing 18 to 0 in the Freshmen's favor.

The second half was more disastrous to the Cadets than the first. The Carolina backs went down the field at their own pleasure, seldom losing the ball except when they kicked off.

Bingham was at all times helpless in the face of the powerful defense put up by the Freshmen, and on every attempted end run were thrown for big losses. The Cadets were unable to make but two first downs, and never crossed the fifty yard line but once, and on that occasion only for a second, as an attempted end run resulted in a ten yard loss. During the third quarter, with the score 37 to 0, the Freshmen varsity was replaced by the first substitute eleven, which

When Carolina and Virginia meet here next Thursday in the gridiron classic of the south, the two elevens will present line-ups practically intact from injuries and capable of giving each other their best battle.

North Carolina has come out of the disastrous slump that lost to V. M. I. and is developing rapidly in the interim. Virginia, it is understood, has a squad of untold potentiality which has undergone a steady development during the season. The Virginians were defeated last Saturday by Vanderbilt but, according to press despatches, the Commodores were outplayed. Virginia crossed the Vanderbilt goal-line twice but was called back once on a penalty.

The two teams are very evenly matched as to weight but Carolina should have the edge in experience, five of the 1916 varsity men being in this year's line-up. Virginia has one old varsity man.

Girl Colleges Will be Represented at the Thanksgiving Game

On Thanksgiving day, Carolina will have as her guests a large number of young ladies from the colleges in Raleigh and Greensboro. This was the information given at the office of Mr. Woollen, the business manager. Although plans for their visit have not been completed, it is certain that these ardent supporters of the Blue and White will be on the sidelines cheering Capt. Coleman's men on to victory.

Peace has made all arrangements for their attendance upon the game. N. C. C. W. will not be able to have a full quota, but will be represented by members of the Senior Class, G. C. W. and St. Mary's are making every effort to come, but they have not informed the University officials as to their definite plans yet. These young ladies will come to Chapel Hill on special trains which will arrive about 11 or 12 o'clock Thanksgiving morning. They will return to their respective schools as soon as the game is over. Further announcement will be made as soon as more definite information is received.

Grand Concert by Joseph Konecny Eminent Violinist

The people of Chapel Hill and vicinity will have a rare opportunity, if not the chance of a life-time, to hear Joseph Konecny, the celebrated violin virtuoso, and his assisting artists on December 1.

It is seldom that cities of the size of Chapel Hill have the opportunity of hearing and seeing a great artist, a man who through his genius has carved out a niche for himself in the world. Even the larger cities do not have such opportunities—a few times a year is all that can be boasted of when it comes to a real, renowned artist.

The violin, the "king of instruments," in the hands of a master is the most potent of all instruments. Fond recollections of the family circle, of friendships, and everything that is dear to the heart—sentiments that every one feels and cherishes more than words can express—these are the things that are brought home to you by the violin of this Bohemian wizard. For he has been blessed with the divine spark of interpreting the great works of the masters in that universal language of the heart, which makes them intelligible to all. There is something more than music that comes from his bow; it is that something you feel, that makes you think and thrills you through and through.

Tar Heel Eleven Holds the State Championship; Sat. Game Settled it

Carolina's victory over Davidson in football Saturday at Winston-Salem unquestionably gave the Chapel Hill warriors the title of North Carolina football champions and supporters of the University eleven are now awaiting with interest the annual Carolina-Virginia classic on Thanksgiving day. The University team has defeated every eleven in the State.

The game Saturday went to Carolina by a count of 10 to 0 and the details of the clash, carried by the Winston-Salem Journal, reveal that Coach Campbell's players are returning to form after the poor showing against V. M. I. The coaches this week will begin the hard practice grind preparatory to the most important game at Chapel Hill Thanksgiving with the ancient rivals from Virginia.

Open Shop is Favored by Dialectic Society

At its regular meeting Saturday night, the Di Society adopted a resolution opposing the spirit of rowdiness and ungentlemanly conduct that has come on the campus this year. W. H. Bobbitt proposed the resolution, which, after a short explanation by G. D. Crawford, was passed by unanimous vote of the society. The most flagrant exhibition of this un-Carolina spirit was at the recital given by the Overseas Ladies under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The Di Society believes that such actions are not representative of the Carolina student body, and its hastening to stamp them with its firm disapproval, will, in the opinion of many, have a sobering effect on those who would drag down the fine reputation students of this Institution enjoy over the country.

The debate on the Open Shop question drew from the members of the society a heated discussion of the labor problem in general, and the regular debate with Boyd and Townsend representing the affirmative against Williams and Corpening on the negative, resulted in a unanimous decision in favor of the affirmative. Judging from the amount of sentiment expressed against the closed shop principle, the Di Society must be fully two thirds in favor of the open shop basis for worksmen.

TAR HEELS REDEEM THEMSELVES IN GAME AT WINSTON-SALEM

CAROLINA'S ABILITY TO GAIN ON DAVIDSON'S END RUNS GAME'S FEATURE

TOUCHDOWN IN LAST QUARTER

The Red and Black Goal is Reached Only One Time

Ideal football weather, a large enthusiastic crowd, and the clean hard playing of both teams, featured the contest Saturday at Prince Albert Park, Winston-Salem, when the Tar Heels defeated Davidson 10 to 0.

The Davidson followers marched behind a band from the city to the park and when the game was called a few minutes after three the grand stands were full. The presence of a large number of girls from Salem College, wearing Carolina colors, was conspicuous among the throng of spectators.

Davidson kicked off and Tenny ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. Then after three line plunges, netting a first down, the Tar Heels pulled the only successful forward pass of the game. The Davidson line stiffened when the ball reached the 20 yard line and Lowe was forced to try for a field goal. The attempt was a success and the score stood 3 to 0.

No more scoring was done till near

Misses Love, Noa and Dr. L. R. Wilson Attend Convention at Raleigh

Miss Cornelia S. Love, Miss Ernestine Noa and Dr. Louis R. Wilson represented the library of the University of North Carolina at the State Convention of Libraries meeting in Raleigh November 19-20, according to advices received from the library.

The convention consisted of a business session meeting Wednesday afternoon and two convocative sessions meetings the following day. In these sessions the various libraries of the State considered plans for co-operation in the solving of problems dealing with the distribution of books among a large class of people. Among the matters discussed was a treatise on "The New Conception of the Library," by Dr. Wilson, a review of conditions is presented in Maria Botchkarewa's work, "Yashka" presented by Miss Love, and an outline of the "University Rural Social Science Library," by Miss Noa.

Twelve Schools have Entered Football Contest

The interest shown by the high schools in the football championship series directed by the Bureau of Extension is greater this year than ever before. A total of twelve schools have entered the contest, eight from the east and four from the west. The increase in the number of schools is only indicative of the increasing influence of the University in the state through its Bureau of Extension.

The schools from the west which have entered the race for the honors are Asheville, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, and Greensboro. A conference of members of the University committee and the managers of the various teams of the west was held in Greensboro last Wednesday. At this conference a schedule between the teams of the west was arranged in such a way that three of them will be eliminated in the preliminaries.

A similar conference was held in Raleigh Tuesday for arranging a schedule between the eastern teams. The teams from the east which are in the contest are Chapel Hill, Goldsboro, Kinston, Rocky Mount, Elizabeth City, Hamlet, Raleigh and Wilmington.

The final game between the eastern and western champions will be played on Emersonfield, Saturday, December 6, and will decide the championship of the state.
