EIGHTY COLLEGES WILL SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO CHASE INAUGURAL

THIRTY-TWO COLLEGE PRESIDENTS WILL BE HERE

4000 INVITATIONS ARE SENT OUT

Representatives From Learned Societies Will Be Here; Imposing Ceremonials

Elaborate plans are being made for the inauguration on April 28 of Harry Woodburn Chase as the eighth president of the University of North Carolina. This day promises to be one of the most notable in the history of the institution. Chapel Hill will be thronged with a large number of alumni, college presidents, representatives of learned societies and educators from all sections of the country. Unusual efforts are being made to provide for the entertainment of the many visitors.

Over eighty colleges, among which are numbered nearly all the large institutions of the country, have already designated their intention of sending delegates, most of whom will be from their respective faculties. Thirty-two college presidents, among whom are President Lowell, of Harvard, and President Hibben, of Princeton, have accepted invitations to come. Twenty learned and professional societies will be represented. Among these are the National Geographical Society, American Oriental Society, American Society of Naturalists, and others. In addition to these who have already accepted over 4,000 personal invitations have been issued, mostly within the state. There include alumni, faculty members of all colleges in the state and public officials.

Preceding the exercises proper, the University will give a buffet luncheon in honor of its guests. After the luncheon the academic procession will march across the campus to Memorial

CAST PICKED FOR TWO PLAYS IN PLAYMAKERS COMING PRODUCTION

Two of the new plays, "Dod Gast Ye Both," the mountain moonshine comedy, and "The Bell Buoy," the sea coast play, have been cast and rehearsals are being held daily. The third play as originally selected, "White Dresses," is not to be given, there being some objections to producing a play of this nature. In its place another one of Green's plays is to be given. It is also a tragedy but is more historical in nature. "The Last of the Lowries" pictures the breaking up of the Lowrie band of robbers which operated in Robeson county about 1874. The feeling of the mother who has lost two sons already and who thinks her other two sons are leading honest lives in another state, only to see them overtaken by the law also, makes a theme that is very touching. Since this last play was not selected as early as the others a full cast of characters has not been worked out. For the other two plays most of the actors are experienced though a few new names will be noted.

"Dod Gast Ye Both"
"Noah Setzer," a mountain moonshiner ..... George Denny
"Walt," his son, an ex-member of the A.E.F. .... Wilber Stout
"Bill Spivins," a mountaineer ..... B. E. Lohr
"Mary," Noah's daughter, "Jes" like her Ma ..... Miss Penny
"Sink," a bootlegger for Noah ..... Hubert Hefner
"Mose," another frequenter of the still ..... Chester Burton
"Laurence Abner" a "revenoor" ..... George Crawford
"The Bell Buoy"
"The Fisherman" ..... Jonathan Daniels
"The Doctor" ..... E. Neimann
"The Old Woman" ..... Miss Lay
"The Girl" ..... Miss Sherrill
"The Woman" ..... Miss Taylor

THREE GAMES FOR THE VARSITY HORSEHIDE SQUAD DURING COMING WEEK

VIRGINIA, TRINITY AND WAKE FOREST ARE ON THE SLATE

The Tar Heel aggregation of baseball players have three games scheduled for next week—two on the home diamond and one in Greensboro—and local experts figure that unless J. Pluvius interferes, three more scalps will hang from the belt of the University players.

The first game is with Wake Forest on Monday afternoon. Judging from comparative scores, the chances are about even, but it is certain that on their home field, the Tar Heels will stand a much better chance of winning than will the Wake Forest team. Wake Forest has a good team, however, and a stiff battle is expected.

Trinity will be played on Wednesday. Both Caviness and Brown, of Trinity have been pitching good ball. Trinity is weakened by the loss of Southard, their star pitcher of last year, and in the opinion of many, a better pitcher than either Caviness or Brown.

Virginia will be played in Greensboro on Saturday, and in Chapel Hill on Monday. The first game of the series was lost to Virginia by the score of 5 to 4, a lucky home run in the ninth, winning the game. But with our team getting into its stride now, prospects are exceeding bright for Tar Heel victories.

Country Club Departs From Earthly Scenes; Consternation in Faculty

The Chapel Hill country club burned to the ground on Saturday afternoon, April 3, when preparations were being made for the usual Saturday afternoon get-together of the faculty and townspeople.

The fire was caused by a leaking oil stove, which had saturated the floor with oil. There was only one person in the building at the time, and due to its location it was impossible for help to reach the scene in time to save anything except a little furniture. The building, a one-story structure, partly of log, was completely destroyed.

The club house was one of the favorite sites around "the Hill" situated as it was on a hill which affords one of the most beautiful views in this vicinity, and at a convenient walking distance from town. It has for many years been the center of the social life of the faculty, as they had gathered here on Saturday afternoons and usually one night each week.

It is thought that a new club house will soon be erected on the same site; plans had been made to install water and lights in the old building. At present the Gingham Lodge is being used by the faculty as a club house.

