

WELFARE STUDENTS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Attend the Annual State Social Service Conference of Which Dr. Branson is President.

Eleven students of the Public Welfare School, Miss Buchan, Dr. Bradley, Miss Bryant and Dr. Odum instructors in the school, were in Raleigh this week to attend the Annual State Social Service Conference of which Dr. Branson is president. The sessions of the Conference were held in the Woman's Club building. At the first session on Tuesday afternoon singing was held by Mr. Wade R. Brown of the N. C. College, after which the conference broke up into several groups for informal discussion of problems in the field of social work. That evening the general conference was opened by Dr. McGeochy of Charlotte, the president, delivered his address on "A New Day in Carolina" and Professor F. C. Linderman of Greensboro spoke on "Recreation and Rural Progress." After this meeting a delightful reception was held in the Woman's Club. Wednesday morning was taken up with talks and discussions relative to problems of recreation. The afternoon session headed by Dr. Howard W. Odum discussed the "Correlation of Social Agencies." Dr. Bradley of the School of Public Welfare also made a short talk on this subject. At the night meeting Governor Morrison, among others gave a very interesting address. On Thursday morning brief talks were made by the heads of our State Institutions, then after a business meeting the Conference ended at noon Thursday.

BILL YORK TALKS TO STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

President of Class of 1918 Talks of Midnight Oil Burning and Success.

"Billie" York, Class '18, who is now teaching school in Greensboro, talked to the students in Chapel Friday morning. He began by reading a very appropriate poem entitled "The Mid-Night Oil" in which there was the description of a lad who in the past had to work hard and "burn the mid-night oil" in order to achieve success. The poem ended by asking the question, "Are there any ambitious lads who toil and burn the mid-night oil that leads the way to success? Are you getting the things here at college that will lead to success? There is nothing that I have studied in college," said York, "that has not in some way enriched my life."

Life is like the athletic teams, there are Varsity teams, and there are several scrub teams. Every man cannot be a Varsity man, but neither can every man make a great success in life. As York so skillfully put it, no man can make the Varsity team unless he does everything in his power to make him a better player; and just so, no man can make the Varsity team in life unless he puts his best efforts into what he does. There are many things that are much more pleasant and attractive than the books that one has to study, but only by burning the mid-night oil, that is, hard work and study can one achieve the best things in life. "Are you burning the mid-night oil?"

ON OTHER COURTS

The University of South Carolina basketball team was defeated last week by Washington and Lee by the overwhelming score of 33 to 11. The game was not even hard fought, the W. and L. men winning the game easily. The game proved a good practice affair.

Virginia University continues in her winning streak of basket ball. Last week they snowed under the aggregation from William and Mary College by the disastrous score of 46 to 15. The Virginia paper—College Topics—says that the game was very fast, but the Virginia had no trouble in winning.

Virginia Tech also added two more games to her scalp last week when her team defeated the Roanoke "Y" and Lynchburg College. The latter game was won by a 51 to 5 margin, and was not even interesting from the standpoint of Tech. Tech's team is showing up exceptionally well this year.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Graduate Club will hold an important meeting Tuesday, February 1st, at 8:00 p. m., in the Co-ed room in Peabody building. Dr. MacNider will give a short talk. Officers will be elected. Refreshments will also be served.

DANCE GIVEN BENEFIT OF BASKETBALL TEAM

Plenty of Pep, Co-Eds, and Door Receipts to Make Event a Successful One.

Masculine students and co-eds mingled again Saturday night when the management of the basketball team gave a dance in the gymnasium under the auspices of that organization. The promenade was something of a farewell occasion extended to the basketball squad that left on the big northern trip this morning.

Dancing began about ten o'clock and lasted till the usual Saturday night twelve o'clock. The cracker-jack Tar Baby orchestra played a bunch of blues that made the event quite a live one, and helped the cause wonderfully. A very large crowd was present, though not so many as attended the dance given by the Graff the Saturday night before, which was really better for those that were present.

Though the dance was not primarily given for money to help out the team, it was hoped that a little profit would be acquired in order to help defray expenses for the long northern trip. Manager Joe Person announced that receipts were well enough to at least break even.

EIGHTEEN TAKE LAW BOARD EXAMINATIONS

Expect Results to Show High Percent of Carolina Aggregation Successful.

Eighteen Carolina law students faced the ordeal yesterday of going before the justices of the Supreme Court of North Carolina to take the examination for admission to the North Carolina bar.

After weeks of intense boning under the direction of Profs. McGhee, McIntosh, Winston, and Eafd, it is expected that the announcement of the results of the examination will show that a high per cent of the Carolina aggregation were successful. This expectation is also justified by the fact that in the examination last summer not a single certified applicant from the University law school failed to pass the examination. In that examination Carolina furnished approximately one-third of the total number that passed.

SENIORS LICK JUNIORS IN INITIAL CLASS GAME

The class basketball program got away to a good start last Wednesday when the Seniors snowed under the Juniors by the score of 24 to 7. The Juniors put up a game fight, but Captain Billy Bourne's quint was no match for the charging Seniors, for whom Murray and Fulton led the attack.

SOPHS DEFEAT FRESH

The Sophs defeated the Freshmen Thursday in the second game of the inter-class series 19 to 16. The game was fiercely contested throughout. Jernigan and Shirley played well for the Sophs, and Nieman and Long for the Freshmen.

SENIORS WALLOP SOPHS

The Seniors won their second contest of the season Friday. The Sophs were the victims this time, being unable to solve the mystery of the Seniors passing and shooting game. The score was 25 to 16.

PICK GIVES RECEIPTS TO NEAR EAST RELIEF

At the request of the North Carolina Division of the Near East Relief Commission the Pickwick gave the entire gate receipts of Wednesday and Thursday night to the Relief Commission. The Commission asked all moving picture theatres throughout the State to donate their receipts for one night.

The management of the Pickwick offered receipts for Wednesday night. The snow on Wednesday night kept many from attending and so the management generously gave the receipts of the following night also. A total of $121.00 for both nights was forwarded to the Relief Commission.

ODUM ISSUES NEW WELFARE BULLETIN

Community and Government is the title of a recent bulletin prepared by Dean Howard W. Odum, Director of the School of Public Welfare, in which are discussed and outlined for study the newer ideals of citizenship. The manual is in no sense a technical study of civil government but a programme of suggestive study and action based upon the interpretation of present-day social problems and leading toward the realization of an ideal democracy in which each citizen serves his community, state and nation.

The University of North Carolina The Graduate School

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR LIFE

Specialization becomes more necessary as each year competition increases. Men who are trained take the better positions and stand at the head of their professions.

A Graduate Course will help you coordinate and summarize the knowledge you already have. And graduate study will furnish a practical basis for work in almost every field open to ambitious young men and women. For instance, for the student who plans to be a lawyer, a year's preparatory work is offered by the combination of courses in History and Government, Sociology, and Economics.

The Graduate School offers a wide variety of courses, in many combinations, to suit the needs of its students.
