

Tau Kappa Alpha Initiate Five Men

On last Saturday night in Durham a joint initiation was held by the North Carolina and Trinity chapters of Tau Kappa Alpha. The ceremonies took place at Trinity College and were followed by an elaborate banquet. Messrs. J. H. Kerr, Jr., T. C. Taylor, D. L. Grant, R. B. Gwynn, and D. R. Hodgkin were initiated into the North Carolina chapter and Messrs. Harmon, Herring, Carpenter, and Holton into the Trinity chapter. Mr. Carpenter won first place in the State Oratorical contest and Mr. Hodgkin second place. The other initiates in successful debates against Johns Hopkins and Washington and Lee.

The preliminaries to the initiation of the Carolina men were held in front of Patterson's drug store at Chapel Hill on Friday night and took the form of Bolshevik street speaking. The candidates mounted the soap box and amid a shower of apples, bags of water, eggs and other missiles, loudly proclaimed their doctrines to a crowd of several hundred people. From the reception they received it is obvious that Bolshevism is not popular in Chapel Hill.

The Tau Kappa Alpha is a national fraternity composed of inter-collegiate debaters and orators and is dedicated to the cultivation of the art of public speaking. The North Carolina chapter was installed in 1910 and since that time has initiated 62 men who have represented the University of North Carolina in the inter-collegiate forensic contests. The late E. K. Graham was a member of Tau Kappa Alpha and Prof. W. S. Bernard, of the University faculty, is now permanent president of the local chapter.

Thompson Seaton
Recent Lecturer

Ernest Thompson Seaton, who as Dr. Archibald Henderson in his introduction remarked "probably needed no introduction to a Chapel Hill audience as he was already well known from his books and his boy scout work," gave an illustrated lecture on "The personality of Our Animal Friends" last Wednesday in Gerrard Hall.

Mr. Seaton delighted his audience with his mimicking of the birds and animals and several of his pictures, taken from real life and presented in natural colors, and some of his own sketches brought forth much applause. The animal life, its joys and sorrows, were woven into delightful little romances, humorous and sad, showing in short a "personality in our animal friends" as the speaker put it.

Pictures of the University, taken while in the air by St. Maynard, "the flying parson," at a recent date, is another addition to the list of campus novelties.

Many universities have had their buildings photographed from on high by aviators and which show up the places as no other means can, but the University of North Carolina has never before had such views taken of old South and Davie Poplar. Lieutenant Maynard wished very much to land here but lack of suitable landing facilities made it impossible for him to do so with impunity.

Chief Justice Walter Clark of the N. C. Supreme Court also desired to come to the recent inauguration of President Chase in an airplane but for the same reason he could not do so.

Many Alumni to Gather at Reunions
Alumni reunions have been planned for nine classes. According to plans announced by Secretary E. R. Rankin, the classes of 1860, '70, '80, '90, '00, '05, '10, '15, and '19 are scheduled to return to the campus, and a large number will be back not only to see their old classmates and visit their Alma Mater, but to hear Secretary Colby speak.

Among the returning classes, the famous "Confederate" class, or the class of 1860, will probably be the most interesting. Of the 93 members of this class, 92 joined the Confederate army and served through the war. Fourteen members of the class are still living. Major W. A. Graham is chairman of the reunion committee.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, of Raleigh, is chairman of the committee of the class of 1870, which will return for its 50-year reunion. Among the distinguished members of this class are Dr. George T. Winston, formerly president of the University, of A. and E. College, and of the University of Texas; former Lieutenant-governor Chas. A. Reynolds, and Dr. Laniel L. Long, former president of Antioch College, Ohio.

The class of 1880 contains among its prominent members T. H. Battle, of Rocky Mount, Ex-governor Locke Craig, Prof. M. C. S. Noble, and Captain Isaac Emerson, donor of Emerson Field.

Judge S. C. Bragaw heads a committee of ten which is making arrangements for the return of 1890.

The 1895 committee is headed by Superintendent Harry Howell, of Raleigh, and contains some well known men.

From 1900 the class officers are in charge of reunion arrangements. They are as follows: 1900, Prof. W. F. Bryan, of Northwestern University, president, and Prof. W. S. Benard, of the University, secretary; 1905, N. A. Townsend, of Dunn, president, and W. T. Shore, of Charlotte, secretary; 1910, D. B. Teague, of Sanford, president, and J. R. Nixon, of Edenton, secretary; 1915, R. G. Fitzgerald, of Belmont, president, and D. W. Bell, of Pittsboro, secretary; 1919, J. W. G. Powell, of Montevideo, president, and Hilton G. West, of Chapel Hill, secretary.

Franklin County Club Elect 1920-21 Officers

On Tuesday night the Franklin County Club held its last regular meeting in this academic year. The majority of the members were present and after discussing county affairs the business of the club was taken up. The proposed County Bulletin was discussed and a financial matter was proposed. Then followed the election of officers which finally resulted in the choosing of the following men: J. S. Massenburg, president; B. N. Williamson, Jr., vice-president; William E. White, Jr., secretary and Treasurer, and P. A. Reavis, Jr., representative in the North Carolina Club.

The club has had a very successful year having more members than ever before and taking a more active interest in county affairs. Next year will see several new members, and a definite program is being arranged to make the meetings more interesting.

The University of Chicago baseball team has left San Francisco for its Oriental trip. Various colleges in Japan will be played during the season and the team will return in June to permit the players to make up missed work in summer school.

Methodist Sunday School
Officers Are Elected

A part of the Sunday school hour at the Methodist church was devoted to the election of new officers on Sunday, May 23rd. The result of the elections was as follows: President, Charles W. Phillips, Vice-President, W. W. Stout; Secretary and Treasurer, Frank Orr; Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, C. I. Taylor.

The Sunday school class at the Methodist church is composed of one of the largest groups of thinking men on the campus. The talks that have been made there have been more than talks of a religious nature. They have been talks on religion adapted to every day life, and they have been discussions of live and burning problems both on our campus and in our government. These talks have been well throughout and forcibly by Dr. Bernard.

Williams Wins
Over Jernigan

"Wood" Williams is captain of the 1920 tennis team, as result of his victory over Jernigan in the finals of the singles in the tennis tournament, which occurred on Friday of last week. This match was a play off, the regular finals ending in a tie score, two sets to two, about two weeks ago. In the match Friday the score was 6 to 1, and 6 to 4, Williams easily winning out in two sets.

Williams was in rare form and his hard smashing play was too much for Jernigan, who played in his usual consistent, steady, style. Early in the match Williams took the lead, winning the first game by a love score on his own serve, and holding the lead throughout the match. The victory over Jernigan automatically gave Williams the captainship of the tennis team.