Chem Crew Return From First Northern Trip

The Chemical Inspection crew, consisting of Dr. J. M. Bell, and Messrs. T. M. Andrews, I. W. Smyth, H. M. Taylor, D. M. Carroll, S. C. Ogburn, C. K. Brooks, and H. G. Pickett, returned last Sunday evening from their visit to a number of the northern industrial chemical plants. Every member of the crew pronounced the trip a very beneficial one and they suggest that in the future the trip be made an annual affair.

A member of Parliament called another an ass in the sacred precincts of the House. Unparliamentary language being forbidden, the offending M. P. had to apologize and withdraw his statement. He didn't like doing it, "I withdraw," he said very stiffly; "but I maintain that the honorable member is out of order."

"How am I out of order?" asked the other man heatedly.

"Probably a veterinary surgeon could tell you," was the retort.

CAROLINA BESTS TRINITY ON TRACK SCORE WAS 70-56

FIRST MEET OF YEAR FOR UNIVERSITY SHOWS GOOD FORM

GOOD WORK IN QUARTER-MILE

The University track team defeated Trinity on Wednesday, the seventh, by the score of seventy to fifty-six. In spite of the fact that the wind was blowing strongly, the weather was rather cold and conditions in general were bad for a meet, the events went off with considerable pep, and some of the times were very good.

The 440-yard dash deserves especial mention. In this event all three places were taken by Carolina men, Hardin, Royal, and Andrews, Hardin making the round in 51 4-5 seconds, only 4-5 seconds more than the Carolina record. Rand in defeating Captain Loftin, of Trinity, hitherto undefeated in the two-mile race accomplished quite a feat. His time was 10 minutes and 47 seconds. Nichols led in individual scoring, taking fifteen points. He took first places in the javelin and shot put, scored in the discus, and tied for second in the high jump. In the javelin he surpassed the Carolina record of 140 feet set by him in the state meet last year by seven feet. Captain Spencer found the pole vault easy, as did Hatcher the broad jump.

The score by events follows:
100-yard dash—Barnhardt, Trinity; Love and Smith, Carolina; time 10 3-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Barnhardt, Trinity; Love and Smith, Carolina; time 24 3-5 seconds.

120-yard hurdles—Harrison, E. T., Trinity; Hughes, Carolina; Harrison, J. H., Trinity; time 18 2-5 seconds.

220-yard hurdles—Harrison, J. H., Trinity; Purrington, Carolina; Harrison, E. T., Trinity; time 30 4-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—Harden, Royal, Andrews, Carolina; time 51 4-5 seconds.

880-yard dash—Lewis, Trinity; Royal, Ransom, Carolina; time, 2 minutes and 6 seconds.

1 mile run—Powell, Trinity; Rand, Nims, Carolina; time, 4 minutes and 47 seconds.

TEAMS PICKED FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE; COLUMBIA'S RECORD GOOD

From a field of eighteen contestants, Robert B. Gwynn, Daniel L. Grant, T. C. Taylor, and John Kerr were chosen in the final elimination contest on Thursday night to represent Carolina in the triangular intercollegiate debate against Washington and Lee and Johns-Hopkins universities which takes place on May first at the seats of the three universities. James S. Massenburg and John P. Washburn were chosen alternates for the affirmative and negative sides respectively.

On Wednesday night the number of contestants on either side were reduced to four, in two preliminaries: the affirmative preliminary being held in the Phi Hall and the negative preliminary in the Di Hall; and there eight men pitted against each other in the final preliminary in a regular debate on Thursday.

Those out were: affirmative, H. T. Mills, Frank Bell and Daniel L. Grant; negative, J. P. Washburn, N. G. Gooding, L. W. Jarman, J. H. Kerr, D. R. Hodgkin, T. C. Taylor, D. Hettelman, J. B. McLead, W. H. Bobbitt, H. C. Carpening and T. A. Grace. Dean Frank Graham, Mr. Louis Graves and Professor C. A. Hibbard were the judges of the final preliminary.

The question for debate in "That a system of universal military training for young men should be adopted by the United States." The (Continued on page three)

EIGHTH ANNUAL AYCOCK CONTEST TO TAKE PLACE HERE APRIL 22 AND 23

FORTY-FIVE SCHOOLS WILL SEND MEN TO CHAPEL HILL

The eighth annual contest for the Aycock Memorial cup in debating will come off on April 22 and 23. For April 23, the eighth annual inter-scholastic track meet and the fifth tennis tournament are also scheduled.

The query for the debate this year is, Resolved, That the United States should adopt a further material restriction on immigration. The triangular debates were held on April 9 throughout the state, and in these forty-five schools both the affirmative and negative teams were victorious. These schools were those of Apex, Asheville, Aurelian Springs, Aurora, Bessemer City, Bethel, Biltmore, Burlington, Candler, Charlotte, China Grove, Columbus, Cornelius, Dell School, Dixie, East Bend, Enfield, Failing Creek, Franklinton, Goldsboro, Guilford College, Hamlet, Hickory, Kenly, Kinston, Lexington, Mills River, Nebo, Newton, Oakwood, Orrum, Princeton, Red Oak, Roanoke Rapids, Roper, Rutherfordton, Stem, Stony Creek, Teachery, Vanceboro, Washington Collegiate Institute, Wesley Chapel, Woodland, Pineville, and Rockingham. A very striking feature of the debaters is the large number of girls on the various teams which (Continued on page four)

Oratorical Prelims Result in a Close Contest For Places

Junior Oratorical
The preliminaries for the Junior Oratorical contest, which was delayed this year on account of the regular Junior week program being turned into a holiday, were held Monday night. A very spirited contest was the result, as the competition was unusually keen this year and the contestants many and of excellent ability. The judges found a great deal of difficulty in selecting the representatives for the finals, as a result.

In the Phi society T. S. Kittrell, E. K. Proctor and J. V. Bagget acted as judges and announced D. L. Grant and B. C. Brown as winners, with C. I. Taylor as alternate. At the same time a similar preliminary was taking place in the Di society hall, where W. D. Harris, D. B. Leatherwood and J. W. Foster acted as judges and announced W. H. Bobbitt and W. R. Francis as winners, with C. T. Boyd as alternate. The above named men will meet Monday night in a final contest for the Carr Medal, which is given to the best one of the four orators. This medal was won last year by Nat Mobley.

Prof. Koch Makes Talk At Flora MacDonald

The subject of "Folk Playmaking" was discussed at a speech before students of Flora MacDonald College last Friday night by Dr. Frederick H. Koch of this University.

Dr. Koch discussed the plays which have been written and produced by the Carolina Playmakers and illustrated his speech by lantern slides of various scenes.

He mentioned the pageant of Flora MacDonald, written by a University student, and said that he hoped it could be produced either at Red Springs or Pinehurst soon. He ably pointed out the great opportunity for community co-operation in presenting folk plays, and emphasized the fact that the future of the drama lies in the hands of amateurs today.

Mr. Y. Naito, an M. A. student of the University, is now engaged in business with his father at his home in Kofu City, Japan. Mr. Naito sends his Easter greetings to his old friends on the Hill and in the States.

DISASTROUS TRIP FOR VARSITY; LOSE FOUR TIMES BY SMALL SCORE

WIN ONE, TIE TWO MORE AND LOSE THEIR HORSESHOE

PLAYED SEVEN GAMES IN WEEK

Virginia and State Both Get Big Ends of Scores, Lose To Each by Lone Tally

The baseball team saw a hard week while the rest of the students were enjoying the holidays. Playing seven games in eight days, the Tar Heels were in an almost continuous strain from the Saturday that the holidays began until Monday night last. The team was also playing under further difficulties most of the time due to the extremely cold weather for baseball. In view of these obstacles the results or the trip may not be so disappointing as they would under ordinary circumstances. Beginning here Saturday, April 3, the squad encountered Maryland State, resulting in a 3 to 3 tie after eleven innings, the game being called on account of darkness. On the following Monday the Winston-Salem "Twins" came out at the big end of a slugging contest to the tune of 9 to 8. Tuesday Davidson went down in defeat by the score of 3 to 2, the game being played in Greensboro, where on the next day, Wednesday, Yale bested the Tar Heels by the score of 5 to 3. On Thursday the team journeyed down to Raleigh where State won a close game 6 to 5. Resting on Friday, the team played the first game of the series of three with Virginia on Saturday, losing in the ninth inning by a home run. The game was played at Charlottesville. Last Monday another 3 to 3 tie was played in Danville, Va., against Washington and Lee, the game being called on account of rain. The attendance at the games was rather scattered, due in large part to the unusually cold weather at most of them.

The game with Maryland State, since it was the first game of the season for the Tar Heels, showed them up a little ragged in the fielding, but strong on the hitting. Wilson pitched a good game, striking out 8 men. Bunched hits in the third gave Carolina two runs, to (Continued on page two)

WELL KNOWN ALUMNUS TO ADDRESS COMMERCE SCHOOL TUESDAY IN PEABODY HALL

The School of Commerce announces the third lecture of their series to be delivered by Eugene Hartley on Tuesday April 20, eight-thirty o'clock, in Peabody auditorium. The subject of the lecture will be "Business Statistics." Mr. Hartley is well equipped to handle this subject; he now holds the position of Chief Statistician of Manufactures of the Bureau of the Census, at Washington. He is an alumnus of Carolina, graduating with the class of 1899, and has made a special study of the relation of statistics to business. Thus he has come to be one of the most important census officials. Mr. Hartley comes to Carolina fresh from the task of gathering and digesting the facts of the tremendous business advances made in our country during the past ten years. One of America's greatest weaknesses in business life has been the lack of accurate and definite information on industrial matters. As we enter into more vigorous competition in world markets we will be compelled to have accurate and comprehensive knowledge of our facilities. Such men as Mr. Hartley are filling just this need, and making possible the continuation of American leadership in the industrial fields of the world. On Tuesday evening Mr. Hartley will explain this work to the Students of the School of Commerce, and those of the public who wish to hear him.

John J. Parker Will Speak in Gerrard Hall Saturday, April 17
